Blues With Violet Tones in Spring Color Card

Fashion is such a forward mix in New York. It was Christmas Eve that we were given a peep at the spring color card.

With all the glitter and glory of a world pageant the colors for 1933 make their debut! The classic hues of ancient Rome and color schemes of old Spain vie with sumptuous chromatic tones of the Italian renaissance—all of these have formed a background for inspiration, with the result that Dame Fashion is to have for her future use colors of tantalizing variety.

The "violet" colorings are the brilliant fuchsias, rich in violets and deep purples blended in perfect harmony. Persian rose, rubellite, wood violet, dahlia and belladonna are among these enticing shades.

For evening wear is offered a collection of twelve bewitching colors that suggest enchanted gardens. There's the soft pink of the lotus, the violet rose of spring beauty, the cloud blue of lupine and lilac-tinted vernal. There's fairy green and bambino blue, the flesh-tinted pink of cherub and rosemary—that's for remembrance.

Ragged sailor, cornflower and periwinkle are beautiful blues with violet undertones, old Dutch tiles and Maljolia blues share honors with virile light blues called forget-me-not and lucky stone, a tulleman for good fortune.

Pimlico violet, Saratoga yellow, Newport blue, Hollywood red and Meadowbrook green are the smart new sport colors introduced in the this-winter group. These with husky and peasant blues, adobe and Alamo browns, cement greys and clay shades offer an excellent selection for the woolsen industry.

Speaking of brown—three other new shades are taffy, maple sugar and fudge. That brown is still to be one of fashion's favorites is stressed by the predominance of this color in the shoe leather and hosiery group. Here are shown a variety of novel shades from light beige of deepest brown, among which are lark, bobolink, meadowlark and Rembrandt. The gold pheasant shade is prominent. Castor and dulcet greys are also shown which are old friends, beige and grey, in subdued tones.

HAD A GOOD TIME

At Meeting of the Young Woman's Missionary Society.
St. Andrew's Young Woman's Missionary Association held their annual social evening on Monday, at which Mrs. John Wright presided. The entertainment consisted of a musical programme and games and also took the form of a birthday party, the society being three years old. The membership fees for the year were dropped into the top of a beautifully decorated pink and white cake. The membership has been quadrupled during the year, and the receipts were $250. Refreshments were served and the pleasant evening brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem. The officers for 1933 are: President, Mrs. W. H. Fenwarden, Miss M. Gavine, secretary, Miss E. Cannon; treasurer, Miss E. Davis; home helpers, Miss Jean Duff, Miss G. Harold; press secretary, Miss Evelyn Gilbert; convener of social committee, Miss S. Hamilton and Miss M. Hopkirk; musical convener, Miss Ardelle Elder, Miss Pringle; work, Miss Bews and Miss M. Gavine.

What the Editor Hears

That the snowshoers have taken advantage of the first real snow for two years and some enthusiasts are talking of forming a club.

That the demand for lower heels in the spring footwear is noticeable; the baby Louis is a favorite heel for evening wear.

That another reason for the high cost of living is that "49c" looks so much cheaper than a quarter.

That invitations to act as Princess Mary's bridesmaids have already been sent to Her Royal Highness's cousins, Princess Maud and Lady May Cambridge, also to Lady Rachel Cavendish, and Lady Mary Fox-Strangways, who is a daughter of the Earl and Countess of Ilchester. One of the number, it is reported, will be Lady Betty Butler, a sister of the Duchess of Sutherland. Lady Betty, who is a daughter of the Earl of Lanesborough, at one time military secretary to Earl Grey when the latter was Governor-General of Canada, was a small girl when her parents were in Ottawa.

That Kingston people will have the opportunity of hearing some delightful music this winter.

Hoarseness can be relieved by mixing one teaspoonful of glycerin to the well-beaten white of an egg, the juice of one lemon and enough sugar to make it palatable.

DEAR THINGS WASTE TEN YEARS ON DRESS

Ten years of a woman's life is spent in putting on and taking off her clothes, according to the Dean of St. Paul's. Man, according to Dean Inge, wastes but two years bothering about his raiment. "All in all," Inge declared in an address before the Savage Club, "clothes are the cause of an unredemable waste."

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 18.

According to the science of stellar influences, this should be a fairly active and successful day in all mercantile and professional pursuits. The trine aspect of Luna to Mercury should prove a stimulus to all literary endeavors, and assist advertising and publicity toward the desired ends. The chief handicap, as written in the stars, may prove to be the physical condition, which may be found low and depressed, owing to the conjunction of Moon and Saturn. The health should be the first consideration lest it be a thwarting factor in the day's achievements.

Those whose birthday it is should have a very active and satisfactory year. If they will but give sufficient attention to their health and that of their families, lest it prove an obstacle. A child born on this day will be talented, versatile and industrious, but should be early trained in endurance and fortitude, as it may have obstacles to overcome.

'Ophias' Guild Eucure.

Another very successful eucure was held in the recreation hall of the House of Providence on Monday evening. There were thirty-three tables in play. The president received, assisted by Mrs. J. McVillie, Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mrs. H. C. Sharp, Mrs. R. Edgar Thompson, Miss L. Kehoe and Miss M. Shanahan. The dainty refreshments served at the conclusion of the games were in charge of Mrs. J. Kehoe, Mrs. W. Maiden, Mrs. F. Mill, Mrs. T. J. Murphy and Miss I. Shaw. The ladies' prize was won by Mrs. T. V. Doyle, the gentleman's prize going to D. Pelow.

Shredded Wheat

With HOT Milk

You have eaten Shredded Wheat in all sorts of ways, but you don't know how much goodness there is in this wonderful whole wheat food until you eat it with Hot Milk.

Heat the Shredded Wheat Biscuits in the oven to restore their crispness; pour hot milk over them, add a little cream and salt or sweeten to suit the taste. Better than ordinary porridges. Ready-cooked and ready-to-eat. Saves fuel, saves time.

"It's All in the Shreds"

TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat cracker—a real whole wheat toast—and is eaten with butter or soft cheese.

Sweet Milk Waffles.
Two cups flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 2 eggs.
Mix and sift ingredients. Add yolks of eggs well beaten. Mix thoroughly and add melted butter. Mix and add milk. Beat well. Fold in the whites of eggs beaten stiff and dry. Bake as in preceding recipe.
Some old waffle recipes use as many as seven or eight eggs. This is out of the question these days, and quite unnecessary to make good waffles.
The real secret of tender, crisp waffles lies in the baking. The iron should be well heated on both sides and well greased before filling. A round iron fits over the flame of a gas range better than a square one. One or two tablespoons of sugar added to a waffle recipe adds in browning the waffles.

Meat Loaf.
One pound lean meat, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, 1 cup bread and cracker crumbs mixed, 1 slice salt pork, 1-4 inch thick, 1-2 teaspoon pepper.
Put beef and pork through a chopper. Add crumbs. Beat slightly with milk, and mix thoroughly with first mixture. Season with pepper. A very little salt is needed, but the salt in the pork of the loaf keeps it moist. Pack deep pan, cover with buttered paper and bake an hour.
