Among the many attractions at the "Fair of all Good Neighbors," held at Government House, Ottawa, on Saturday last, the concert vaudeville in the ballroom was one of the greatest. A special correspondent of the Toronto Telegram refers as follows to the wife of a well known Kingstonian: "But of all the pictures that will linger will be that of the 1822 Rigadone, done by Mrs. Sydney McCann and Capt. the Hon. W. G. H. Jolliffe, A.D.C. As picturesque as John Barrymore, as the poetic Peter Ibbetson was young Jolliffe in his old-time blue cloth coat and queer light trousers. Lady Markham's daughter, who, by the way, studied ballet dancing for five years, was a picture in her great-grandmother's gown of gold moire with black lace flourishes. Her tiny pointed bodice had a deep bertha and a deep crimson rose and curious blue enamel pin were just the right bit of color. The graceful Rigadone was a figure Patlowa and her court might have envied. But let no grandmother speak of the speed of the modern dance. How those wasp-like ladies who had no modesty attributes could achieve anything as strenuous as a Rigadone would like an investigating committee to enquire."

That splendidly live organization, the Girls Fellowship Club of the Y. W.C.A. gave their annual banquet in the comfortable "Y" on Tuesday evening. Thirty-one guests sat down to the prettily decorated tables, gay with red and green arranged by Mrs. Moscrip. Miss Myrtle Teeple acted as toast mistress. Songs and speeches were the order of the day and Miss Olive Drury proposed the health of the new secretary, Miss Bubing, who responded in a bright speech. Miss Myrtle Staggs proposed the president, Miss Margaret Mackenzie, who also responded. Miss Ella Porter proposed "The Club" to which the answer was given by Miss Elsie Mackenzie. The toast "The Camp," proposed by Miss Birdie Jamison, was responded to by Miss Hazel McKim. Miss Bureau sang a clever song she had composed about the camp of last summer amid peals of laughter.

"Onwanda," the beautiful old house on the shores of Lake Ontario, where the nurses of Sydenham hospital make their home, was en fête on Tuesday evening where the annual dance was given by the nursing staff. The rooms were beautifully decorated with ferns and daffodils and narcissi and the guests were received by Miss Stronach, wearing a handsome gown of black satin and lace and Miss Carscadden in a smart frock of jade green. Bridge tables were arranged in the dining room and a buffet supper was served from an attractive table in the centre. Treener's orchestra was responsible for the excellent music. Among the guests were C. J. and Mrs. T. C. D. Bedell, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Macdonald, Dr. and Mrs. F. Reid, Dr. and Mrs. R. McGregor, Miss M. Stronach and Miss MacMillan.

Wilfred Kelly in a smart fringed gown of blue-canton crepe with corsage bouquet of red roses and Mrs. A. G. Harris in ivory satin, charmesse and pink roses received the guests. Treener's orchestra played delightfully for the dancers, and a buffet supper was served at midnight. The hall was gaily decorated with royal blue and white, the K.C.I. colors and the scene was a gay and charming one indeed.

Tuesday's tea at the curling rink was an exceedingly pleasant event, several tables of bridge were in play and a game arranged for the afternoon between the men and women curlers created much interest. The tea was in charge of Miss Birch's rink. Mrs. Charles McKay pouring tea at the attractive table centred with primulae and lighted with unshaded yellow candles. Mrs. R. N. F. MacFarlane, Mrs. F. Taffeta Roses Collar This Lovely Evening Cape of American Beauty Color Velvet. Velvet continues to be the most favored fabric of the season, and in the realm of evening wear it serves for dresses and wraps alike. In this lovely wrap of American Beauty velvet, simplicity is the controlling style element, just as it is in the dresses for evening. The straight, simple lines of the cape are offset by the taffeta roses in American Beauty shade which form its collar. This combination of contrasting fabrics of the same color is much employed this season and is very smart. An effective matching note is seen in the bandeau of taffeta. American Beauty roses encircling the bow of its wearer.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY.

For women who are averse to making pin money, it doesn't matter whether they need it or not. There is special pleasure in spending money one has made through one's own initiative and resources. Each day there will appear on this page one of a series of suggestions on making money. Each article will give women readers of The Whig an idea that may be turned into a money-maker.

No. 71—Massage. Doctors say that there is bound to be a steadily increasing demand for women who can give good massage treatment, for very day the common people are becoming more alive to its importance as a curative measure. In any sanitarium or hospital of importance it forms a part of the treatment and very often a physician outside of these institutions sends a patient to them because he can get satisfactory massage treatment. Massage consists of rubbing, patting and pinching the body but it must be done in such a way as to strengthen and nourish the muscles, fibres and nerves to accelerate circulation. It cannot be done satisfactorily by one who has no knowledge of hygiene and anatomy. It should not be undertaken by any woman who is not strong, healthy and of a cheerful nature. A woman who has a great deal of indefinable force called magnetism will be likely to have most patients because she will always send them away feeling better than anyone else can make them feel.

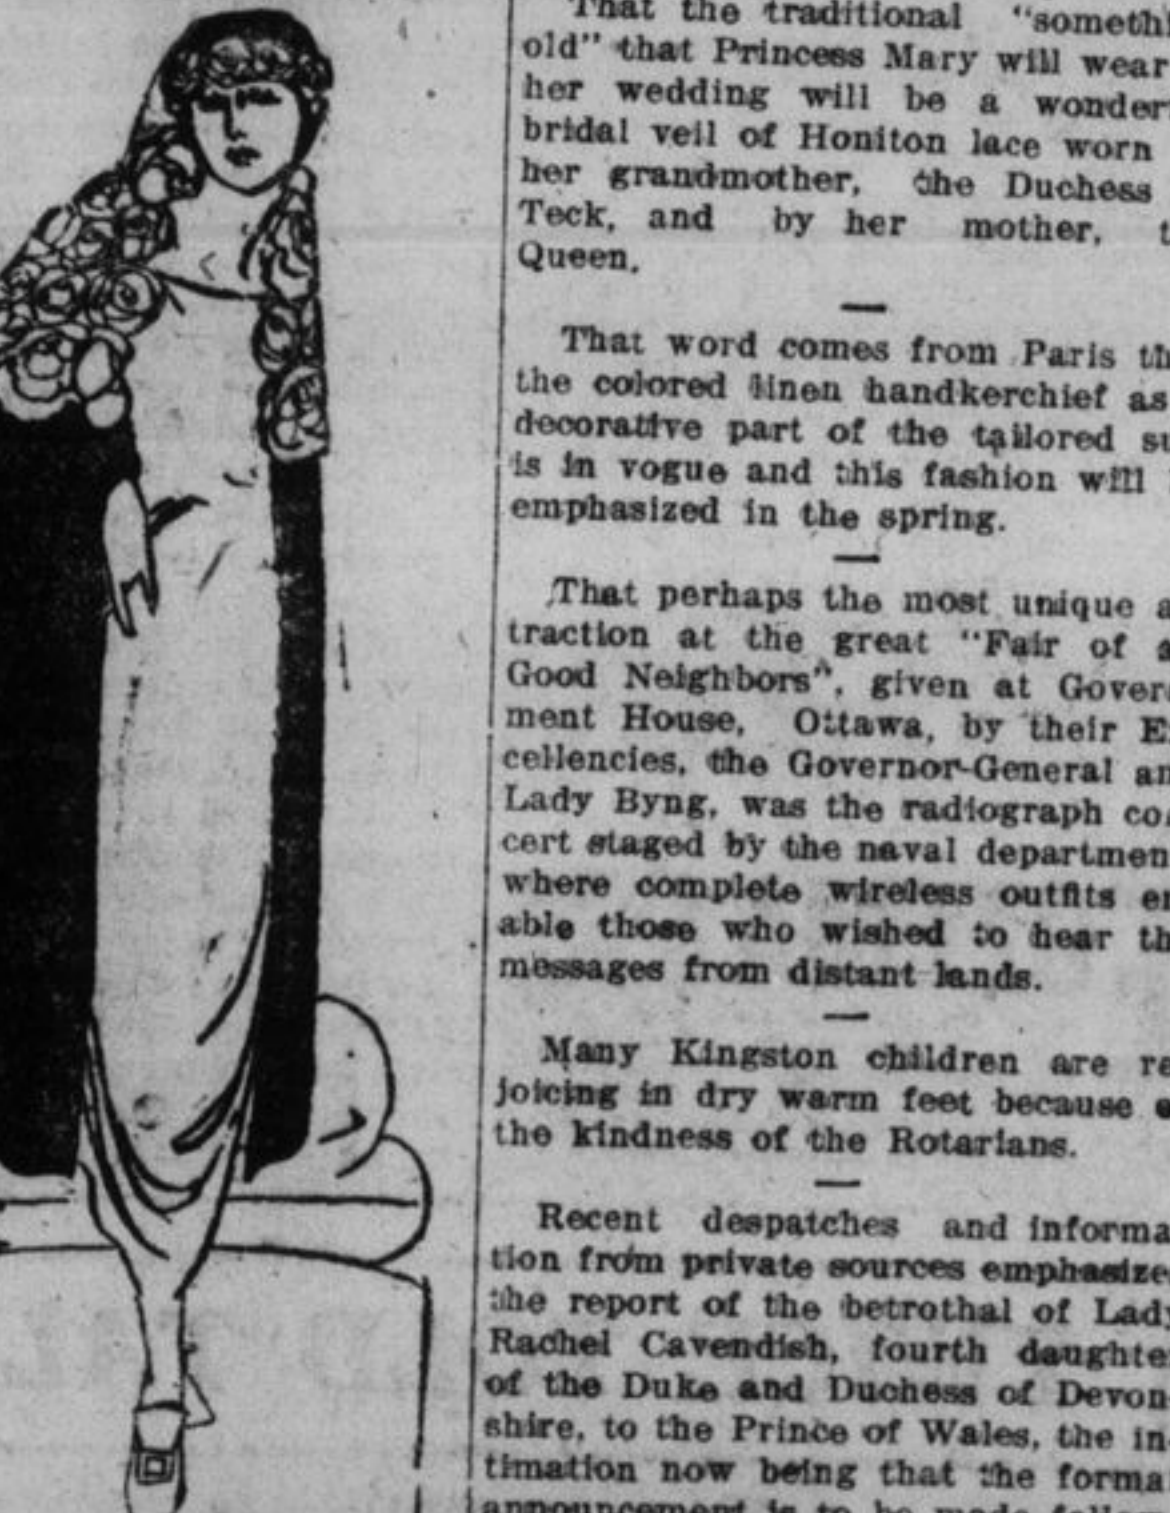

Some years ago a certain woman was told that she had a great deal of mesmeric power and would make a fine magnetic healer. "I'll do it," she replied promptly, and decisively although the idea had never before occurred to her. "I'll be a magnetic healer, but I'll not be a fraud." She went to a woman who gave massage treatments and learned what she could there; then she went to a school of osteopathy, where she also took a course. To-day she has handsome private parlors and more patients than she can possibly treat.

Physicians are always glad to hear of a woman who knows how to give good massage treatments, and when you have learned your trade you must, as soon as possible, try for work begins to come in.

It usually costs one nothing but one's time to learn at sanitariums or hospitals how to give massage treatment. Before undertaking it one should have enough means to buy necessary clothing and to pay expenses for the five or six months that usually elapse before work begins to come in.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

THURSDAY, JAN. 10. The outlook for this day, basing the judgment on the sidereal operations, is quite encouraging, as it relates to purely business transactions. In social, domestic and affectional affairs, the auguries may not be read as propitious. It would be well to cherish these and protect them from annoyance. In business, all affairs are under the beneficent rule of a friendly Jupiter, under whose auspices money may be used for investment or speculation with the probability of gratifying returns. New projects may in all probability be safely launched under this direction. Those whose birthday it is have the augury of a successful and prosperous year in their business interests. They may engage in new enterprises, and hope to place their money safely in carefully considered investments. Their domestic affairs should be safeguarded from all harm. A child born on this day will be generous, good-natured and popular, but may have disappointments, especially in its domestic and affectional affairs, and may be careless unless carefully trained in early life.

Formed An Auxiliary. An auxiliary to the Kingston Humane Society has been formed with the object of augmenting the funds of that splendid organization. The officers are president, Mrs. Douglas Young; vice-president, Mrs. Norman Leale; treasurer, Miss Hora; secretary, Mrs. R. T. Brymner.

Jones—"We are coming over to see you tonight, old man." Smith—"Good, but don't let your wife wear her new costume. I don't want mine to see it just now." Jones—"Good Heavens, that's the very reason we are coming!"
