CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE ADDRESSED R.M.C. CADETS

Mrs. F. J. O'Connor, Kingston, Elected President at the Diocesan Meeting.

On "Ideals in Business"—Elmer Davis Was the Speaker.

The diocesan meeting of the Catholic Women's League opened at Notre Dame Hall on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 24th. The various parishes of this archdiocese, where this league has been organized, were represented and the gathering drew together a body of enthusiastic women ready to use all their talents for the welfare of the Church, the family and society.

When the credentials of the delegates were examined and "O Canada" was sung, Rev. Fr. Hyland opened the meeting by prayer. Mrs. F. J. O'Connor read the papal delegate's greetings and a message from His Grace Archbishop Spragg, who regretted he could not be present owing to his attending the funeral of the late Archbishop Gauthier. Greetings were also read from Miss Guerin, dominion president of the C. W. L., Rev. Father Henaley, rector of the cathedral, The Children of Mary and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Hotel Dieu. Miss I. Ronan, president of the local subdivision, gave the visitors a very hearty welcome.

The meeting was then addressed by Rev. Fr. Hyland, diocesan director who briefly outlined the work to be accomplished during the sessions. The report of the diocesan organizer, Mrs. F. J. O'Connor, and those from the different subdivisions were submitted, all of which showed the great work already being done by the league in this diocese. After the formation of the committees the meeting adjourned.

The dinner given at the Hotel Frontenac in honor of the visitors was part of the social programme, and much credit is due to Mr. Hughes for the able manner in which the large numbers present were enabled to enjoy the service. During the dinner a musical programme by Miss F. Devlin, Miss M. Tierney, Miss O. Simpson, Miss H. Corrigan and Mrs. Jerome was much appreciated. At the evening session Rev. Dr. Kingsley gave a very eloquent lecture on Education, appealing in his own personal manner to the Catholic women to rise all their efforts to promote the interests of children and to see that neither indifference nor selfishness, on the part of parents interfered with their great opportunity for higher education. Another intellectual treat given the same evening was an address by Miss M. Jones, dominion secretary of C.W.L., who spoke on "Success in the Activities of the League," which is secured by work loyalty and common sense.

During the evening, Mrs. Sheets, of Wolfe Island, gave a vocal solo which was much enjoyed. Miss F. Devlin accompanying her.

At Wednesday morning's session the reports of the different committees were received and brought forth lively discussion before being adopted. The election of officers of the Diocesan Sub-division resulted as follows: President, Mrs. F. J. O'Connor, Kingston; 1st vice-president, Mrs. McHenry, Brockville; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Whalen, Westport; 3rd vice-president, Miss M. Leamy, Napanee; secretary-treasurer, Miss I. Ronan, Kingston; councillors, Mrs. Burke, Portsmouth; Mrs. D. J. Barry, Madoc; Mrs. C. McWilliams, Marston; Mrs. Rose Grondin, Smith's Falls; Mrs. J. Daly, Belleville; Mrs. H. Masterson, Chasterville; Mrs. O'Malley, Frankford.

The scope of the bureau of information and activity was submitted and adopted. The executive of the bureau was also elected.

An invitation was received from Belleville for the next diocesan meeting. At noon on Wednesday this first representative meeting of the Catholic women of the old and historic archdiocese of Kingston came to a close. Success is sure to crown the efforts of such cheerful, ambitious workers leading their co-operation and influence to the might and power of Canadian womanhood in shaping and solidifying the policy of the Catholic Women's League in the noble object "For God and Canada."

Elmer Davis was the speaker at the Royal Military College on Wednesday afternoon, in the series of business lectures inaugurated by Major-General Macdonell, the subject being "Ideals in Business." In introducing the speaker to the cadets, General Macdonell stated that he was one of the prominent business men of Kingston, and was also descended from United Empire Loyalist stock, and, therefore, he was imbued with a real brand of Canadianism.

Mr. Davis, in opening his address, stated that it would be impossible in the time at his disposal to thoroughly cover the subject, but that he hoped to place four or five ideals before the cadets for their consideration. He pointed out that the first ideal in business was honesty, and this was followed by efficiency, progress, service and profit. He outlined in each case the principles to be followed, and the high standards which must guide those who wish to succeed in the commercial world of today.

He concluded his lecture with an urgent appeal to the cadets to have confidence in the future of Canada and to render service to the community by every means in their power.

The speaker at the next lecture at the next lecture will be Principal R. Bruce Taylor, Queen's University.

A WONDERFUL RECORD.

Annual Report of Bank of Nova Scotia Just Out.

The annual statement of the Bank of Nova Scotia, which is published to-day, shows that this old established bank has come through the liquidation period of the past year with undiminished strength. The profits for the year amounted to $2,111,733, which is a reduction of $215,689 from the previous year, due primarily to the lessened business activity of 1921. There was carried forward $382,595 from 1920, which made a total of $3,094,328 available. From this $1,652,000 was paid out in dividends $97,000 in circulation tax, $80,000 contributed to the officers' pension fund, $300,000 set aside to write down the value of the bank premises and $1,000,000 transferred to the reserve fund, leaving a balance of $65,328 to carry forward to next year.

The transfer of $1,000,000 to the reserve fund brings this already substantial account up to $19,000,000, which is almost twice the bank's capital of $9,700,000.

As is to be expected in a period of deflation of general business such as the country has just experienced, the balance sheet shows considerable fluctuations in the amounts under the various headings as compared with the previous year. Notes in circulation are reduced $5,152,000 and total deposits have declined $8,206,000, which is about equally divided between the interest bearing and the free deposits. Cash held, represented by current coin and dominion notes amounted to $32,462,741, or in percentages 16.52 per cent. of the liabilities to the public. This is a slightly better showing than at the end of 1920 when the percentage was 16.17 per cent. Readily available assets amount to a total of $131,795,872, which is 67.52 per cent. of the bank's public liabilities.
