VARSITY FOUND M'GILL AS EASY AS QUEEN'S

Took Second Senior Intercollegiate Game on Saturday With 7-3 Score.

Toronto, Jan. 28.—Varsity took the second game in the senior intercollegiate race from McGill here this afternoon by a score of 7 to 3. The winners did not exert themselves and the game was rather more featured by close checking and tripping than anything else.

The star playing of the event was done by little "Joey" Sullivan in goal for Varsity. Had it not been for his watchfulness the Montreal knowledge-chasers would have played a rag-time tune on the back of the U. of T. net, for their shots were fast and dead-on. "Cy" Flanagan and "Boo" Anderson played a good game but Flanagan's usefulness was marred by a bad shoulder which received a nasty crack early in the game when Brown sent him over the hurdles. Brown became a spectator for the stunt and Flanagan went into drydock.

The scoring was even in the first and last periods but Varsity scored four to McGill's blank in the second frame. Flanagan secured the first score on a soft attempt and the play tipped up a little after the spectators had loudly demanded more speed. The first period ended 1-1, the second 5-1 for Varsity, and the third 7-3.

The teams: McGill—Goal, Stinson; defence, McGerrigle and Dempsey; centre, Anderson; wings, Dineen and Flanagan; spares, Kent, Lynch and Timmins (goal). Varsity—Goal, Sullivan; defence, Brown and Ramsay; centre, Hudson; wings, Wright and Westman; subs, Flaxton and Beatty.

REGIOPOLIS AVENUES FIRST GAME LOSS

Put It Over K.C.I. 4 to 3 in Junior Intercollegiate Series Saturday.

At the Harty arena, Saturday evening, Regiopolis evened up for the defeat K.C.I. handed out to them two weeks ago, when they won from the college boys by a score of 4-3 in a game that was equally as close and exciting as the previous encounter of these old-time rivals. The contest was keen and was evidenced in the close marking, which led to a number of penalties being handed out. There was little to choose between the teams in the first period, when at the end of the first, the K.C.I. led by only one goal scored and in the second stanza the Regiopolis made the score a tie, 2-2. In the last period the "Regi" came back strong and walked through the Blue and White by two counters, securing a lead which the K.C.I. lads were not able to reduce more than one.

The first twenty minutes gave K.C.I. the slight edge, Leggett scoring when he received a pass from behind the net and slugged the puck past McCarthy. Regiopolis tried in vain to score finding that apparently Arkley had the famous French motto "they shall not pass" as his watchword. The Garnet and Gold started off with a rush in the second phase and by hard work checked up two. LaRush and Grace offloading before the Collegiate could catch their breath but at that point they stopped and were in the lead until the latter part of the period when McPherson hatted in the tying score from a scramble in front of the net. With the score tied the excitement ran high in the third stanza and led to several "mix-ups" from which all were successfully extricated and several were given a chance to cool off in the penalty box. Grace and Lawless scored the goals for the winners in this period and from then on the "Regi" played a defensive game but at that were unable to prevent "Gib" McKelvey's stick handling through for K.C.I.'s third point. Arkley had a busy session.

For Regiopolis Grace, Goodfriend and Lawless were good, while for the losers Arkley without a doubt saved his team. He was a regular wizard in the net, at times coming out to defence to prevent a score and stopped what looked like shots with through ticket in some inexplicable manner. McKelvey and McPherson also showed up well. The teams were: Regiopolis. Goal, K.C.I. McCarthy Defence, Arkley Goodfriend McKelvey Boyce Wings, Cunningham Thompson Lawless Centre, McPherson LaRush Spares, Lyons Grimason Laturney Grace Referee—R. Crawford.

IOE-TICKLES.

Both fans and fannies turned out in force for the Glenburnie-Joyceville game at the arena on Saturday afternoon.

Rev. A. L. Blacklock can well be classed as Frontenacs' sporting parson. "Roy" has been on the job in hockey for a long time and with good success.

If the O.H.A. games draw as much enthusiasm per capita as the county league matches the management of the Jock Harty Arena would have few financial worries outside of counting the money.

Tonight junior Frontenacs will make a great effort to shake Queen's off the top of the group ladder.

With two men penalized, Varsity showed up better against McGill than when their penalties had returned to the ice. And then some people are still foolish enough to bet heavily on sporting events.

Rumor has it that a lot of money was lost on the Queen's-Frontenacs intermediate game Friday night.

Regiopolis and K.C.I. once more start their old-time see-saw of wins and losses. Through thick and thin, good years and bad years, these two always give each other great scrapes.

In a year or so young "Gib" McKelvey will be crowding his sedate brother "Red" off the throne of all-round athletics.

Should some of the K.C.I. and Regiopolis boys graduate this spring Queen's will pick up some valuable junior material.

Queen's II. and Cadets tomorrow evening and a lively game between two teams in perfect condition.

See what a difference it made in Queen's intermediates when they stopped that "modern" style of hockey and got down to brass tacks and hard work.

Had it not been for "Benny" Morris the score would have been much higher in the Queen's-Frontenacs intermediate game. "Jack" McKelvey looked like some artist's conception of a terrible battle after his mix-up with F. Browne. The red in his uniform, the red hair, the ruddy complexion and the further embellishment of all with gore, presented a rather terrifying sight.

Burlington at Hamilton-A.C.

They will bet. In spite of the shortage of money and the prevalent hard times the betting on hockey games seems to go on at the same merry old gait as ever. The Frontenacs-Queen's intermediate game has cured several would-be "get-rich-quick-Walkington" for some time to come (for at least a week anyway) and the county games on Saturday are reported to have done the same. The local scribes, although they are supposed to have "cold dops" on most of the events, fall as hard as the rest. One is reported to have lost his whole week's salary lately, while another raked in two or three dollars from a county fan on a wild chance. But they will keep on betting.

Prices Reduced

In order to stimulate attendance and to create a greater interest in the junior hockey, Queen's athletic board of Control has decided to reduce the prices on all Junior hockey matches played at the Jock Harty Arena for the rest of this year. The former prices were seventy-five cents and fifty cents for reserved seats and thirty-five cents for rush seats, war tax extra. These have been reduced to two prices, forty cents for reserved seats and twenty-five cents for rush seats, war tax extra as before. This should certainly increase the crowds attending as the reduction is a considerable one. The best seats in the rink, for some of the fastest hockey in the province, may be obtained for forty cents, a price that cannot be equalled anywhere else. For a humble quarter the fans may go to the joyous "rush end" and yell themselves hoarse for their favorites. The reduction is all the more remarkable when one considers that it is made in one of the finest rinks in Canada, while other small and poorly lighted rinks get as high as $1.50 a seat for games.

To-night

This evening at 8.15 Frontenacs and Queen's clash again in the junior O.H.A. series. Queen's as yet have been undefeated in either league and will take the ice tonight with the determination to add another to their string of victories. Frontenacs fresh from their victory over Cornwall are determined that the long run of the tri-color will be broken at last. It is not yet known whether Bouche will be on Queen's line-up, and Frontenacs fans are hoping that the management will keep him out of the game as it will greatly increase the chances of their team. McKay, in goal for the city team, put up a wonderful exhibition in Cornwall and redeemed himself fully for somewhat indifferent playing in the first of the year. If he continues to hold at the standard of the Cornwall game the forwards on the opposing line will find him no easy proposition to beat. It will be a good game and the reduced prices should attract a large crowd.

To-morrow Night

The first intermediate intercollegiate game will be played at the Jock Harty Arena tomorrow evening between R.M.C. seniors and Queen's seconds, with Queen's the "home team. Just what it will develop is hard to say, as the cadets, not having played any games locally as yet, are in the nature of an unknown quantity as a team. As individuals, their abilities are well-known, and they can be depended upon to play good hockey. Queen's can use their intermediate O.H.A. team in the intermediate, and the crowd that went up against Frontenacs on Friday last will be a hard one to beat. The title-holders are out after the trophy once more and the cadets are just as determined to figure in the win-up.

Theatrical

Matinee, "Boog McNutt." Rubie Goldberg's irresistible cartoon, "Boog McNutt," will be seen in real life at the Grand Opera House, Tuesday, Jan. 31st, matinee and night. "Boog" has been such a sensational success on the comic pages of the daily newspapers that Mr. Goldberg was advised to transplant this famous character from the comic sheet of the newspaper to the stage. He has surrounded "Boog" with a splendid cast of comedians, singers and dancers, supplemented by a winsome chorus of young misses who are described by the management as "The Perfect 36 girls." The totally entertaining book and lyrics are by Charles Mulgrave, remembered for his many successes, and the music is by Charles Smith, who is well known in musical comedy circles. Pretty girls, catchy melodies, stunning costumes, novel surprises and smart ensembles are among the many features of the performance.—Advrt.

"The Great Broxopp." An English author will have his work with an all English cast, on view at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday evening, Feb. 1st. The prospective author is A. A. Milne and "The Great Broxopp" is the Milne play in the foreground. It had its New York hearing at the Punch and Judy and comes here from that playhouse. Following so closely upon the heels of Mr. Plan which was produced at Henry Miller's Theatre New York, much space was given by the reviewers in comparing the two Milne vehicles, and though opinion may have differed as to the relative merits of the two comedies, most were agreed that a Milne admirer of the one would find something to enjoy in the other. Iden Payne, erstwhile director of the Frohman plays, is the leading figure in this piece. It was Mr. Payne who assembled the cast for it, and put it on at the Punch and Judy Theatre. He brings it forward with Miss Pamela Gaythorne, an English actress in the leading female role supported by Betty Lintley, Alfred Shirley, George Graham, John M. Troughton and others, who have appeared in it from 8 premiers. "The Great Broxopp" is written in a jocular spirit with the Milne whimsicality and has considerable to do with an English character, who socially is of the middle rank, his little ruminations of life and mid pleasures. Though faintly censorious of the Englishman's abhorrence of trade, this idea is never obtrusive however; its richest moments seem to come with the suggestion of the petty annoyances which are the great Broxopp's when he retires from active work.—Advrt.

Allen To-day. The great north-west woods are really the central influence in the latest Goldwyn picture, "The Man From Lost River," the feature attraction at the Allen Theatre to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday. The action of Katharine Newlin Burt's photoplay takes place in a lumber camp where the men lead crude lives close to nature. The softening influence of women is absent, though in the camp dwells an urban girl in the pride of the met. Into this group comes a sophisticated easterner, who falls in love with the girl and marries her. The dramatic conflict entwines the camp foreman, who has
