HOLSTEIN BREEDERS' CLUB

Holds a Dinner Wednesday Evening—Several Valuable Addresses Given.

The Kingston District Holstein Breeders' Club held its annual banquet in the British American hotel on Wednesday evening and the occasion was marked by splendid addresses given by Prof. E. S. Archibald, director of experimental farms, Ottawa, Prof. Wade Toole, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, W. S. Reed, M.P., A. W. Sirett, B.S.A., district representative, and Mayor S. S. Corbett.

The banquet was attended by seventy of the progressive live-stock breeders of Frontenac county, and several of their wives, and there was keen appreciation of the addresses which contained much information of vital importance to the live stock and dairy industry that has become a prominent feature of agriculture in the Kingston district and made it, within the past twenty years, one of the best in respect to quality production, in Canada.

George F. Murton, president, occupied the chair and after extending a hearty welcome to the gathering, introduced Mayor Corbett who welcomed them on behalf of the city, in a very appropriate and pleasing address.

W. S. Reed, M.P., spoke on "Individual herd tests" and showed that in 1912 when he began to take individual tests there was a variation from 2.5 to 4.7. Since then they have raised the standard of the stock until the average is 4.4, the variation having disappeared. Prof. Archibald held the "Building up of the Holstein herd," and showed the vast importance of carrying out systematic grading by the use of pure bred stock, the results of which were shown in increased production and consequent decrease in the cost. It was only by doing this that Canada could hold her place in the British markets for butter and cheese against the competition of Denmark, New Zealand and Australia. The British market is a guaranteed market for Canadian dairy products for these Canadian cheese commands the top price. He pointed out that there was a drop in Canadian production from 200,000,000 pounds to 133,000,000 pounds last year. This should not be the case. There is now a competition for the British market that did not exist ten years ago and it was necessary for Canadian producers to maintain quality and increase production in order to hold her in this commodity. In 1915 New Zealand exported only 70,000,000 pounds but last year exceeded Canada by 20,000,000 pounds while Australia exported 30,000,000. Two years ago Canada was the greatest exporter of powdered milk, but last year New Zealand exported 5,000 tons. New Zealand butter is now on the Canadian market.

Denmark exported 200,000,000 pounds of cheese in 1914, in 1917, 5,000,000 pounds of butter and in 1921, 110,000,000. This increase was attained by raising production from 5,000 lbs. per cow to 8,000 lbs. per cow as against the Canadian average of 3,500 pounds in the summer months. This is the real reason why we are behind. We must retain our place as we have the foundation in the cows for our work. Only by increasing production can we lower the cost and thus meet foreign competition. This was to be accomplished by proper feeding, and by breeding with good sires raise the production of the cows. Prof. Archibald gave the results of experiments carried on over a number of years by which the average yield of 3,500 pound heifers was brought up to 7,000 pounds. He showed that it was necessary to attend carefully to the feeding during the lactation period from the age of 3 to 5 years, and if this was faithfully carried out it was possible almost to double production. The 3,600 pound cow is kept at a loss, while the 7,000 pound cows pay for their feed and give a substantial profit. He declared that fifty per cent. of the pure bred Holstein sires are not good enough to breed, and the poorer the herd the better the sire needed. He must be backed up with official records or else you are gambling with work and bank account of your sons. It is up to each one to solve his individual problems.

Prof. Wade Toole, dealt with "The feeding and management of the Holstein herd," and emphasized what Prof. Archibald had said. He counselled all to read the Dominion government reports. "The live stock industry is the basis of successful agriculture and we must have the best it is in our power to obtain by weeding out the scrub and low producers," declared the speaker. Prof. Toole said that in times of depression hard useful work was the cure and all have got to get down and do their share of the work. It was not the time to sell out and get from under but the time to study the herd and breed to higher grades, and the farmer was able to make better use of the time than many others, for he is increasing the production of the soil and the wealth of the nation. He concluded with an earnest appeal to the young particularly to solve the problems that had perplexed their fathers.

A. W. Sirett spoke on the application of the "Dairy Standards Act" and showed that it would be beneficial to the Holstein men. The patrons of factories were assessed fifty cents per year for making the tests and government inspectors were employed to see that it was being properly carried out and all had recourse to them at all times. Mr. Sirett urged the Holstein men to back up the enforcement of the act, which was made law by Hon. Mr. Doherty, minister of Agriculture for the benefit of the dairy industry. He also strongly advised the dairymen to lay up a store of ice with which to cool their milk, for cooled milk produced more pounds of cheese than milk delivered at the factory at a temperature over sixty degrees.

During the evening the Franklin orchestra played several very fine selections and Miss Murton, soprano, sang, accompanied by Miss Bajus.

WILL PETITION THE ONTARIO GOVERNMENT To Allow Napanee People to Catch Fish at Falls as Usual.

Napanee Express. Last spring it will be remembered a considerable number of the citizens of Napanee were haled into court and fined for fishing at the Napanee falls without a license. This court was composed of two fish inspectors, Messrs. Coffey and Carson, who, after imposing a fine on some thirty of our townspeople, made the statement that licenses would be granted to any making application for them. For a domestic license the fee would be $2, and for a license which would permit the sale of the fish caught, the fee would be $5.

Several made applications, and after considerable time they were given a license, but said license did not permit them to catch the only kind of fish which is worth while catching, namely the pickerel. The facts of the case are simply these. For a period of about ten days or two weeks in the early spring pike, pickerel, and suckers come up the Napanee river to the falls. Few, if any, pike are taken from the river, but a considerable number of our citizens frequent the rapids, and with scoop nets manage to secure a few fish for their own use, while others make it a business proposition and catch the pickerel and sell them to the people of Napanee. And it might be said right here that the people of Napanee would never enjoy a good feed of this wholesome fish if these men were prohibited from catching them as all pickerel otherwise caught are shipped to the United States or outside markets. The people of Napanee have enjoyed the privilege of fishing at the falls for the past sixty or seventy years, and have never been molested, and it certainly does look as if the prohibiting of this practice is decidedly unjust. A petition has been circulated, and signed by some four or five hundred of Napanee citizens, and in a few days will be forwarded to the minister of marine and fisheries praying that licenses be granted allowing the catching of fish at the falls as heretofore.

VISAS UNNECESSARY. France and Canada Reach Reciprocal Arrangement. Ottawa, Feb. 9.—A reciprocal arrangement between France and Britain whereby citizens of either country are relieved of the necessity of securing visas by officials of the other country on their passports for travelling purposes, is being extended to include Canada. Under the regulations now in effect French citizens coming to Canada must have their passports viced by British diplomatic or consular officials. France had been notified, however, that Canada will take the necessary steps to remove this necessity on notification that the French government is doing the same.

An Ontario Opinion. Montreal Gazette. Mr. Nickle again enters the legislature to which he was first returned in 1908, and in which he achieved a position of distinction before entering the House of Commons in 1911. He is a Conservative of independent views who has even been suspected of a tinge of radicalism; but his sincerity and uprightness have never been challenged. Mr. Nickle will be an accession to a legislature somewhat scant of strong men, and stranger things may happen than his becoming the Ontario leader of the Conservative party.

The British government has telegraphed the provisional government of Ireland to obtain the release of prisoner taken across the border of Ulster. An explosion shakes the U. S. treasury buildings at Washington, and the employees are panic-stricken. At Trenton, Trenton defeated Belleville in a Junior O.H.A. fixture by 9 to 8. ## Prices will outweigh all other sales arguments this Spring!

We know this and so have cleared our business decks for action accordingly. Efficiency in buying and selling must be increased, so we have set about and prepared a policy of scientific purchasing and this coupled with our announcement of last evening to do business at cost—should insure for us an increased volume of business.

WE HAVE KEPT FAITH WITH THE BUYING PUBLIC

We were the first dry goods store in Ontario to break the back of inflated prices in the Summer of 1920, and have since given our customers the benefit of all breaks in the market.

THE PRICE TENDENCY FOR SPRING will be if anything upward. This will be caused by the law of supply and demand—as has been recently exemplified in the Silk and Cotton markets.

WE ARE PROTECTED

On our full quota of staple merchandise, as we had faith in the future and bought our full Spring requirements, and now with our new Spring stocks complete, we invite your early inspection and comparison; quality for quality, price for price, with all competitions.
