ON RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Special Speakers Heard in the Churches—Convention of Sunday School Workers.

On Sunday the pulpits of the Protestant churches of the city were occupied by representatives of the Religious Educational Council of Ontario. The special speakers for the occasion were Rev. Manson Doyle, Rev. T. A. Halpeny, Rev. Dr. J. C. Robertson, Rev. G. T. Webb, D.D., and Rev. R. A. Hiltz, M.A. On Monday, the annual convention of the city Sunday School workers opened in St. James' church. During the afternoon, group conferences were held, presided over by specialists in Sunday school work who were brought to the city especially for the purpose. At 6 o'clock, supper will be served, and after the supper hour, more group conferences will be held until 9 o'clock, when a mass meeting will take place. It is expected that the meetings will be very largely attended.

On Sunday evening, Rev. Manson Doyle, of Toronto, who is the representative of the Methodist church in connection with the annual convention, was the speaker in Sydenham street Methodist church. He gave a very interesting talk on the work which the religious educational council is attempting to do. Although this work has only been under way for five and one-half years, it has gradually grown until it is now over the entire North American continent. One of the great benefits which has been revived since all the Sunday work has been placed under one department, is that it avoids overlapping, which has been taking place for years, when the different churches all had their own Sunday school departments. He told of a certain section in the province of Saskatchewan where unless the Sunday schools accomplished the work the people would go without religion of any kind. He said that the need was for volunteers who would go out in the districts where there were no Sunday schools, and organize them.

Rev. T. A. Halpeny, Toronto, was the special speaker at Cooke's church on Sunday morning. His subject was "The Proper Foundation For Life." He showed that the more important and valuable the structure, the more attention was demanded in erecting the foundation. The Sunday school teaching and the home training during the tender years of life represent laying the foundation, although this work is not conspicuous. Nevertheless, it is of supreme importance. The speaker made an earnest appeal to parents to exercise great care regarding the materials that entered into the foundation of the lives of their children. Boys and girls should have Jesus Christ for their hero and become connected with the churches.

Rev. Dr. Robertson, Toronto, was the special preacher at Chalmers' church on Sunday morning, and at Zion church in the evening. His subject was the religious training received in the church, the Sunday school and the home. Taking for his text "Feed my lambs, feed my sheep," an injunction of Christ, he showed the great influence that religious training was upon the generations that have gone before us. The present generation is the result of what the last generation was, and the next will be the result of what we are. As we impart by our example and teaching, so our children would be. Some of the influences at work in the life of the world today were outlined by the speaker. It is a well-known fact that children constantly took on the bad traits of their parents, whereas good traits become incorporated in children in the same way. Dr. Robertson also showed the influence of the church and Sunday school training.

Rev. R. A. Hiltz, M.A., O.C.L., general secretary of the Board of Religious Education of the Canadian church, spoke eloquently on the need of religious education for the young people of the nation, and their influence on the Canada of the future, in St. George's cathedral Sunday morning. Religious education was not only for those entering the ministry or the deaconess orders of the church, but for all the children and young people that they might be able to give a definite reason for their belief in God and that their faith should be with knowledge. He appealed for candidates for the ministry, saying that the matter was not brought before the young men with any urgency, and that St. Paul's appeal to Timothy as an example for the Christians of to-day.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Heard in Lecture at Pittsburgh, Pa., Over the Wireless.

Queen's University's famous show, "The College Frolic of 1922," is to be broadcasted by radio telephone this evening at 8.15. A two-wire aerial was put up, from the tower of the Kingston Auto Sales, Brock street, to the roof of the Grand Opera House (see type). Kingston amateurs will thus be able to receive the show as it is put on the stage this evening.

Sunday evening, several members of the Grand Opera House staff, including Rex, were entertained by wireless music, speeches, etc., from Pittsburgh, Pa., and Newark, N.J. William Jennings Bryan was in the pulpit of the First Episcopal church at Pittsburgh, Pa., and his lecture was plainly heard by all.

A. A. Johnston, one of the best known Grand Trunk locomotive engineers running out of Belleville, died on Saturday.

Eggs sold for thirty-three cents on the market at Brockville on Saturday.

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. Emily Saunders. The death occurred in Kingston on Sunday, March 12th, at the residence of her son, William J. Jones, 785 Princess street, of Emily Cowie, widow of the late John Saunders. Deceased was born in Kingston on July 24, 1850, and spent her life time in this city. She had been failing in health for some time, but it was not until Wednesday last that the change for the worst came, which resulted in her demise. Of a loving disposition she will be greatly missed by all who knew her. Those left to mourn her loss are, one daughter, Mrs. R. F. Walker, Montreal, and two sons, William J. and Norman G. Jones, Kingston.

Late Miss Dorothy Wilson. Miss Dorothy Wilson passed away at Toronto on Sunday after an illness of one week. She was the daughter of Mrs. Wesley Pultz, 363 King street, and was aged seventeen years and four months. In religion she was a Presbyterian. Surviving are her mother, two brothers, Harold and Russell, and four sisters, Violet and Minnie, Kingston, Mrs. Sudas, Simcoe Island, and Mrs. C. Dafnar, Kingston. The remains were brought to Kingston and conveyed to John Cornwell's undertaking parlors from which place the funeral will take place on Tuesday.

Late Mrs. Mary Milne. Mrs. Mary Milne died in Boston on Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter Maloney. The remains were brought to Kingston Sunday, and were conveyed by M. P. Koyes, undertaker, to the residence of her daughter, Mrs. John Naylor, 155 Raglan road. Besides the two daughters, the late Mrs. Milne is survived by one son, Alexander, Bonnar City, Montana.

Spent Week-End Here. Rev. Father Jan, O.M.L., Saskatoon, Sask., spent the week-end with Very Rev. Dean McDonald, Portsmouth, on route to visit his native land in France. He officiated at mass in the Church of the Good Thief on Sunday morning, and gave a very interesting sermon on the work of the missionaries in Western Canada.

SUNDAY MORNING FIRE CAUSED SERIOUS DAMAGE

At Park View Owned by Mrs. Fenwick—Fireman Charles Brown Overcome.

Park View, on King street west, owned by Mrs. K. N. Fenwick, suffered a serious loss by fire which broke out from some unknown cause about 1 o'clock Sunday morning. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

It appears that the blaze started in the cellar, but when the firemen arrived, it was making great headway through the first floor and spreading through the walls. It gave the firemen quite a hard fight. They were on the job for a couple of hours, three lines of hose being used.

While fighting the fire, Fireman Charles Brown was overcome by smoke and gas, and had to be removed to General Hospital. He was able to go to his home on Sunday afternoon but was not fit for duty on Monday.

William Craig and H. E. Richardson rendered the firemen able assistance and the firemen wish to return their thanks to them. The firemen also wish to thank Hugh Welch who provided them with hot coffee.

It was stated on Monday morning that the damage to the contents as well as the building, would be very heavy. A beautiful hardwood floor in the ballroom was practically ruined.

Hotel Dieu House Surgeons. The appointment of R. G. Davidson, T. B. Patterson and R. A. Flynn, three fourth-year medical students of Queen's University, as house surgeons on the staff of the Hotel Dieu, was announced Monday morning. They will assume their duties about the middle of the week.

The little boy who attacked his mother at One Hill with a poker was taken to the Mimico Industrial school by Agent Ruston, of the Children's Aid Society. The lad did not seriously injure his parent, but is an incorrigible.

In various sections of Ontario trees have been tapped and the making of maple syrup has commenced.
