

Theatrical

BETTER DISTRIBUTION OF THE POPULATION Facing the British Dominions.

"The Third Degree." The evils of the present day police methods in the large cities all over the country, are strikingly exposed in the great dramatic success, "The Third Degree," which the Rex Stock Opera Company are playing at the Grand Opera House, on Thursday and Saturday of this week. A young man, worn out after five hours of the "third degree," finally confesses to a crime of which he is innocent. A magnificent fight for his life is put up by his wife, who without any financial backing, sets out to clear her husband, against the strong opposition of the boy's father who has cast off his son on account of him marrying a woman his social inferior. Zana Vaughn, as the young wife, has a most difficult part to play, blending as it does, pathos and comedy, and many strong dramatic situations. It calls for unusual acting and Miss Vaughn is sure to add another triumph to her list. Rex, as the lovable, but crusty old Judge Brewster, makes a great hit in this, the second character part he has played this season. Bill Yule plays one of the parts he likes best—that of a police inspector, and the balance of the company, the special settings, make this play one well worth while.—Adv.

London, March 15.—Speaking at the Colonial Institute last night, Col. Ameroy, parliamentary secretary to the Board of Admiralty declared that better distribution of British population in the empire was the key to most of the problems facing the British dominions. Emigration he said which had fallen off owing to the war, entered largely into the problem of abnormal unemployment in Great Britain.

WAR ON PROHIBITION. The French Minister of Agriculture Opens Wine Week. Paris, March 15.—With the dictum that the only way to beat drinking spirits was to drink wine, Henry Cheron, French minister of agriculture, yesterday afternoon opened the French wine week campaign in the solemn surroundings of the Sorbonne.

There is going to be nothing debulous and bacchanalian about this wine celebration. At yesterday's meeting the solemnity of the delegates and public was no less than it was in the conference hall in Washington, when Secretary Hughes rose to propose the limitation of naval armaments. On the chairman's table was a glass of water, but the audience, wine drinkers to a man, was a living confirmation of the truth of the chairman's contention that not only was wine the best preventive for alcoholism, but the best antidote to every human ailment and a sure postponer of old age. Roudly declaring America was mistaken about wine, because most Americans had never tasted good wine, and all those who were opposed to it had never tasted it at all, Minister Cheron proclaimed war on the prohibitionists.

The whole object of this wine week is to encourage export and help the industry through the very difficult times. "We want a crusade against prohibition," M. Cheron announced, "and during this week every good thing that can possibly be said about wine is going to be said, and everything that can be done in getting import taxes reduced and prohibition abolished is to be attempted for the good, not only of the wine industry, but of the world."

SPECIAL RATES ON HAY.

Serious Shortage of Livestock Feed in New Brunswick. Fredericton, N.B., March 15.—With hay prices having risen locally to $35 and as much as $40 per ton, said to be asked in some cases by those fortunate enough to hold stocks, the provincial department of agriculture was advised of special reduced freight rates on the Canadian National Railways from points in Ontario, which they said would make it possible to sell the imported product at from $30 to $32 per ton. The granting of the special rates is the result of conferences which were held here during the past week between the ministry and deputy minister of agriculture, members of the agricultural committee of the legislature and representatives of both the C.N.R., and the C.P.R. It was pointed out at that conference that there were certain sections of New Brunswick where a serious shortage of hay and grain feed for livestock existed, and special rates were asked on the commodities named to assist in relieving the situation. Oats have also gone up in price here, the present quotation being 75 cents per bushel.

The Advance Made By Catholicism in England

Montreal, March 15.—Surveying the advances made by Catholicism in England, Henry Sommerville of Oxford, speaking here yesterday, said that during the past year twelve thousand conversions had been recorded and that of this number one hundred had been clergymen.

At Camden East.

Camden East, March 14.—The sugar season has come again and several farmers have tapped their trees. Mrs. Lee has returned to Colebrook, after spending the past five weeks at John Skinner's. The annual election of officers for the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church was held on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Baines entertained to tea on Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Loucks, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snider and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hartman. Mrs. Joyner has moved her household effects into her home, which she has purchased from Mrs. Lucas. R. J. Oster unloaded a car of grain, etc., on Thursday. The W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. L. H. Stover on Wednesday afternoon last. Miss Maude Dickinson has returned home after a visit with relatives in Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. M. Wagar at James Henderson's recently. Lesley Skinner has moved his blacksmith shop into W. Robertson's old stand. The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Histed on Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Hartman and Mrs. John Lambert and family spent Sunday at Petworth. Jesse Card has gone to work at Forest Mills. Miss Nellie Burgoyne returned to Kitchener after visiting her brother and sister for a month.

HOOD'S PILLS. Cure Constipation. 25c. Purely vegetable. Best family cathartic.

SPORTING NEWS

Arranged-Finals Dates. The schedule committees of the S.S.A.A.A. met at the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening and arranged the dates for the final games in the basketball leagues. Princess and Queen girls will play on Friday evening, March 17th. Sydenham and St. James' Juniors on Saturday evening, March 18th, and on the following Wednesday, Sydenham and Queen Juniors are matched. The game, in the girls' league, between Sydenham and Queen will be arranged by the managers of both teams.

Y.M.C.A. Junior Hexathlon Events. The union hexathlon events open at the local Y.M.C.A. next week and a record number of entries for these competitions have been handed in to the physical director. The ribbons which go to the winners of the various trials, are on exhibit in the "Y," and are attracting a great deal of interest.

Hockey Scores. Allan cup elimination: Ottawa Montagnards 2, Sons of Ireland 1. Junior: Aura Lee 9, McGill 4.

Win Championship. Miss Gordon's class (Junior IV) Victoria school, won the school hockey championship Tuesday night at the Jock Hartly arena by defeating Miss Hiscoc's class (Senior IV), the score being 2 to 0. The line-up: Miss Gordon's class—Goal Goodman, defence Aikens and Hickey, centre Buck, wings Moore and Sherman, subs Sands, Grimsman and Jackson (goal). Miss Hiscoc's class—Goal Gibson, defence McKelvey and Abel, centre Gibson, wings Singleton and Hamilton, subs Allan and Reeves.

To Be No Revision Of the School Taxes

Toronto, March 15.—The government of Ontario has no intention of introducing legislation at the present session, looking to the revision of the corporation school taxes as requested by the separate school authorities. This was the reply given by Premier Drury today to a deputation of the Catholic educational council which made representations in this matter.

EASTERN ONTARIO CHAPTER CONVENES

Grand Master Addresses Black Knights on Progress Being Achieved.

Smith's Falls, March 15.—The 46th session of the Grand Black Chapter of Eastern Ontario of the Orange Order convened in the Orange hall here yesterday. The Grand Master, in the course of his address referred to the passing of several honored and distinguished members of the order, men such as General Sir Sam Hughes and General John E. Hughes, both of whom were men of the highest type of character and usefulness, both to the State and the order. He stated that the agitation raised by the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic church, by which a concession was proposed that would deprive the public schools of vast sums of money, was one that should command the attention of every Canadian who had any appreciation of the rights of the child to a proper and liberal education.

The Grand Secretary and Treasurer, in their reports, showed that the order is financially in a healthy and prosperous condition. After defraying all expenses, a handsome balance remains, out of which will be voted liberal contributions to various charitable organizations, including the Protestant Orphan's Home, in process of erection near Richmond Hill, and also to the Russian famine fund.

DR. PRINCE'S GHOST REPORT IS READY

Halifax, March 15.—Dr. Walter Franklin Prince announced today that his official report on the unusual occurrences in the home of Alexander MacDonald at Caledonia Mills would be released this afternoon.

Unemployment Relief Committee.

A meeting of the unemployment relief committee was held in the city hall Wednesday morning. G. O. Nickle presiding, and the work of the past few months, covering the period since January 1st was reviewed. The sum of money expended by the committee in relief amounts to $3,200. This includes cash allowances, and money spent for stoves in the form of food and fuel. Seven hundred orders were issued for coal and the total amount distributed was three hundred and fifty tons.

Likely Held at Vancouver.

Ottawa, March 15.—That General Semenov, anti-Bolshevik leader, is probably being held at Vancouver to give the American immigration authorities time to refer his case to Washington, was the opinion expressed at the department of immigration here this morning.

The government radial bill will be introduced in the legislature Thursday, Premier Drury states.

THE OLDEST PENSIONER.

Caroline C. Hardin of London Has Seen Long Service.

Recent revision of the municipal payroll and pension list at London, Ont., revealed the fact that the oldest regular recipient of a city pay cheque was a woman. She is Mrs. Caroline C. Hardin, widow of the late Wm. C. Hardin, former member of the Wyoming State Legislature. She is 91 years of age, hale and hearty and of cheerful disposition. For 38 years she was janitress of one of London's public schools, and relinquished her post five years ago at the age of 86, only because the trustees assured her that she had worked long and faithfully and had earned a rest. Since that time her regular monthly cheque for $21.66 has continued to come to her place of residence. The Board of Education, in looking over the payroll, noted that Mrs. Hardin had not been active for five years and the suggestion was made that the amount of the pension be reduced. When investigation revealed the fact that she had a record of 38 years of active service and the city cheque was all that stood between the old employe and penury the suggestion was shelved indefinitely.

"I could work a few years ago," said Mrs. Hardin, when she learned that her case had been brought up for consideration, "but I am afraid I am too old to work now. I am hale and hearty and enjoy my meals, but I guess my years of usefulness are about gone. I could do no anything else but quit work five years ago when they asked me to, but it was not because I wanted to quit. I felt when I gave up my keys that I had given up my life. Now even the old school is gone. I walked past there the other day and all there is left is the front step. The grounds I once cared for are all neglected, and I loved them so much."

Caroline Butcher was born in Bowling Green, Kentucky, in 1830, of well-to-do parents. She spent her early years in the south and in 1856 she married William J. Hardin and lived in the State of Wyoming for some time, where her husband was a member of the Legislature in 1881 and 1882. Mrs. Hardin came alone to London in 1865. Her husband could not live in Ontario on account of the climate, which affected his health. He spent most of his time in the Western States and died in Utah in 1893.

Mrs. Hardin was 53 years of age when she commenced work as Janitress of the Grand Avenue School in South London. The school was really in the township at that time, but soon afterwards it was annexed to the city of London, and Mrs. Hardin considers that practically her whole time was under the jurisdiction of the city authorities. From the very first day she lit the fires, scrubbed the floors, dusted and kept everything about the school neat and clean. As her duties increased she worked the harder, and despite the growing years, she declared she loved her work and took a keen delight in tending the school building and its inmates.

It was with regret that she handed over the keys of office to her successor after 38 years of faithful attention to her job. Well past the 90 mark, she gets about with apparent ease and is quite cheerful. She recalls many lively incidents in connection with her long residence at London. She was living on Grey street at the time of the Fenian raids, and remembers that in a neighboring house one of the regular soldiers of the London garrison was found, after a long search, hiding under a bed. His front and his trousers were concealed with his comrades. Mrs. Hardin also recalls a false alarm about the South London works, when she and her husband were in the night and saw the flames of a fire spreading all through the city that they were at the very gates.—Toronto Sunday World.

Atlantic Gaining Waters.

A curious result of a study of the Blue Ridge Mountain region in the North Carolina and Virginia is the showing that the Atlantic is slowly higher than the waters that have hither. This arises from the fact that the Blue Ridge, instead of being a crest with strong slope on each side, is an escarpment separating a mountainous upland on the southeast; and the high-level headwaters of the Mississippi are continually losing length by the retreat of the escarpment, through the retrogressive erosion of the low-level headwaters of the Atlantic-seeking streams. From a practical point of view, of course, the change is very slow.

Radium Experiments.

Experiments are being made with radium to convert gems of little worth into valuable ones, and these may, if successful, have a great effect on the gem industry. The color of the sapphires, rubies, topaz, and many other gems is due to impurities in the stones, and the rich color which decides the value of a good stone has been given to poor-colored stones by subjecting them to the influence of radium, which causes the impurities to be eliminated and spread, so imparting the richer color. Experiments are now being made with a view to testing the permanency of the increased depth of color obtained. It is said that the larger practical radium available to-day make this work a commercial possibility.

A Glass-Lined Chimney.

A French gunpowder plant blows the fumes from its gun-cotton factories through a chimney lined with glass which resists the chemical action perfectly.

Very active lobbies are being conducted in the Legislature both for and against the attorney-general's legislation to permit the operation of reciprocal insurance concerns in Ontario. It seems to be conceded that the bills will pass.

Paris may solve the house problem by building house boats for citizens, mooring them along the Seine banks.

"Wear-Ever"

Week Special

Regular $1.25-2 Quart Size Sauce Pan

Has two Lips, for pouring with either hand

"Made in Canada"

"WEAR-EVER" Utensils keep food flavors in and fuel costs down. They are made to give years of faithful, enduring service—from thick, hard, sheet metal which again and again has been passed through huge rolling mills and pounded by gigantic stamping machines.

Clip the Coupon. Get one of these sauce pans at the special price, before the LIMITED SUPPLY is exhausted. Includes a coupon form with fields for Name, Address, City, and Date.

McKelvey & Birch, Limited

BOUGHT STOLEN GOODS MADE NO PROPER ENTRY. Second-Hand Dealer Was Fined $10 and Costs by Magistrate.

Second-hand dealers who do not make a proper entry in their books regarding goods they purchase, will find themselves in trouble with the police. For neglecting to make a proper entry in his books, Henry Sugarman was on Wednesday morning fined $10 and costs by Magistrate Farrell, when he pleaded guilty, through his counsel, A. B. Cunningham, to the charge. Mr. Cunningham pointed out to the court that Mr. Sugarman had no intention of doing anything wrong, but the magistrate stated that people stealing goods very often sold them at second-hand stores and that it was only through the dealer making a proper entry that the police could get trace of the stolen goods. The goods in question were taken in by Mr. Sugarman's daughter. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store. A felt hat, a grey cap, a scarf and three or four ties were in the lot. Michael McNally, with his sunny smile, faced the magistrate on a charge of drunkenness. The latter, so Mr. Sugarman says, was instructed to make an entry of the goods purchased, but neglected to do so and her father had to take the responsibility. In this particular case, it happened that the goods consisted of articles stolen recently from George Vanhorn's store.