I.O.O.F. GRAND MASTER HERE

A District Gathering Was Held on Wednesday Afternoon and Evening.

A gathering of great interest to Kingston members of the I.O.O.F. was held in the city on Wednesday afternoon and evening, when Grand Master W. J. Hamilton, Fort William, accompanied by Grand Secretary W. Brooks, Toronto, and D.D. G.M. Bradford, Harrowsmith, paid an official visit to the district lodges. Members were present from Gananoque, Odessa, Harrowsmith, Parham, Snow Road, Yarker, Napanee and other places, besides a splendid turnout of Kingston members. Conspicuous among the Napanee contingent was Past Grand Patriarch Wilson.

The evening meeting was more of a social gathering, and the large rooms newly arranged for the use of the local lodges were filled with interested and enthusiastic members. Bro. Chas. Higgins, Past D.D.G.M. Kingston, and a member of Granite Lodge, occupied the chair and introduced the speakers. A number of matters of vital interest to the order were presented and discussed by the grand master, grand secretary, and others. After this part of the programme had been concluded, the members sat down to the tables which were supplied to satisfy the inner man. The toast of "Grand Lodge" was responded to by the grand master. In a most excellent speech. The grand secretary, and Bro. Wilson, P.G.L., added most interesting addresses. A pleasing incident of the meeting took place when large photographs of the memorial tablet, which hangs in the Oddfellows' Relief Association rooms here, were presented to the various lodges of the district, each of which had contributed members to the Great War.

The visiting grand officers are continuing their journey eastward and they will be in Brockville on Thursday.

MUSKRAT TRAP CASE TO BE HEARD ON FRIDAY

Before Justice of the Peace Bradshaw—Kingston Mills Parties Involved.

At the court house Friday morning before Justice of the Peace, J. W. Bradshaw, the mystery surrounding the disappearance of some muskrat traps which have been set in the marsh at Kingston Mills from time to time, is to be solved. George Jeffries, a man aged about sixty years, who lives in a small shanty on government land near Kingston Mills locks, will be charged with the theft of the traps, the property of Ronald Graham and Alexander Lunman. It is understood that when the case is heard the plaintiffs will show that the traps belonging to them, which were placed in the marsh for the purpose of catching muskrats, were stolen by the accused; that when Jeffries was seen by the two plaintiffs he had muskrat traps, and also there was a muskrat in one of them.

From information received, it is learned that for some time trappers who live near Kingston Mills have been losing traps placed in the marsh, and have been unable to get any trace of them. It is also thought that some of the traps have been tampered with, and muskrats which had been caught in the traps had been taken and the traps reset. One evening recently, Messrs. Graham and Lunman decided that they would keep on the lookout for the thieves, and between two and three o'clock in the morning while they were in a boat near the place where they had set the traps, they caught the accused in the act of leaving the place in his boat, and he had in his possession traps which bore the marks of the two plaintiffs. The accused has lived near Kingston Mills for some time, and his only means of livelihood is from what he can trap, fish and shoot. It is expected that a large number of the people from Kingston Mills section will be on hand to hear the case.

CROSSING IS RISKY.

Islanders Have to Take Precautions on the Harbor.

Justice of the Peace Allison, Wolfe Island, came to the city on Thursday morning for the purpose of trying a case at the court house. When asked about the condition of the ice, Mr. Allison stated that it was fairly good providing a person kept on the lookout for air holes. He stated that it is almost impossible to see these holes.

Any islanders who came to the city on Thursday made sure of the safety of their horses by travelling with a rope about the animal's neck. In case the ice gave way, the rope is pulled high and this cuts off the animal's wind causing it to float.

Will Leave For Hamilton. George Awrey, athletic director at Queen's University, is in Hamilton for a few days. Mr. Awrey will leave for Hamilton on the first of April and will not return to Kingston again until a short time before the university term commences in the fall.
