PLAYS "THE THIRD DEGREE" ADDRESS BY FIRE CHIEF

The Rex Company Appears at Grand Before a Capacity House.

Last evening at the Grand Opera House, the Rex Stock Company added another triumph to their list of successes in Kingston, when they presented "The Third Degree" to a capacity house. The methods adopted by police officials in an effort to force a confession from an innocent man, is vividly described in this production.

In this play, a young man, Howard Jeffries Jr., (William Seymour) worn out after five hours of the "third degree", finally confesses to a crime of which he is innocent. He had married a young lady whom his father Howard Jeffries Sr., (A. J. Cole), and his stepmother, (Florence Winters) will not acknowledge. He is cut off by his family and slightly under the influence of liquor goes to the apartment of a former classmate, Robert Underwood, (Wm. F. Mitchell), in an effort to get a loan repaid. However, he finds that Underwood is in deep water and can do nothing for him. After another little drink or two he succumbs to the warmth of the fire and is "dead to the world."

In the meantime, Mr. Underwood has a visit from a lady, a former sweetheart, who proves to be Mrs. Howard Jeffries Sr., who comes in reply to a letter which Robert Underwood has written her, in which he states that he is going to take his life, unless she will do something for him. Mrs. Jeffries Sr. tries to persuade him to be a man and give up his cowardly idea, and finally leaves him. After she has gone, he shoots himself. The next morning Howard Jeffries, Jr., is found in the room by the police, and immediately suspected of the crime. He repeats over and over that he knows nothing about it, but Captain Clinton, (William Yule), of the police force, tortures him for five hours, and finally by hypnotic persuasion, he confesses to having killed Robert Underwood. A magnificent fight for his life is put up by his wife, (Zana Vaughn), who without any financial backing, sets out to clear her husband, against the strong opposition of the boy's father. With the able assistance of the famous Judge Brewster ("Tex" Snelgrove) she finally clears him. Zana Vaughn, as the young wife, had a most difficult part to play, blending as it does pathos and comedy, and many strong dramatic situations, and Miss Vaughn's friends will be louder than ever in their praise of her. Rex, as the crusty, but lovable old Judge Brewster, made a great hit. This is the second character part he has played this season, and his remarkable acting was greatly enjoyed and appreciated. William Yule, as the police captain, had a part in which he "shines," and did extremely well. William Seymour portrayed his part wonderfully well, and Florence Winters also acted splendidly.

The Park Kiddies, in their vaudeville number, delighted the audience. Keith Park in his female impersonation made a hit. William Seymour and Hazel Williams also put on a selection which was loudly applauded. As soon as Hazel steps on the stage, the audience knows there is going to be some fun.

The Rex Stock Company will play "The Third Degree" on Saturday afternoon and evening, making way Friday evening for the Irish play.

HOLD ON TO YOUR WRAPS, WINTER NOT OVER YET

The Thermometer Registered Ten Above Zero During Thursday Night.

Well! well! well! who said the winter was over?

For the past ten days Kingston has been enjoying Atlantic City weather, in fact it has been so warm that a number of citizens had almost decided to put away their furs for the season, while many did put away overcoats. But they got their heavy coats out again on Friday morning.

The weather turned quite cold during the night and the thermometer showed ten above zero. Although cold, the weather is very pleasant.

Are You Awake.

To opportunists. Do you know many couples are being married between now and July? Do you realize that each couple will start out on a new life in which everything is quite new—or will be? Every "newly" is interested in what is best to buy—and they are reading our advertisements to get information. Is your ad there for them to see? Is your store news ready for them?

Ice Tightened a Little.

The cold weather on Thursday night tightened up the ice in the harbor. However, on Friday morning the islanders were not taking any chance coming over with horses. No matter how cold the weather gets, the Cape Vincent stage will not run again, as it is impossible for the stage to cross the island where the hoods are completely clear of snow.

Spring Vegetables.

Bunches of beets, carrots, onions, parsley, lettuce, rhubarb, etc. Florida tomatoes, cucumbers, celery, peppers, spinach, cauliflower, cabbage, leeks, and strawberries at Carnovsky's.

Rev. J. A. Brunet, pastor of Clayton and dean of the Lennox district, has taken the charge at Pakenham. Concert and Encore Songs, Dutton's.

Most interesting was the monthly meeting of the Local Council of Women held in the council chamber on Thursday, when as well as the news of the meeting of the National Executive held in Ottawa at which Miss Mowat, as president of the Kingston local council was present, Fire Chief Armstrong came in to give a talk on fire prevention as the result of the recent affiliation of the National Council of Women with the Dominion Fire Prevention Association and the suggestion made to ask the Fire Chief to address the members of local councils on this important subject.

Among the interesting notes from the executive meeting at Ottawa were the news that three meetings of the National Executive instead of four will be held each year, and that a telegram of congratulation had been sent to Princess Mary on her marriage instead of a gift, in accord with Lady Byng's suggestion, that in view of the lack of employment in Canada, the young princess would prefer merely the good wishes of the people. The treasurer reported $25 from Cooke's church Ladies' Aid and $10 from the Charity Circle of the King's Daughters and $25 from St. Andrew's Women's Home Association towards the salary of the Traveller's Aid. Mrs. Kennedy spoke of the story hour at the Strand theatre, which is free to the children except for the nominal fee of five cents, and asked for the support of the parents as the theatre had to be paid for as well as the expenses of the films.

Fire Chief Armstrong said he had heard with pleasure of the affiliation of such an influential body as the National Council of Women with the Dominion Fire Prevention Association, of whose executive he was a member and began by reading some of the facts of the losses by fire in the Dominion, which, as secretary of the Provincial Fire Chiefs' Association, were in his possession. The Dominion loss for the past four years was $132,939,810, which did not include forest fire loss. Kingston's loss in the same period was $272,261. It was reckoned that eighty-five per cent of the fires came about through carelessness and the chief said in his experience it might be put higher. Seventy-three per cent of the fires occur in houses. People do not realize how many small fires, happily, put out without much damage, occur in the year.

The Chief then pointed out the dangers of matches thrown down carelessly; of the dark closet under the stairs where a lighted match was used to find articles; of over heated pipes and spoke strongly on the subject of the oily mops used for the floors and of the danger of leaving them in a warm place; of out-doors when the oil was carefully taken out. The various oil dusting contrivances were a source of danger, he said, from spontaneous combustion, as was the oily waste used in garages for various purposes. Gasoline as a cleaner of gloves, etc., he utterly condemned and told of some bad fires caused by its use. The electric iron, forgotten as it is so easily, was another modern menace. Women who are in the home can by carelessness and by the education of their children in careful habits do
