Advertising Alliteration!
As advertising assists all ambitious aspirations and accompanies adequate activity, as all active advertisers admit; as advertising aids accomplishments and attracts attention, alluring as ably as attracting, all ambitious aspirants are active advertisers.
Alleluia and amen!

Seventy cadets have been invited and they will be shown the interesting part of the university by an equal number of Queen's men. At 4.30, the visitors will be the guests of Lewana in Grant hall.

Farmer Tries New Line.
W. O. Harvil, a successful farmer of Haldimand township, Northumberland county, is retiring from farming, having taken over a general store business at Harwood, and will try out the habits of perseverance and industry gained on the farm in the mercantile line. Friends and neighbors met at their home and presented Mr. and Mrs. Harvie with a beautiful chair and the family with a purse.

Taken Care Of.
Gananogue Reporter: Recently residents of Seely's Bay petitioned the council of Rear of Leeds and Lansdowne to erect a place to shelter any out-of-worries who might pass through the village. The council declined, probably taking the view that the distance was not great to Gananogue or Kingston, where the people have been accustomed to that sort of thing for so long that they take care of wandering willies as a matter of course.

The Human Side.
Of every man is his interest in what's doing. He wants to know right now exactly what you can offer him in the way of good value apparel for himself and his family. Some of the youngsters are graduating soon, others are home planning trips and vacations, while every wife is keeping house. Every man's interest in what's doing makes him a student of our advertisements. He and every wife are shoppers with our advertisers.

Prof. Clifford Clark and Miss Winnie Clark, Queen's University, are bereaved by the death of their father, George Ellis Clark, "The Glen" Martintown, a man prominent in Gleanery political life. He was aged fifty-eight years. He served in the Charlotteburg township council as councillor, deputy reeve and reeve, and sat at the counties council of the united counties of Stormont, Dundas and Gleanery for several years, being elected warden in 1916. He was also a trustee of Williamstown High School and an elder of St. Andrew's church, Martintown. He was president of the Martintown branch of the U.F.O. and his name was prominently mentioned in connection with the U.F.O. nomination for the Ontario House when the present member, D. A. ously in Marmora for six years, thus completing, possibly, the longest pastoral term on record in the Bay of Quinte Conference.

Hospital Planned for Pembroke.
The contract for a new cottage hospital at Pembroke has been given to the town architect, W. C. Keighley, who is now busy on the plans. As soon as the frost is out of the ground the work of grading will begin on the land donated by Senator White, which consists of four acres just outside the town limits. The plans call for a building to cost around $100,000. Last year the new wing of the General hospital was completed at a cost of over $200,000 so Pembroke will soon be in a position to care for all the sick folk in the county.

Fellow Employees Show Esteem
Douglas Carter, who four years ago left Carter Bros., Picton, to accept the position as assistant sales manager for the wholesale hardware firm of Lewis Bros. & Co., Montreal, on resigning his position was made the recipient of several valuable gifts as an expression of good will from his fellow employees. The French section presented him with an elegant sterling silver cigarette case and valuable cigarette holder. The English section's gift was a very costly platinum scarf pin, the setting being a sapphire set with diamonds. While the Sales Manager, John A. Clayton Well Paved Village.
The report of Clayton has just been completed and shows that the village was active during the past year. The most noteworthy activity was that of road building. During the past year nearly every street was paved and curbed. The village will by the end of this year have every street paved, something which very few other villages the size of Clayton can claim. The trustees of the village recommended that $15,926.96 be raised to defray the ordinary expenses for 1922. Besides clerk and police expenses and bond interest there is $3,600 for street lighting and $2,000 for highway expenses. More than $900 will be spent for ornamental lighting, but only $100 for park improvement.

Concert at Morven.
Morven, March 18.—The Epworth League concert held on Friday in Morven Methodist church was a great success. The programme consisted of vocal solos, male trio, and a short sketch by twelve young people dressed in old time costume entitled, "Why We Never Married," was very pleasing. Miss R. V. Goodfellow, Kingston, came out as entertainer and this part she carried out very successfully with monologues, descriptive pieces and most appropriate Irish jokes and reading "Pat's Last Request," which won great applause, this being St. Patrick's day. Refreshments were served at the close of the concert, which completed a very enjoyable evening.
