Investment Standards

The past record of an investment banking house is eloquent of its standards. Have the founders always been watchful to associate their names only with investments of proved merit and known stability? Does the consummation of a sale mark the end of their interest in the investor and the investment, or only the beginning? Do they hold their reputation for fair dealing as the most valued of assets? By such standards may the investor distinguish the investment banking house worthy of confidence and trust.

Dear Sirs:-

Twenty-seven years ago, when Red Rose Tea was first placed on the market, we selected the daily newspapers as the quickest way to reach the most people.

At that time grocers were selling, principally, China teas in bulk, while Red Rose Tea was, and is to-day, a blend of fine British grown teas from India and Ceylon, put up in sealed packages.

Because it goes directly into the home, into frequent and close touch with the woman, the buyer of the family, we can count on results in building Red Rose Tea sales for merchants in small towns as well as whole sections, so we consider the daily newspaper gives us a definite service.

We are happy to say this with the experience of 27 years behind it, for India and Ceylon teas have almost completely superseded China teas, and the daily paper has helped us make RED ROSE TEA, in its sealed package, known to Canadians from coast to coast, and our trade mark, "RED ROSE TEA 'is good tea'" a household name.

Yours truly.

P.S. You may use this letter in any way you feel inclined.

There is no doubt about it-if you want to make the name of your goods a household word you must advertise in Daily Newspapers. As Mr. Estabrooks says: and his comment is based upon 27 years' experience, "The Daily Newspaper goes into the home and is in frequent and close touch with the woman—the buyer the family.
