

TO WITHDRAW THE REQUEST

Pool Proprietors Will Ask City Council Not to Increase Hours.

On Monday morning, several representative pool room proprietors met Rev. W. Taylor Dale, president of the Kingston Ministerial Association, for a conference on the question of extension of hours, and the proprietors agreed to withdraw their petition to the city council, which that body granted a week ago. As the result of this, the pool room hours will be the same as heretofore.

INTERIM SUPPLY BILL

Likely To Be Passed on Monday or Tuesday. Ottawa, April 3.—It is thought that the government interim supply bill will be passed in the commons today or Tuesday. This bill embodies one-fourth of the supply and will enable the government to carry on for a while in this new fiscal year, which began yesterday.

Much time this week is likely to be taken up with the civil government estimates. Hon. Mr. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, has the items of his department to get through, but no particular difficulty is expected.

The only other department upon which the Opposition is likely to make a drive is that of railways. The Opposition seems determined not to vote any railway estimates until some explanation of the government's policy on this big vital issue is explained.

Ape Came After Man. Paris, April 3.—Positive denial of the Darwin theory has been made before the Academy of Medicine by no less an authority than Professor Arthur Couette, famous author of numerous biological and medical works. Couette bases his theory on the discovery of prehistoric remains in all parts of the world which show, he asserts, that not only have the human being and the ape always been types apart, but that the ape was created after man. At the same time he admits that man at one time walked on all fours. But he had all the gifts of speech.

"WITCH DOCTOR" HELD WHITE WOMAN CAPTIVE

Threat of "Voodoo" Kept Her For Eight Years in Negro's Home.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 3.—Spurious diamonds dangling from his ears, garbed in a swallow-tailed coat and wearing a white vest, Henry Washington, negro voodoo specialist, Saturday told Magistrate Teneard De Wolfe how he held Mrs. Charlotte Wyles, 45, a white woman, captive in his home for nearly eight years. It is alleged he made her believe she would be seized by his voodoo witches if she escaped.

Washington's supernatural powers held no terror for Magistrate De Wolfe and Henry was held on several charges, including cruelty and neglect. His wife, children and Mrs. Wyles were taken in charge by social welfare agents. Mrs. Wyles refused to talk. Her emaciated appearance gave evidence of her half-starved condition. Police expressed the belief that brutal treatment which she had suffered during her long confinement had unbalanced her mind.

FOUR THEATRICAL PEOPLE ARRESTED AT BROCKVILLE

For Entering House at Yonge's Mills—Fred Willis, Kingston, Among Them.

Brockville, April 3.—Disaster overtook members of a burlesque theatrical troupe walking the ties en route from Kingston to Montreal Saturday when the police arrested at the Union station, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bostock (the latter known professionally as Dorothy Patterson), Jennie Lindsay, Montreal, (known professionally as Hazel Patterson) and Fred Willis, Kingston, on a charge of having entered a house at Yonge Mills, west of here, and ransacking it. The quartette admitted having entered the house while the owner was absent for the purpose of seeking shelter from the storm. Willis was accompanying the burlesque performers from Kingston.
