THE KINGSTON HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Strongly Supports Two-Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary Proposals.

It is not generally recognized that the suggestion that the 250th anniversary of the founding of the City of Kingston should be fittingly celebrated emanated from the local Historical Society, which aims at the retention and recognition of Canadian traditions, and the preserving for future generations of the glorious history of the Dominion.

Its energetic president, Major-General Sir A. C. Macdonell, K.C.K., C.M.G., D.S.O., earnestly and successfully brought the proposal to the attention of the citizens, and in forceful and eloquent speeches before the Rotary Club, Kingston Co-Operative Club and kindred associations in the community life, directed the attention of everyone to the propriety of celebrating by pageant and parade, the 250th birthday of the Limestone City.

It is understood that the mayor intends to call a mass meeting of citizens in the near future, when the suggestion can be frankly discussed and the necessary committees formed to ensure the success of the undertaking. There is no doubt that the meeting will be largely attended for it is well known that the plans outlined by the Historical Society authorities have received enthusiastic approval from all sides.

The Kingston Historical Society is very anxious to increase its membership in order to give every possible assistance to carrying out the many details which will be required to make the "250th anniversary" a real success. Admission to membership is secured by written application to the president, General Sir Archibald Macdonell, or to the secretary, Professor W. R. P. Bridger, R.M.C., enclosing the annual dues of $1.

Arrangements are being made by the society for mural tablets to be placed on the historic sites in Kingston, in order that visitors may immediately perceive the historic associations of old Kingston. En passant, it is very noticeable that in Quebec city, the history of the town is very carefully compiled and in almost every street and square one sees a small brass tablet outlining the historic incidents which occurred near that spot. This is the ideal which the Kingston Historical Society sets before the citizens. Everyone who has lived in the Limestone City realizes the numerous episodes of national importance which have happened in the vicinity and it would be very advantageous for them to be recorded where the tourist can plainly read them. These details must be considered if the success of the celebration is to be ensured and with this end in view the Historical Society wishes to add to its membership and to increase the scope of its work.

BIG NIGHT IN ROYAL ARCH

Visitors From Kingston Exemplify Their Work Tuesday Night.

Belleville Intelligence. Moira Chapter of Royal Arch Masons were Tuesday evening paid a fraternal visit from the officers and companions of Ancient Frontenac and Cataragui Chapter No. 1, of Kingston. Thirty companions of Kingston lined up on this happy occasion, exemplifying the degree work on nine candidates of Moira Chapter. The Kingston companions proved able masters of the work. The fathers of this old Kingston Chapter visited the town of Belleville on May 29th, 1856, bringing with them all the implements of labor required for the opening of a Chapter and on that date Moira Chapter was established under the Grand Chapter of England. The same implements were employed last evening in the work and after sixty-six years of constant use were found in perfect condition which speaks well for the materials supplied by good old Kingston and her staunch companions.

As those wise men from the east travelled west at the birth 46 years ago to the little town of Belleville bringing rich gifts of material and implements for the new-born babe to build with, so last evening worthy sons of worthy sires from the same east travelled to the same west bringing rich gifts of thought banners of royal companionship, abundance and love.

Scott-Saunders Wedding.

Last evening the home of the bride at 273 Bagot street was the scene of an interesting ceremony when a popular young lady, in the person of Miss Floesia Saunders, was united in marriage to Fred Scott, Picton. Adjutant R. Condie, of the local Salvation Army corps, officiated, in the presence of a large number of the bride's friends. The bride looked very becoming in a dress of navy duchess satin, and was supported by Miss Dorothy Goodrich, wearing navy blue silk. J. Clarke filled the role of best man.

The bride was the recipient of a large number of suitable gifts, which included a case of silver table ware from the Salvation Army Songster Brigade.

"UNDER WESTERN SKIES"

The Rex Company Presents Something Different at Grand Opera House.

Each week that Rex and his company come to Kingston, their performance appears to be better than ever, and "Under Western Skies" as played at the Grand on Thursday evening, was no exception to the rule. Certainly it is the funniest yet, and "Billy" Yule as "Geewhittiker Hay" kept the audience in an uproar with his droll sayings and antics, especially when he gets reminiscent of '67. "Geewhittiker" certainly had his ups and downs in '67, and when very much in the "downs" he was always reminded of some experience in '67 when he was a big man in the country. Mr. Yule demonstrated his talent as a comedian in an entirely new role from that in which he generally appears before his Kingston friends.

Miss Zana Vaughn was greeted with applause on her first appearance since her recent illness, testifying to the high esteem in which she is held by the theatre-goers and showing their pleasure at her recovery. As "Tenn O' see" becomes the idol of the rough mining camp when she arrives from her home in the east, only to find that her father is dead, she portrays the "straight" gambler, of the old days in the west, and he is also right at home as usual. "Billy" Seymour as "Asa Bice" and William Mitchell as "Tom Romaine" are also good, while Miss Machan as "Nettie Bice" appears in an entirely new character part. As the scolding wife of "Mr. Hay," Miss Florence Winters was a treat, and an evening's entertainment alone. She reminded some Kingston husbands present of an evening at home.

As soon as the curtain lifts on the first act the audience is carried out to the western scenes, at the time of 1880, of an Oregon mining camp. The play is full of tense moments, romance, brave and true men, and underhand dealings, and is interspersed with good comedy. The scenery is very deserving of mention, especially that used in the last two acts, showing the steps and path up the side of the mountain, and the mining camp of Gold Creek.

During the intermission, the Park Kiddies rendered some fine acts. The same show will be given on Friday evening, and Saturday afternoon and evening.

Pay $25 and $35 For Farm Labor

Prevailing rates for farm labor locally are $25 and $35 a month. Board and lodging are included as usual. There is quite a demand from the farms for men this week, and a number of places have been filled by the Government Employment Bureau. Men with experience are wanted, particularly those who are accustomed to milking. The work is being sought with more eagerness than usual, on account of the lean winter months.

Quite a number of men have been located on farms in the Kingston district and they are glad to get the work. As the season advances a greater number will be located.

ICE DRIFTS BACK.

The Harbor Was Partly Filled on Friday Morning.

With a stiff south-east wind blowing during the night the harbor was partly filled with drift ice again Friday morning, but this will soon clear away when the wind shifts to the north of west. The ice is broken into quite large sections, but the Wolfe Islander and other vessels in the harbor will not have any difficulty with this temporary obstacle. A large amount of the ice was blown away from the north shore of Wolfe Island during the night.

Near Cedar Island, and from there down the river, the water appears to be almost clear of ice, and this will allow the other drift ice in the lake to break up more quickly.

Price May Be Prohibitive. Discussing the distribution of electricity in the rural districts, a prominent Frontenac county farmer states that where the farm buildings are on the main roads and at the front of lots, there would be no difficulty in supplying the current, but owing to the location of residences and other buildings in the centre of the lots and away from the roads the cost would be prohibitive. This is a condition that prevails in Glenburnie, where many prominent farmers will be unable to use electricity.

R.C.H.A. Band in Ottawa.

The R.C.H.A. band, under Capt. Light, left Friday afternoon for Ottawa, where it will give a series of concerts in the Russell Theatre. The appearance of this famous artillery band has been widely advertised in Ottawa, and it is probably the first Canadian military band of its high class that has ever visited the capital.

Wm. Ziegler, Jr., Now President

Following the resignation of William L. Garey, as president of the Royal Baking Powder Company, William Ziegler, Jr., was unanimously elected to that office at a meeting of the board of directors on April 3rd. Mr. Ziegler, Jr., who is a large stockholder in the company, has long taken an active interest in its affairs.

The congregation of St. John's Presbyterian church, Brockville, is to erect a new manse.

The new Canadian five cent piece has made its appearance in Kingston.

There was no session of the police court on Friday morning.

AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. O. C. Elliott, Speaks About "Mal-Adjusted Lives."

There are a lot of queer people in the world, and some who might not be counted queer would be classed as eccentric, according to the definition of that term given by Rev. O. C. Elliott in his sermon at the First Baptist church last night. His text was Matt. V. 8, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God," and in his development of his subject "Mal-adjusted Lives" he emphasized the thought that the person whose life is centered in any thing or person other than God is eccentric,—that is, off the true centre of human life. He vividly illustrated his theme with scriptural characters, such as the Gentiles who sought first to gratify physical appetites; and the Pharisees, who were strong on religious formalities, but weak on inner purity of life; and those mercenary souls whose chief pursuit in life is worldly gain; all these need to have the centre of life changed so that Christ shall be given first place.

While there are no two people exactly alike in the world, nearly all ministers have one condition in common, viz, a scarcity of earthly wealth, and Mr. Elliott frankly confesses to having that qualification for good standing among his brethren. But his address yesterday afternoon on "The Believer's Possessions," indicated that he belongs also to that larger fellowship of those who in Christ possess all things, having the limitless resources of the infinite God at his disposal, for the maintenance, development and perfection of the Christian life.

The meetings, which continue to grow in attendance, interest, and power, are to be continued tonight, Sunday, and all next week.

Artichokes and Cauliflowers, Asparagus, beets, carrots, cabbages, cucumbers, peppers, spinach, green onions, parsley, iceberg lettuce, leeks, rhubarb, tomatoes, etc., at Carnovsky's.

If you like to sleep in church, better stay way from the special meetings in the First Baptist church. Nobody gets sleepy while Mr. Elliott is speaking. Song service to-night at 7.45.

At a meeting of the county property committee held on Thursday, the following tenders were awarded: Cement, A. Chown & Co.; sand, W. J. McKendry; crushed stone, Roody & Monk.

When They Stop to Look at Him!

Of course, they'll admire him — you take that as a matter of course— isn't he very healthy, happy baby, the object of comment and praise wherever he goes? And furthermore, isn't this particular baby just a little bit handsomer and more adorable than any other baby in existence? Of course! Then be sure that you provide him with a CARRIAGE to set off his beauty and make him show to even greater advantage. There is nothing like our smart English Perambulator to add to the attraction of the very young.
