Insurance and Your Estate

No matter what your wealth, unless you leave some life insurance your heirs are bound to suffer.

Life insurance will provide your heirs with ready money immediately and so will remove any necessity for selling securities in what may be an unfavorable market. You can take out insurance to be used to pay the succession duties on your estate, and thus have it kept intact.

As a business man, the value of insurance to your estate must be apparent.

Let me have a talk with you on business insurance.
