

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

FOR EIGHT YEARS The cause of this trouble is the fermentation of food in the stomach which generates a gas that is very frequently belched up. There is also a rumbling of the bowels and a discharge of gas therefrom, there is constant retching, and the meals are frequently vomited. There is a burning pain in the stomach, the appetite is feeble, the tongue coated, the breath bad, constipation is generally present and the sufferer becomes weak, nervous, depressed and exceedingly miserable.

CELEBRATE FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Noxon Honored Many Friends Join in Happy Reunion.

Ploton Gazette On March 28th, Mr. and Mrs. Marshal B. Noxon, Crofton, completed the fiftieth year of their marriage. On March 28th, 1872, they were united in matrimony at Belleville, by the Rev. Mr. Sills. Last week a large number of their friends and relatives gathered to do honor to this worthy couple on the occasion of their Golden Wedding. It was a happy occasion. The bride and groom of fifty years ago welcomed the guests with all their well known hospitality and the hours passed all too quickly in social intercourse, many pleasant memories of the days that have past being recalled by the host and hostess and assembled guests. After enjoying the bountiful repast, addresses of congratulation were given by Mr. A. D. Foster and others. Mr. Noxon replying suitably.

WINDOW AND VERANDAH

Brightened With Flower Boxes and Hanging Baskets.

The Boxes Must Be Strong and Durable—The Soil Should Be Kept Rich and Well Watered—Hints on Arrangement of Plants.

Window boxes should be made strong and durable. Each box should be nine or ten inches wide at top and bottom, seven or eight inches deep inside measurements, of a suitable length to fit the window, not over four feet in length, made of one-inch dressed lumber, and when finished, painted a dull green color. Half-inch holes should be bored about six inches apart through the bottom of the box for drainage purposes. Verandah boxes should be about the same measurements. A large iron screw eye, or iron staple, should be put at each top, outside (front) corner of the window boxes. A strong piece of wire should be attached to these long enough to attach to another screw eye or staple placed in the window frame about a foot higher up than top of box, so that the box can be fastened securely in position. Boxes and barrels may be made more artistic and rustic looking by nailing moss and fungi covered bark, of native trees, on the outside. This not only adds to their attractiveness but also helps to keep the plants moist and cool at the roots in summer time. The bark from Basswood, Elm, Cedar or Birch trees will be found suitable. By the exercise of a little taste and originality, very pretty boxes can be made at slight cost. Verandah boxes and rustic stands can be made in something the same way. One of the prettiest rustic stands I have ever seen was made from the lower half of a sugar barrel, reinforced by a thickness of half-inch board nailed on the bottom of the barrel outside to strengthen it, with three-quarter inch holes bored through for drainage purposes.

Window boxes, etc., require copious and frequent waterings every day, or at least every second day, especially during hot weather. The soil should be well soaked with water when watering the boxes. Toward the end of the season, in July and August, some liquid fertilizer may be given the plants.—The late Wm. Hunt, O. A. College, Guelph.

E. G. Bennett, of Missouri, says: "When you sell grain you wholesale the fertility of your soil; when you sell butter-fat you retail water, feed and sunshine."

Try hand is never the worse for doing its own work. He that shoots always right forgets his arrow. King Arthur himself had nothing but his time. He loses a good bit who strives with his betters. The wise and the fool have their fellows.
