

AMUSEMENTS

What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

"Rose of Washington Square."

Full of beauty and charm with a flow of clean comedy interspersing an absorbing story, the whole bubbling with life, laughter and joyous song, "Rose of Washington Square," will win unstinted applause at the Grand Opera House next Wednesday, April 19th.

At the Allen To-day. "Watch Your Step," a Goldwyn comedy coming to the Allen Theatre, for three days, commencing to-day, is a production of youth in every sense of the word.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

At the Strand. Wallace Reid, in "The World's Champion." This is the breezy, alluring title of the feature which opens at the Strand to-day.

STORY OF POLICE COURT

Eight Tipplers Were in Line-up on Blue Monday Morning.

It looked like old times at the Monday morning session of the police court. There were eight cases on the docket, and of this number six were cases of drunkenness.

It is interesting to listen to the dialogues between the magistrate and the thirsty ones.

"Where did you get it?" the cad asked the first offender.

"On Princess street," was the reply.

"And who did you get it from?" "I do not know the man's name."

However, all the fellow had to drink was extract of lemon. He was fined $10 and costs.

The second offender is a stranger in the city, so the police say, but he evidently knew where to "wet his whistle."

Had he used water to gargle his throat, he would have saved a fine of $10 and costs.

The third offender said he got some extract of lemon in a grocery store. He was securing a few groceries, so to top things off, he added a bottle of lemon. He was fined the usual $10 and costs.

The next tippler told about visiting three grocery stores and securing a supply of lemon—three bottles in all. He was let down with a fine of $10 and costs.

"You are charged with being intoxicated again," was the salute another week-end drinker got from the magistrate. As he was just recently before the court he was touched for $20 and costs or a month.

Charles Currie and Charles Penhorn had not the wherewithal to pay for a cushion seat on a Grand Trunk train on Saturday, so they boarded a west bound freight train.

Currie got on at Prescott, and his companion at Brockville. Just how far they intended to go on their travels is not known, but their little journey was cut short when the freight train reached Kingston, as a railway detective caught the young travellers and escorted them to the "lock-up."

The magistrate imposed a fine of $10 and costs or one week in jail. The travellers went to jail.

THREE KINGSTON FIREMEN Likely to Be Winners in Buffalo Newspaper Contest

It is quite likely that three Kingston firemen will be winners in the Firemen's Popularity Contest, conducted by the Buffalo Courier and the Buffalo Enquirer, and which ends May 14th.

The Kingston firemen who now appear to be winners are J. Hall, F. Shepherd and T. H. Patterson. When the winners are found, a party of 350 firemen will be taken aboard the steamer Octorara of the Great Lakes Transit Corporation and taken on a cruise of the Great Lakes.

Receptions, parades and other similar honors will be paid to the firemen of the contest by the firemen of the cities they will visit.

The contest has been going on since February 5th and Kingston is in competition with such cities as Olean, Lackawanna, Lockport, Dunkirk and Ithaca, New York, and Kitchener, Guelph and Peterboro, Ontario, and Oil City, Pa.

Mr. Hall stands highest among the Kingston group and in the standings published Sunday, had 1,255 votes to his credit. Mr. Shepherd is next with 1,125.

A group of Russian monarchists have arrived in Berlin from Sofia, planning an attempt on the life of Karl Radek, Soviet envoy, who is remaining in Berlin as liaison officer between Genoa and Moscow.

Adrian C. Anson is dead. The end came late Friday at St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, where the veteran ball player underwent an operation last Saturday.

The Washington administration is preparing proposals for submission to the operators and miners looking toward a settlement of the coal strike.

The Imperial hotel, Tokio, was burned Sunday. Thirty of the Prince of Wales's suite were there and lost much baggage.

SPORTING NEWS

Local Baseball Prospects.

The prospects for high class baseball in Kingston during the coming summer are very slim, according to veteran sportsmen. This is due to financial conditions and not to the lack of splendid material available.

The long period of industrial depression has been a bad factor, but the inability of the Ponies club to obtain gate receipts to cover the expenses of running a good team is the main cause. If there was a good diamond enclosed by a fence, the club would be able to extract sufficient at the gate to maintain a good team and cover expenses, but the Kingston fans have been accustomed to getting their entertainment at their own price, and these voluntary contributions are too meagre to base any organization upon.

There are good sports in Kingston, but little over fifty per cent. of those who go to the games will contribute twenty five cents, whereas a fifty-cent charge should be made. When discussing this matter with "Stan" Trotter, the veteran baseball secretary, he was unable to give any promises for the season. "We have the material—lots of it," said he, "but it is a matter entirely of finance and we don't see how we can put it across. Nearly every place outside that has any kind of a team, has an enclosure and is able to guarantee a fairly good gate, but we are unable to do this, and in the competition for players we are not in it this season."

Mr. Trotter expressed the opinion that if the money were available, the Ponies would be able to put up a very strong team, for there are some of the best players in the city.

Y.M.C.A. Paper Chase.

On Friday morning an interesting hare and hounds paper chase was held for the Junior members. At 10.15 o'clock, the hares left the "Y," the teams composing A. Brunke, K. Upton, B. Vince and H. Buck, and seven minutes later about fifty "hounds" started in hot pursuit. The course was very exciting, and during the two-and-a-half-mile course, through the city, many mud-holes and other obstacles were encountered. The hares arrived back at 10.35, with the hounds only half a block in their rear, with all the boys showing obvious signs of their hard and muddy progress.

There was a good crowd of spectators on hand for this event, the first of its kind for many years. Owing to the success of the chase, Mr. Dean intends to hold similar events more regularly in the future. The senior hares and hounds will be staged next Saturday afternoon.

BASEBALL RESULTS.

National League. SUNDAY RESULTS. Pittsburgh 4, Cincinnati 3. New York 5, Boston, 2. Brooklyn 10, Philadelphia 2. St. Louis 3, Chicago 2.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS. New York 17, Brooklyn 10. Philadelphia 14, Boston 5. St. Louis 3, Pittsburgh 2. Cincinnati 3, Chicago 3.

American League. SUNDAY RESULTS. Philadelphia 5, Washington 1. Chicago 7, Detroit 6. Cleveland 3, St. Louis 0. x-10 Innings.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS. New York 5, Washington 3. Cleveland 11, Detroit 4. St. Louis 14, Chicago 0. Philadelphia at Boston—Postponed.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMON.

Where law ends, tyranny begins. William Pitt. It is easier to go six miles to hear a sermon than to spend one-quarter of an hour in meditation upon it when I come home.—Philly Henry.

To be true, to love, to be strong. These, and work to do, Make life a song. —Laura E. Whitney.

It is better to be wise and not to seem so, than to seem wise and not to be so.—Plato.

If therefore the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.—Jesus.

If I can stop one heart from breaking. I shall not live in vain; If I can ease one life that's aching, Or cool one pain; Or help one fainting robin into his nest again, I shall not live in vain. Anon.

I could not live, I should be overwhelmed with intellectual and moral asphyxia, if I were to lose this doubt and profound conviction in an infinite Personality which is God and in a finite personality which is my ego.—Pere Hyacinthe.

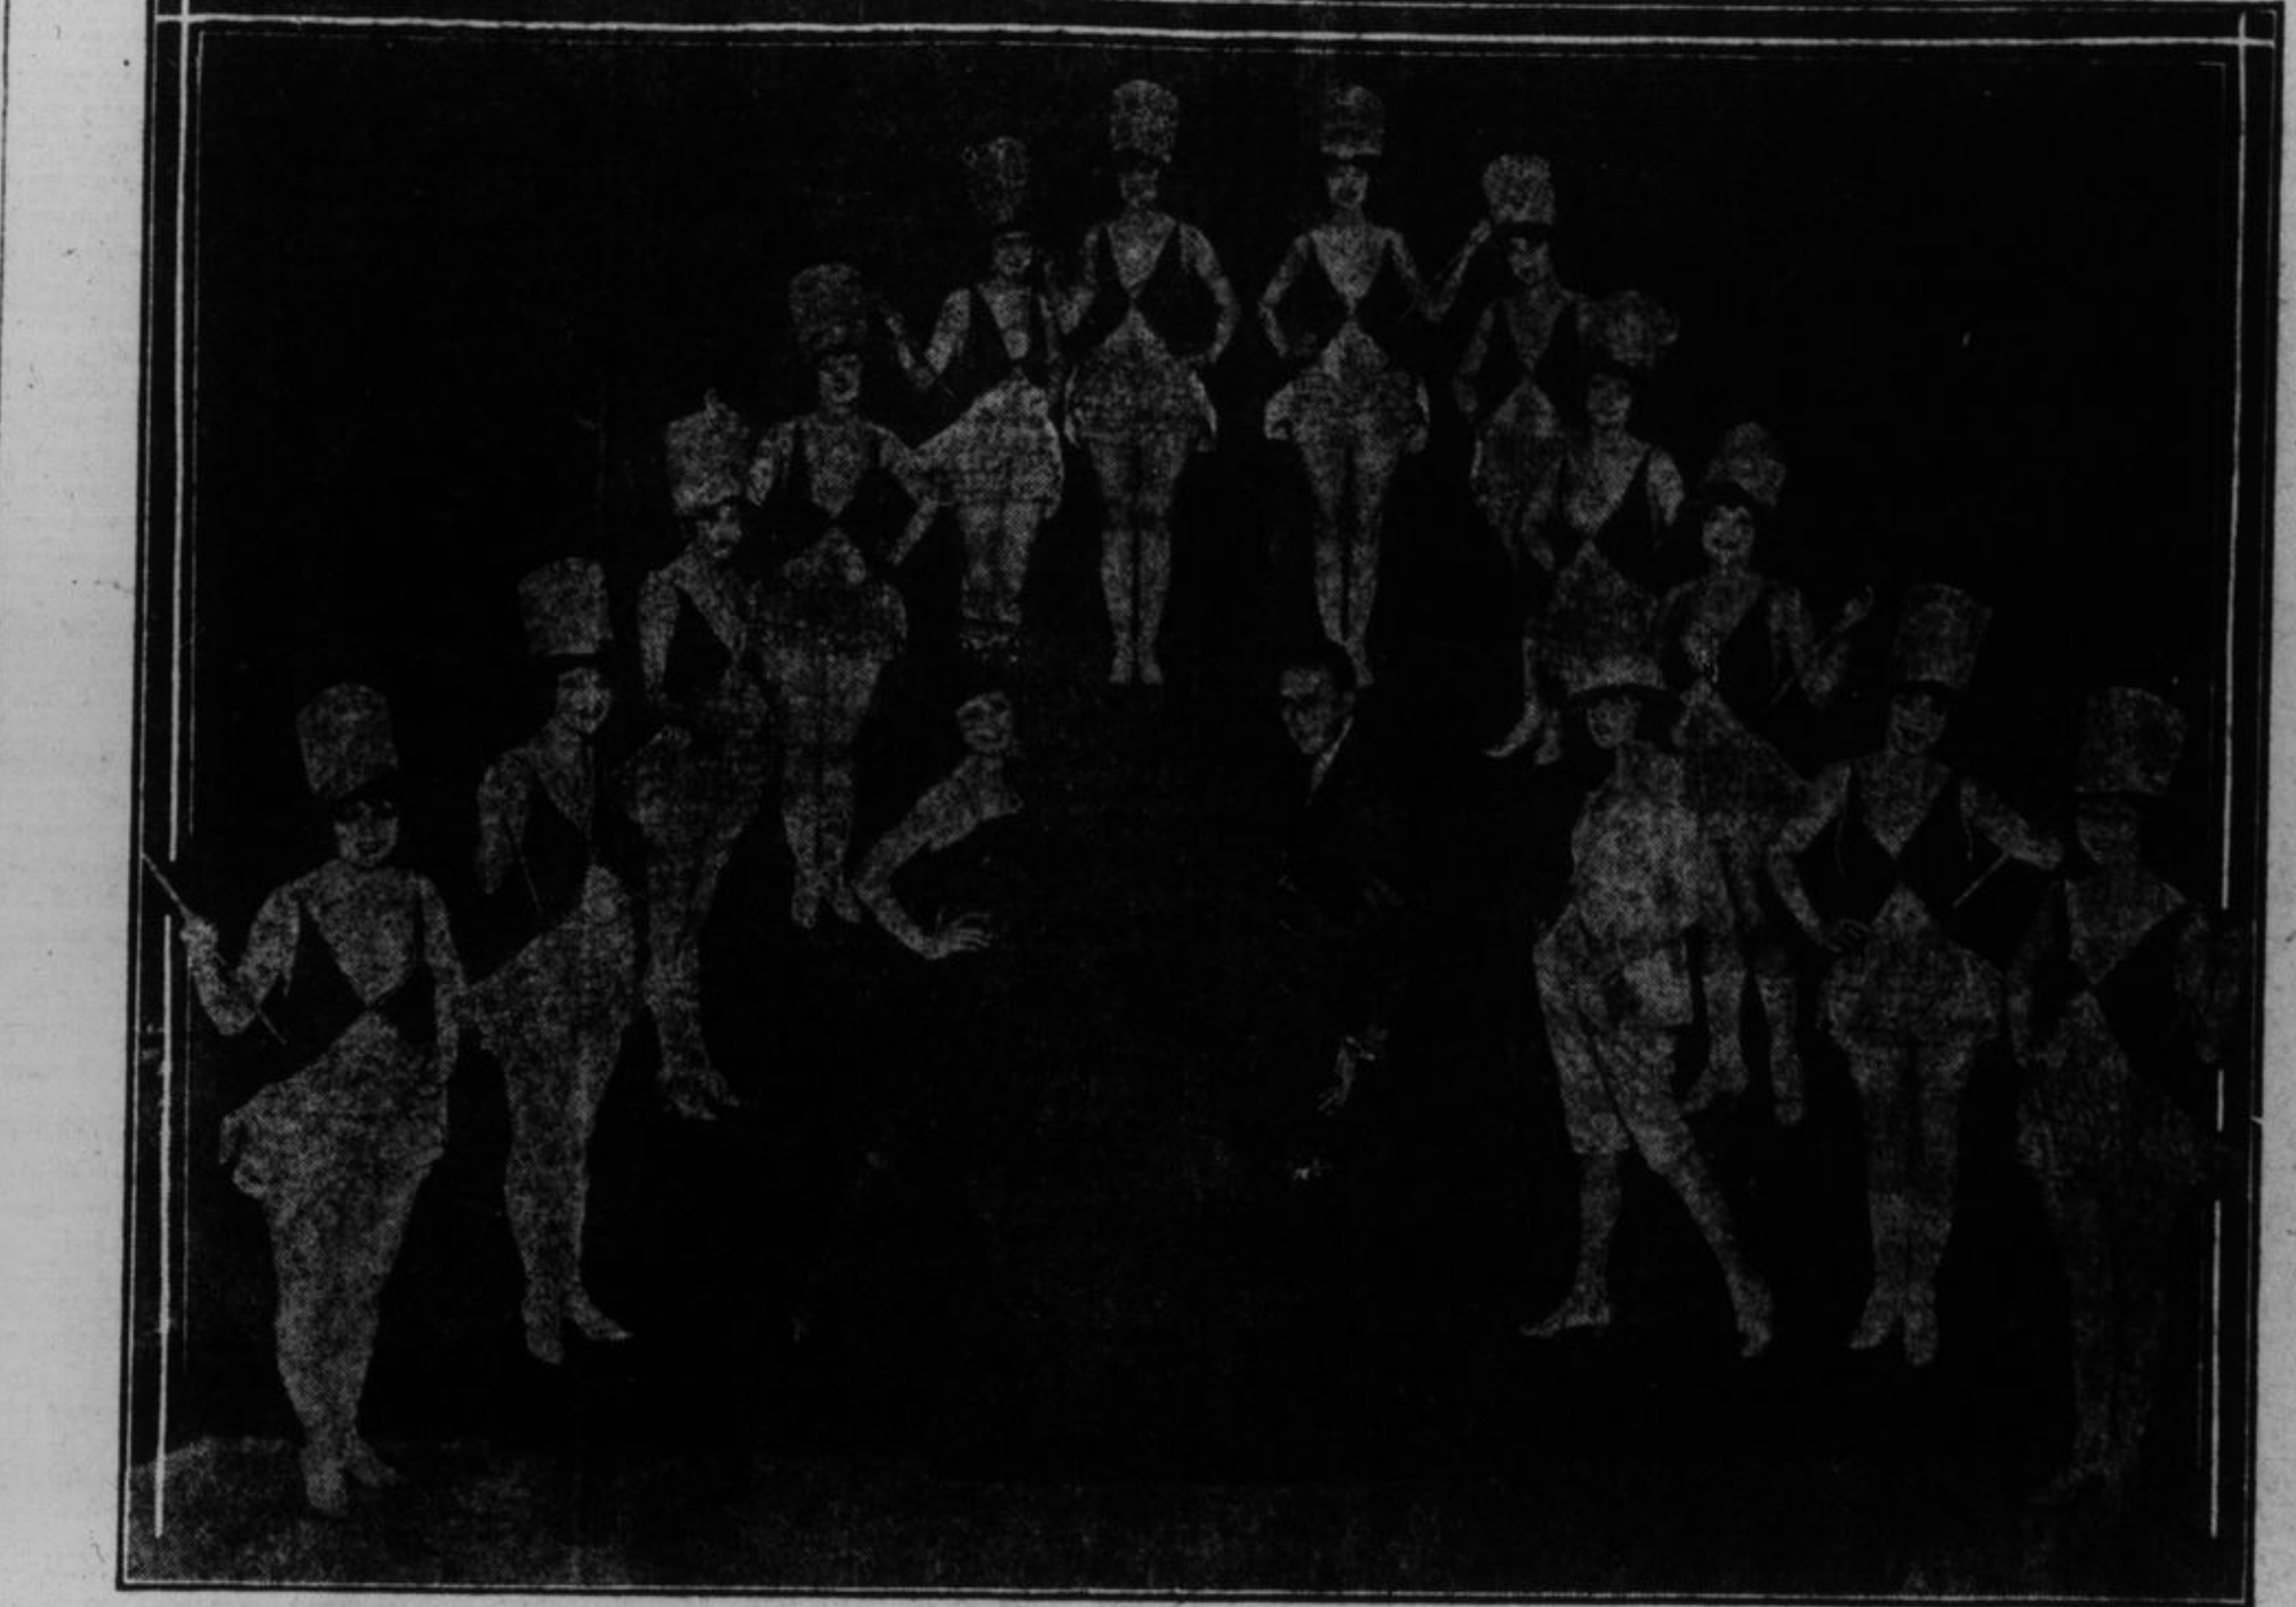

The Beginning of an Industry. The subject of phosphorus in the chemistry class in the Paris high school prompted Professor Akers to ask his pupils to look up and report all they could find out about match making. And this prompted Miss Kirkland, one of the pupils, to turn up with a clever paper entitled "Match Making from the Garden of Eden Down to the Modern Safety Match."

And All Differently. Oshawa (La. Courier). Babe Ruth is to draw $75,000 a year for playing ball. That's the salary of the president of the United States. Babe works only in the summer months and has but one boss. The president is on the job the year around and 100,000,000 bosses tell him how to hit the ball. Then there's Bill Borah, besides.

The Home and School Club of Louise school held its second regular meeting on Thursday last. It took the form of a business meeting and arrangements were made for a tea and sale.

Detroit police are searching for seven prisoners who escaped from the House of Correction.

Little mischief is too much.

Dainty, dashing darlings, with "Rose of Washington Square," the super-musical comedy at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday, April 19th.

180,000 TONS OF ROCK WENT SKYWARDS.

The above picture shows the demolishing of a whole hillside at Havelock, Ont., where a blasting operation was carried out by the Ontario Rock Company to lift 5,000 carloads of trap rock destined for Toronto streets and Ontario highways. It took 26 tons of dynamite placed in tunnels 6 feet x 4 feet, and then filled in, totalling 1,200 feet in length, to effect this colossal explosion. Photo by Filmcraft Industries, Limited, by permission of the Ontario Motion Picture Bureau.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMON.

Where law ends, tyranny begins. William Pitt. It is easier to go six miles to hear a sermon than to spend one-quarter of an hour in meditation upon it when I come home.—Philly Henry.

To be true, to love, to be strong. These, and work to do, Make life a song. —Laura E. Whitney.

It is better to be wise and not to seem so, than to seem wise and not to be so.—Plato.

If therefore the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.—Jesus.

If I can stop one heart from breaking. I shall not live in vain; If I can ease one life that's aching, Or cool one pain; Or help one fainting robin into his nest again, I shall not live in vain. Anon.

I could not live, I should be overwhelmed with intellectual and moral asphyxia, if I were to lose this doubt and profound conviction in an infinite Personality which is God and in a finite personality which is my ego.—Pere Hyacinthe.

The Beginning of an Industry. The subject of phosphorus in the chemistry class in the Paris high school prompted Professor Akers to ask his pupils to look up and report all they could find out about match making. And this prompted Miss Kirkland, one of the pupils, to turn up with a clever paper entitled "Match Making from the Garden of Eden Down to the Modern Safety Match."

And All Differently. Oshawa (La. Courier). Babe Ruth is to draw $75,000 a year for playing ball. That's the salary of the president of the United States. Babe works only in the summer months and has but one boss. The president is on the job the year around and 100,000,000 bosses tell him how to hit the ball. Then there's Bill Borah, besides.

The Home and School Club of Louise school held its second regular meeting on Thursday last. It took the form of a business meeting and arrangements were made for a tea and sale.

Detroit police are searching for seven prisoners who escaped from the House of Correction.

Little mischief is too much.

The Accumulation of Bond Interest. You may profit by it if you wish to do so, for if you own bonds, your bond interest at the end of each six months will assist you in making further purchases. Canadian Government and Municipal bonds, of the type we offer in our current list, provide the highest grade of security and at the same time afford substantial interest returns. We can offer these bonds in denominations of $100 to $1,000. Write for a copy of this list. Wood, Gundy & Co. Montreal 36 King St. West Toronto London, Eng.

Grandma Says: "Give the Children Plenty of Milk". She knows about children, Grandma does. She knows their little bodies need good nourishment. That is why she advises MILK. PRICE'S MILK comes in sterilized bottles and is sanitary. Phone your name to PRICE'S DAIRY and try the sanitary way. PRICE'S DAIRY

Electrical Supplies and Fixtures. CONTRACTING AND REPAIRING. Distributors for EDISON MAZDA LAMPS, APEX VACUUM CLEANERS, SUNNYSUDS ELECTRIC WASHER. Burke Electric Co. 74 PRINCESS STREET PHONE 433. Power weakeneth the wicked. None is patient but the wise.

FINE FOOTWEAR. ALL THE SMART SPRING STYLES. in Ladies' 1 or 2 Strap Pumps with high or low heels, in Black Kid or Brown Calf. Well made Ladies' Oxfords in good taste for all out-of-door occasions—just the type of Shoe for well-dressed women. Men's Tan Grain Brogue Oxfords. Men's Brown or Black Calf Oxfords. The Sawyer Shoe Store. Phone 159 184 Princess St.

BROTHERS PASS AWAY TOGETHER. Jesse Williams, aged seventy-eight (left), and Charles Williams, aged seventy-one (right), who died within a few hours of each other at Bowmanville, Ont., from apoplexy. Both were well-known exhibitors of Clydesdale horses.