THE CONCRETIA RELEASED

The Steamer Which Went Aground at Duck Island Practically Afloat.

The government steamer Concretia was brought to Kingston, in tow of the tug Frontenac, Wednesday night at 5 p.m., and is now moored below the La Salle Causeway, Capt. John Donnelly, of the Donnelly Salvage and Wrecking Company, stated that no estimate of the damage could be made as yet, but the vessel will probably enter the Collingwood Shipbuilding Company's drydock for repairs.

Capt. Donnelly's wrecking crew arrived at the scene of the stranded vessel, near the Duck Island, Wednesday morning, where it was found that the Concretia was practically afloat, owing to the high water. Little difficulty was experienced in moving the steamer, and it was soon taken in tow and brought safely to the city. The steamer is leaking slightly, but not to the extent that might be expected. It was fortunate that the wrecking crew arrived on the scene yesterday, in time to remove the vessel before the storm, as it would probably have been badly tossed around and badly damaged during the raging wind of Wednesday night.

Many of the C.S.L. steamers, which intended to leave yesterday for the head of the lakes, were held up owing to the heavy winds. Some of these are expected to get away today.

The steamer Mapleboro was floated from the drydock yesterday and cleared for Montreal this morning, via Cape Vincent, where coal will be taken on.

The steamer Maplehill was taken into the drydock this morning for minor repairs.

MUST NOT SPEAR FISH; NINE FISHERMEN CAUGHT Provincial Police Are Responsible For Round-Up on Wednesday.

According to the game laws, it is illegal to spear any kind of fish, yet there are many people apparently ignorant of this fact. Their ignorance has brought them into collision with the authorities, and on Wednesday, the provincial police summoned nine caught red-handed with spears, and a large number of fine pike, that had been speared in the marshes. It was a hard blow to fall after laboring in the cold and wet all day, and taking fisherman's luck, but the law must be upheld and hence the activities of the police.

Last week an order-in-council was passed at Toronto, permitting the use of dip nets for taking pike and suckers without license. Spearfishing has never been legal, and it is not likely to be made so, for the simple reason that the operator mutilates four or five fine fish for every one that he succeeds in taking. If spearfishing were permitted the fish would be speedily exterminated.

A COMEDY WITH MUSIC.

"The Rose of Washington Square," Much Enjoyed at Grand.

There was a revival of old times at the Grand Opera House last night when a real comedy with music was produced. "The Rose of Washington Square" was the attraction, and the large audience thoroughly enjoyed it. The settings are in North Carolina and Paris, and a fine vein of real comedy runs through the play. Arthur Blackaller, in the role of "Ensley Hickman", portrayed a character of an old mountaineer in a manner that won repeated applause. It was one of the finest pieces of character acting ever witnessed here. Elmer Coudy and Miss Billie Emerson produced some of the roughest kind of comedy but did it exceedingly well. Miss Helen Manning in the crusty character of "Mother Hickman" also played a strong part. The title role was in the hands of Jone O'Donnell, who has a charming appearance, and who displayed ability as a violinist as well as an actress. There was a striking female chorus, who not only displayed good voices but most of themselves. The chorus numbers were all well sung and the music was very tuneful.

Letters to the Editor

Re Lumber Prices and Wages.

Kingston, April 19.—(To the Editor): The letter of Mr. Anglin in your columns a few evenings ago was evidently intended to be an explanation of the high prices asked by lumber merchants in this city for building material. To me, and to many others I have talked with, it was "an explanation that did not explain." We are yet unable to see the justification for Kingston dealers asking $48 per M. for No. 1 pine and $14 per M for lath when one sees in the Toronto daily papers the same lumber advertised at $36 per M, a reduction of 25 per cent, and lath quoted at $3.50 and $4 per M, a difference of 75 per cent.

It is not surprising that there is little building of residences in Kingston. Owners of vacant lots are asking unreasonable prices. Bricklayers look for $1 per hour, and according to union rules are allowed to lay only a certain amount of bricks in a day.

With lumber at reasonable prices and tradesmen willing to do a fair days' work for four dollars there would be a boom in building. The more residences built the more taxpayers will there be to help bear a share of the taxes. When will the people realize that these things must come if Kingston is to grow.

Must Not Smoke. During the Belleville Council proceedings one of the city fathers was thoroughly enjoying his cigarette when Ald. Robinson arose from his chair and informed the mayor that the alderman in question was violating one of the rules of the council by smoking. Mayor Hanna stated that Ald. Robinson was right in his contention, as it was a violation of the rules to smoke during council proceedings. The alderman finished his smoke in the ante-room.
