What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

"Irene" Coming

The Vanderbilt Producing company's pretentious production of "Irene" the musical comedy by James Montgomery, with music by Harry Tierney and lyrics by Joseph McCarthy, which made such a furore in all the large centres of the universe last year, establishing records never before heard of in the annals of musical comedy, is again carrying every thing before it in all of the cities where it is presented this season. "Irene" is so entirely different from any musical attraction ever staged before, that it has a value so distinctive and separate from anything else in the musical comedy line, it is hard to describe. As Shakespeare said: "The play's the thing."

"The Old Nest"

"The Old Nest," a Reginald Barker production offered by Goldwyn, which comes to the Allen Theatre for three days, beginning today, is perhaps the richest picture in personalities that has been placed before the public in many a season. The story and the scenario were written by Rupert Hughes, the direction was handled by Reginald Barker, and the cast includes the following players: Mary Alden, Cullen Landis, Louise Lovely, Helene Chadwick, the famous "Edgar" children, Johnny Jones, Buddy Messenger and Lucille Rickson; Maurice B. ("Letty") Flynn, Molly Malone, Richard Tucker, Nick Cogley, Dwight Crittenden and several others. The size of the cast is explained by the fact that the story starts when the majority of the players are children.

At The Strand

A clean break-away from the conventional run of motion pictures is found in "The Right That Failed," the new Metro picture starring Bert Lytell, which opens at the Strand today. First published in the "Saturday Evening Post," the story is from the pen of J. P. Marquand, who has contrived to avoid the stereotyped style and present a set of characters new to the screen, with a humorous and fresh development that holds the audience in close grip. It is good, wholesome fun, with plenty of action and suspense. The leading woman in the cast is Virginia Valli, and other members are De Witt Jennings, Philo McCullough, Otis Harlan and Max Davidson. Competent critics declare that "The Right That Failed" is Bert Lytell's best picture since the "Right of Way." The Strand presents to-day one of the big figures of the comedy world—Larry Semon in "The Show," one of the most uproarious side-splitters that even he has produced. Those who visit the Strand to see Larry will have a merry time, and what is better than a merry time in springtime.

The Late Alexander Ross

The funeral of the late Alexander Ross took place from his late residence, 114 Ordinance street, to Caturagui cemetery Monday under the direction of S. S. Corbett, undertaker. Rev. W. S. Lennon officiated, assisted by Rev. W. Taylor Dale, and there was a large attendance of relatives and friends, among those present being his daughter, Mrs. Strowger, Buffalo, and his son, K. A. Ross, Calgary. The casket was banked with beautiful flowers bearing testimony to the affectionate regard in which the deceased was held. The pallbearers were W. J. Chapman, George A. Bateman, William Fleet and A. Ashley.

G.W.V.A. Euchre and Dance.

A very successful euchre and dance was held by the G.W.V.A. on Saturday night, with a good attendance for both events. There were twelve tables in play during the games, and the winners were announced as follows: Miss N. Milne and D. C. Hartman, with Miss Helen Bird and Driver Jackson receiving the consolation gifts. Refreshments were served before the dancing commenced, the music being furnished by McAuley's orchestra.

Will Chlorinate Water Supply.

In consideration of Smith's Falls undertaking to chlorinate its water supply to protect it as far as possible from contamination and to commence the construction of a filtration plant not later than May 1st, 1924, the department of Public Health of Ontario has agreed to suspend until May 1st, 1924, its order of April 4th, instructing the town to install a filtration plant immediately.

Cremated and Ashes Sent On.

William Allen, for many years a resident of Brockville, died at Balboa, the Pacific terminus of the Panama canal, where he had gone to live with his son. His remains were cremated and sent to Brockville for burial.

SPORTING NEWS

Y.M.C.A. Athletics.

The hare and hounds' paper chase, which was to be staged for the seniors and intermediates at the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday afternoon, was postponed until a later date. Interest now centres around the big events which will be pulled off next Saturday. The five-mile bicycle road race and the fancy dress parade are the features of the programme, and entries are already coming in. It is expected that a record entry list will be received. The prizes for the events will be on exhibition in Treadgold's sporting store during this week.

DR. HUNT REINSTATED?

Wolfe Island Player May Be Given Card by O.A.B.A.

The application of several former Toronto semi-pros., for reinstatement were favorably passed upon by the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association at a meeting in the board room of the Ontario Athletic Commission in Toronto. These names were sent to the Amateur Union marked O.K.: F. White, Angus Penneck, Kerr, Haas, Ashton, Morley, and George Hunt, of Toronto, and W. McMahon, of Brantford. Dr. E. V. Hunt, Wolfe Island, also applied, but his name was sent on without comment. He played pro. hockey several years ago and his application was endorsed by all the clubs in the vicinity.

If the application of Dr. Hunt goes through the Amateur Union and is passed upon favorably the Wolfe Island team will receive a valuable acquisition to its baseball forces for the Intercountry League this summer.

TO HOLD UNION SERVICES DURING JULY AND AUGUST

Sydenham Street Methodist and Chalmers' Presbyterian Are to Unite.

If the present plans are carried out, and it is most likely they will, the congregations of Sydenham Street Methodist and Chalmers' Presbyterian will unite for services during the months of July and August. Some time ago the session and board of trustees of Chalmers church made a suggestion to the trustee and quarterly boards of Sydenham Street Methodist church that the congregations unite during the two summer months. A committee of five officials of Chalmers church was appointed to work with a Methodist committee, providing the Methodists were favorable to such a scheme. When Rev. R. H. Bell, pastor of Sydenham Street church, brought the matter to the attention of his boards, the union idea was heartily approved, and a committee was appointed to co-operate with the Presbyterians. It is understood that the joint committee will have power to work out the details.

It will be arranged that the two congregations will worship in Sydenham Street church for one month and in Chalmers the other month. It is understood that Rev. Dr. Eber Crummy, a former pastor of Brock Street Methodist church, and who has held prominent charges since leaving Kingston, will be one of the special preachers.

OBITUARY

Late Mrs. W. Hamilton. Mrs. Mary Ann Hamilton, widow of the late William Hamilton, passed away at her residence, 147 Pine streets, on Saturday. She was a Roman Catholic in religion, and was seventy years of age. She is survived by three sons, Henry, Arnprior, Robert, Cornwall and Henry, Kingston; one daughter, Miss Dot, at home; one brother, Mr. Lennan, and two sisters, Miss Lennan and Mrs. Davis, all of Kingston. Another brother died in Chicago on Friday last.

Late Robert Hunter, Inverary. Robert Hunter, a life-long resident of Inverary, passed away suddenly on Saturday night. He had just entered the village store and sat down when he was seized with heart failure and expired. The late Mr. Hunter was seventy years of age and single. He is survived by one brother, Thompson Hunter, Inverary. The funeral took place Monday afternoon from his late residence to Sand Hill cemetery under the direction of James Reid, undertaker, Rev. Mr. Calvert officiating.

The Late Edward Billing. There passed away quite suddenly at his late residence, 112 Ordinance street on Friday night, one of Kingston's well known citizens in the person of Edward Billing. The late Mr. Billing was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, and was an Imperial army pensioner. The deceased served in the South African war, receiving the King's medal with two clasps and the Queen's medal with five clasps. He came to Canada in 1906, enlisting in the Ordnance branch of the Canadian army as armourer, attaining the rank of staff quarter-master sergeant. He was transferred from Toronto to the Kingston branch, and served faithfully and well in his capacity as armourer throughout the great war. Mr. Billing failed in health very fast during the past few months, and on retiring to bed at his usual hour Friday night, was suddenly stricken with apoplexy, and though medical assistance was rendered immediately, he quietly passed away at midnight.

Deceased was a gunsmith by trade, an Anglican in religion, attending St. George's cathedral and a member of the Independent Order of Foresters. Deceased is survived by his wife and seven children, Horace, Kent, England; Stella, Emily, Henrietta, Blackburn, Ottawa; Mabel, Ivy and Charles, Kingston.

The funeral takes place on Tuesday afternoon at St. George's cathedral, thence to Caturagui cemetery.

WAS IN POOR HEALTH.

Father Arthur Staley Had Only Retired Lately After Rest. Rev. Father Arthur J. Staley, parish priest of St. John's church at Weston and formerly of Kingston, is in St. Michael's hospital, Toronto, suffering from a fractured skull as the result of a collision between the coupe which he was driving and a Dundas street car at the intersection of Richie and Dundas streets.

Rev. Father Staley is in his 45th year and for several years he was assistant priest at St. Francis church, Grace street, Toronto, prior to taking up his charge at Weston. He has been in poor health for nearly a year and only a few weeks ago returned to his parish after an extended rest.

MAY USE COAL HOIST.

Napanee Would Be Divisional Point With Belleville Cut Out.

It is reported on good authority that the C.N.R. may put to use very soon the old coal hoist on the end of the long dock, Deseronto. As may not be well known, the railway company owns this hoist and have the right of way to it. The plans, it is said, are to have the boats bring the coal here and unload it in cars for distribution for railway uses. A C.N.R. surveyor was there recently and went over the situation and learned that the hoist could be made ready in a short time. Simultaneous with the above report came the news that the C.N.R. will make Napanee the divisional point and cut out Belleville and Brockville.

Bride and Groom "Showered." On Friday evening, April 21st, an enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irwin, 123 Montreal street, when about thirty-five young people gathered and presented Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie with a basket of useful gifts, which showed the high esteem in which the young couple are held. They wished the bride and groom happiness and prosperity and a long wedded life. Refreshments were served, and dancing and games were enjoyed.

INSPECTOR J. J. KELSO IS TO INVESTIGATE

The Charges Made Against the Kingston Children's Aid Society.

Inspector J. J. Kelso of the Children's Aid Society of Ontario is coming to Kingston at an early date to conduct an investigation into the charges preferred against the local organization.

This is the result of a recent meeting of the Kingston branch of the Children's Aid Society, held in the office of W. F. Nickle, M.P.P., who as member of the Ontario legislature, had been asked to look into the case while in Toronto. Some of the charges lodged are reported serious, and in view of the attitude of the local officials and members of society, an investigation is regarded as absolutely necessary. The local society is prepared to defend its actions.

Event at St. John's Pittsburg.

The Ladies' Aid of St. John's Presbyterian church, Pittsburg, held a successful tea and sale at the home of Mrs. David McClemon on the 18th inst. The fancy work table was looked after by Mrs. W. J. Gates as sales-lady. While Mrs. Dan McLean received the guests at the door.

Mrs. John McClemon was kept busy at the tea cream booth. The candy and home-made table was well patronized both afternoon and evening. A pretty quilt which was donated brought a goodly sum. Dainty refreshments were served by the ladies of the aid both afternoon and evening. A number of Kingston friends motored down and helped, among them being the Misses Ardell Elder and Regina McLean, who charmed the audience with their musical contributions.

The amount realized was over $50.
