CHEESE BOARD OPENING

The Frontenac Cheese Board opened for the season Thursday and there were 120 boxes of cheese offered. My 25 boxes sold at 14 cents, the highest price bid. These were secured by George Smith, Lanark, 75 boxes, and Elginburg 20, refused the bid.

Strong protest was made over the price by two salesmen, who declared that they were never used fairly last summer, and if it were found that the price this week paid at Brockville and Napanee was higher, they would sell at those boards for the remainder of the season. John Gibson said that the Kingston board was just as good as any other, and he was supported by R. M. Hamilton, who laid the blame on the salesmen for not selling their cheese on the board.

Joseph Garrah, president of the board, occupied the chair, and the buyers present were L. W. Murphy, J. Gibson, R. A. Hamilton and George Smith. William Fawcett directed attention to the new government regulations regarding the grading and inspection of cheese for export.

The president introduced Mr. Colquhoun, Quebec Agricultural College, who explained the activity of the government in conducting investigations into dairying, the manufacture of cheese, freight rates, insurance and marketing conditions, with a view to reaching accurate figures as to cost. Some forty different kinds of factories were investigated in four districts, Lanark, Prince Edward, Hastings, Stormont and Dundas. They desired to know which type of factory was giving the best results to the patrons.

The hearing of the Division court at the court house on Tuesday morning last. The action was brought by Louis Martin against L. C. Neilson. The sum involved was $9. When the case was called, Judge H. A. Lavell found that the plaintiff was unable to attend the hearing and the action was dismissed.

STORY OF POLICE COURT

Some Person Blundered and "Still Case" Did Not Come Off.

There is an old saying about there being many a slip between the cup and the lip. Something slipped in connection with a case set for hearing before Magistrate Farrell, on Thursday morning, and as a result there was no case.

The charge of "having a still" was preferred against a citizen of Kingston, by License Inspector McCammon, but the accused was conspicuous by his absence when Magistrate Farrell called the case, and as a result there was "nothing doing."

Magistrate Farrell stated that both a summons and a warrant had been issued in the case, and he was very much surprised to find that the warrant had not been executed. Provincial Constable Clark left the court room quite hurriedly to round up the victim.

The stage was all set for the "Doings" but through some person's blunder they did not come off. C. R. Webster, was on hand to conduct the prosecution but the "still case" was just as quiet as its name would imply.

NO RAINMAKER FOR SOUTHERN ALBERTA

Plenty of Moisture So Far This Year and Farmers Mean to Sow Smaller Acreage.

Lethbridge, Alta., April 27.—Southern Alberta is going to get along without its famous rainmaker this year. Present indications are that Hatfield would be superfluous. To date this month there has been 2.17 inches of precipitation at Lethbridge and the average holds good over the whole of the south-western part of the province.

Even in the territory where Hatfield endeavored to make the rain fall last summer, around Medicine Hat, there has been almost half as much moisture this month already as was produced under the tempting of the clouds by Rainmaker Hatfield during May, June and July last year.

Southern Alberta farmers, despite this fine outlook, are not going to take any chances. They will sow a smaller acreage than for years. They will stick to summer fallow and early spring plowing and make a real effort to farm right.

Even the possibility of $1.50 wheat as the result of the wheat war in the Chicago pit is not going to shake them from their determination to sow a smaller acreage and do it well.

Hatfield's $6,000 contract with the United Agricultural Society of Medicine Hat has been cancelled and the famous towers will not be erected this year.

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY

Accused Rounded Up. During Thursday forenoon, Provincial Constable Clark placed the accused under arrest and brought him to the police station, and the case will be proceeded with on Friday morning.

Charles H. Haystead, formerly in the theatrical business, has furnished the Toronto police with a new clue in the A. J. Small case.

The will case of McCammon vs. McCammon, of Gananoque, will be heard at the supreme court sessions in Brockville next week.

An interim injunction has been served on provincial officers, as a result of the sensational seizure of a shipment of liquor at the Belleville docks, last Saturday, whence it was consigned to Mexico City via Oswego, N.Y.

About twenty-five students attending the school of science at Queen's University have been placed in positions in mines in the northern part of the province. The local office of the Ontario Labor Bureau placed the students.

The gang of forty men, who have been working on the new sewer on Dundas street for the past two weeks, was changed on Thursday morning. There are so many who want work that it has been found necessary to work the men in shifts.

POKER CASE BEFORE THE DIVISION COURT

The Plaintiff Was Not Present and Judge Lavell Dismissed Action. A rather peculiar case was slated for the hearing of the Division court at the court house on Tuesday morning last. The action was brought by Louis Martin against L. C. Neilson.

The sum involved was $9. When the case was called, Judge H. A. Lavell found that the plaintiff was unable to attend the hearing and the action was dismissed. The trouble arose over two unpaid cheques payable to one Spencer. Martin was the third party in the case, and it is understood that the cheques had been turned over to him by Spencer.

The defendant disputed the claim on the grounds that the two cheques were given in payment for stacks of chips in a poker game, and also that when he gave the cheques he was under the influence of liquor.

A short meeting of the officers will take place in the mess rooms immediately after parade.

The companies will form up on their private parades and move to their place in the mass as detailed and carried out on the battalion parade, Friday, 21st.

The baseball match between "A" Company and "The Drums" takes place at the conclusion of this parade.

To Teach Boys to Swim. The Y.M.C.A. authorities are now making plans by which every school-boy in Kingston will be given instruction in the art of swimming, the campaign being staged during the last week in May.

BUSHELL IS WORKING FOR KINGSTON FAIR

He Expects to Secure Special Railway Rates For the Big Event.

Robert J. Bushell, secretary-treasurer and manager of the Kingston fair, announces that the date set for the big event this year is September 19th to the 23rd, inclusive. He is making arrangements for the attractions and prize lists and planning for a bigger and better fair than ever.

He has the co-operation of the Retail Merchants' Association and the Board of Trade, and a strong drive will be made to keep the fair as Kingston's great attraction before the public from the present time on, so that people in the surrounding districts may plan to come to Kingston at that time. The steady improvement of the highways and county roads make the drive by automobile to Kingston a real pleasure trip, and Mr. Bushell expects by that time to secure special railway rates during the fair.

breeders of live stock, dairy cattle, horses, sheep, goats and poultry are already looking to their stock, while those intending to enter the field crop competition are setting aside the best acres for prize production. Mr. Bushell is in daily receipt of communications asking for information about the fair, and he is making it the chief object of his attention.

AQUATIC SPORTS ON JULY 1ST. First Regatta To Be Pulled Off in Twenty-Three Years. The officials of the Brockville Rowing Club are making every effort to furnish aquatic fans with one of the greatest programmes of sweep and sculling races ever pulled off on the St. Lawrence course, opposite the club house, on the morning and evening of Saturday, July 1st, Dominion day.

Not since 1899 has an inter-club regatta been held on the course and this Dominion Day, when the annual regatta of the Eastern Rowing Association will be held there, lovers of aquatic sport will have every opportunity to see the pick of Lachine, Ottawa, Brockville and possibly Toronto crews in action for the handsome trophies hung up by the Eastern Association. The local oarsmen anticipate taking a prominent part in every event and it will not be through lack of work and enthusiasm if some of the splendid challenge cups do not remain in Brockville for the year.
