Cakes for Your Wedding. Requests have come tumbling in for Wedding Cake and Bride's Cake recipes! It looks as though Cupid had been very busy this year. You will find the following reliable:

Wedding Cake: Cream one pound of butter and work one pound of brown sugar into it gradually. Then stir 4 squares of melted chocolate into the mixture and beat well. Separate the yolks from the whites of one dozen eggs, beating the yolks till lemon-colored. Add the beaten whites to the butter-sugar-and-chocolate mixture and stir in also one pound of flour which you have sifted with the following ground spices: 5 teaspoons of cinnamon, 3 teaspoons of allspice, 2 teaspoons mace, and 3 teaspoons of nutmeg. Now add 2 pounds of Sultana raisins dredged with a very little flour (seed the raisins, and cut in pieces before dredging), 3 pounds of the small seeded raisins whole, and also dredged with a little flour, 2 pounds of citron sliced thinly and cut in strips, 1 pound of dried currants, 1-4 pound candied orange rind, 1-4 pound grape jelly (or 1 cup of grape juice), the 12 egg-whites beaten stiff and 1 tablespoon of hot water in which you have dissolved 1-4 teaspoon of soda. Put into two pans, cover each pan with buttered paper, and let steam in your steamer for four hours. Finish cooking by leaving in a warm oven overnight. Frost it or not, as desired. Make this several weeks in advance of the wedding.

Bride's Cake: Cream two-thirds of a cup of butter and work into it gradually one and one-third cups of flour which you have sifted with one-half teaspoons of lemon juice and to which you have added one and one-fourth cups of powdered sugar. Fold in two-thirds of a cup more of flour, stir into the batter a thimble, a ring, a coin and a button, and turn into two loaf-cake pans, one a little larger than the other. Bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven, then put the two cakes together like a layer cake—with white frosting between them, the smaller cake on top of the larger. Ice with plain frosting, then decorate with the following:

Ornamental Icing: Put 2 egg-whites into a large bowl and stir in, gradually, 2 tablespoons of confectioners' sugar; beat vigorously for two minutes, then add a little more confectioners' sugar in the same gradual way—until you have added a full cup of confectioners' sugar. A wire whisk is a good thing to beat with, or a perforated wooden spoon. Add 2 teaspoons of lemon juice a few drops at a time, then add as much more confectioners' sugar as is necessary to make a frosting stiff enough to hold its shape when a little is turned out onto a plate. Pipe this through a pastry-bag onto the cake in any design desired. (The bride's and groom's initials make a pretty decoration, with a circle around them.)

To make a White Fruit Cake out of the Bride's Cake recipe given above, simply add to the batter, before baking, a cupful of the following fruit mixed: candied orange and lemon peel; Sultana raisins stoned and chopped, also small seedless raisins, dredged lightly in a little flour.

Tomorrow—Things that Perplex Us in Housecleaning. All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question—The Editor.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE By Genevieve Kemble

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3rd. This day is forecast as unsuccessful according to the science of the stars. It may be particularly notable for the relief of crystallized conditions which have long stood in the way of progress. The improvement in affairs should be permanent and substantial, whether as applied to business or to employment, and those in the employment of others are promised recognition for industry and application. In domestic, social and affectional matters there is also a presage of thriving and happy conditions.

Those whose birthday it is have the assurance of a successful and happy year, with prosperous and pleasant conditions in most interests. The progress made promises to be substantial and permanent. Those in the employment of others may expect recognition for steady and worthy effort. A child born on this day will be steady, persevering and industrious and should succeed by these endowments. It should also be affectionate, popular and accomplished.

What the Editor Hears

That the country is the place to live in this wonderful time of year where the fruit trees are budding, the gardens to show signs of life and the woods are showing a faint touch of green on the distant hills.

That an experienced housekeeper tells us a hot solution of alum water will drive out moths from drawers and cupboards.

That the cretonnes and curtains seen in the Kingston shops are most inviting to the women who are moving into a new house or fitting up an old one for the year.

That a vestee of brocade is a smart touch to your spring costume.

That many of the Kingston bridge clubs have discontinued their meetings for the season.

That the girl students from Queen's University will fill a variety of positions during the long vacation. Some of them will be in charge of districts in the mission fields of the west, others will teach school in the backward places of northern Ontario or on the prairies, where their pupils will be almost entirely the foreigners we are making into Canadians.

Practical Pointers. Good cooks demand sharp knives. Sliced cold potatoes can be warmed over in milk. Paint shoe soles with varnish to prevent them wearing out. Soap should always be dissolved before using in a washing machine. Needles and pins will never rust in a cushion filled with coffee grounds. Keep several clean cheesecloth squares on hand in the kitchen for covering food. A little piece of sandpaper run through the meat chopper will sharpen the knives. Oil paintings can be cleaned without injury, with a soft cloth and boiled linseed oil.

Punch, as the name of a beverage, is derived from the Hindu word "panch," meaning five, there being originally five essential ingredients in the mixture. There have been over one thousand and different varieties of potatoes, but only a few of these are worth cultivating.

Why Be "Skinny"

When It's so EASY to Build Flesh this New Way

Do you need more flesh? Are you pale, lacking in energy—or is your complexion blemished by hummocking pimples, blackheads, or boils? If so, simply go to your druggist and get a package of IRONIZED YEAST tablets. Take these remarkably effective tablets—two with each meal. Then watch the results! Very likely you will be actually astonished at the improvement shown in you even after the first 48 hours. For IRONIZED YEAST embodies a remarkable new scientific process—a process which enables yeast to bring its splendid results when in just half the usual time.

The New Process

While yeast alone is good, tests show that it needs some other agent in order to quickly convert its wonderful health-building elements into firm tissue, my choice and sparkling vitality.

Everyone knows that iron is of great value in converting our food into living cells and tissue. So working on this problem, our scientists finally discovered the wonderful process of ironization—the process through which the combination of yeast and iron becomes 100% efficient.

Do not think, however, that any combination of yeast and iron will do it. Yeast brings the best and quickest results only when it is treated through the scientific process of ironization. And this process is embodied only in IRONIZED YEAST, the one scientific (and safe) yeast product.

TO-DAY'S FASHION

By Vera Winston.

This Closely-Beaded Yellow Dress Frock is Girdled in Orange and Green.

The vogue for beaded dresses finds many ways of expression, and one of the most charming for evening wear is the frock or "robe," so closely beaded that the material itself is entirely covered.

The graceful frock above is thickly beaded in yellow, which shades into orange about the corsage and hemline. The corsage, itself, is low-cut in front and sloped to the waistline in the back. The orange border which outlines the bodice extends across the back of the neck in harness fashion.

The irregularity of the pointed hemline is also accentuated by orange beading, while the green-and-orange two-tone ribbon girdle ties at the side.

Press Club's New President. Miss Charlotte M. Storey, formerly of Brockville, the new president of the Toronto Women's Press Club, whose portrait we reproduce today, whose portrait we reproduce today, says, as a child, she wanted to be a typist or an author. Her family failed to see the typist idea with her eyes, and so she did not manage to wander off with any of the picturesque bands that are to be found in Leeds, the county of her birth.

But when she came to Toronto she began the realization of the more conventional ambition and went on the staff of the "Canadian Courier," as one of its advertising writers, branching out into short stories by way of a tale of girl skaters on the St. Lawrence, near Gananoque, some custom officials and a dashing young smuggler who was so charming she couldn't allow him to be caught.

Later joining the staff of a publishing company she wrote industrial articles on fashions and philosophy in clothes. Miss Storey was the founder of the Canadian Women De-
