What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

'House of Thousand Candles.' The House of a Thousand Candles is the offering at the Grand Opera House the last three days of this week by the famous Rex Stock Company. On a certain street corner in 'L' O'le New York' a few years ago when this famous mystery play was in its hey day, and Englishman stood and after gazing at the billboard displays and absorbing all the alluring ads, remarked "Great Scott—what a frightful lot of candles!"

At the Allen To-day. A delightful Goldwyn comedy from the pen of Mary Roberts Rinehart, "The Glorious Fool," will be presented at the Allen Theatre to-day. The story takes place in a hospital, with the heroine a sympathetic probationer and the hero a private patient who insists upon marrying his nurse and leaving all his wealth to her. But he doesn't die. Upon his recovery, he assigns himself the arduous task of wooing his wife. Given Richard Dix as the man who does the wooing and Helene Chadwick as the girl who is the wooed, one may expect a delightful comedy.

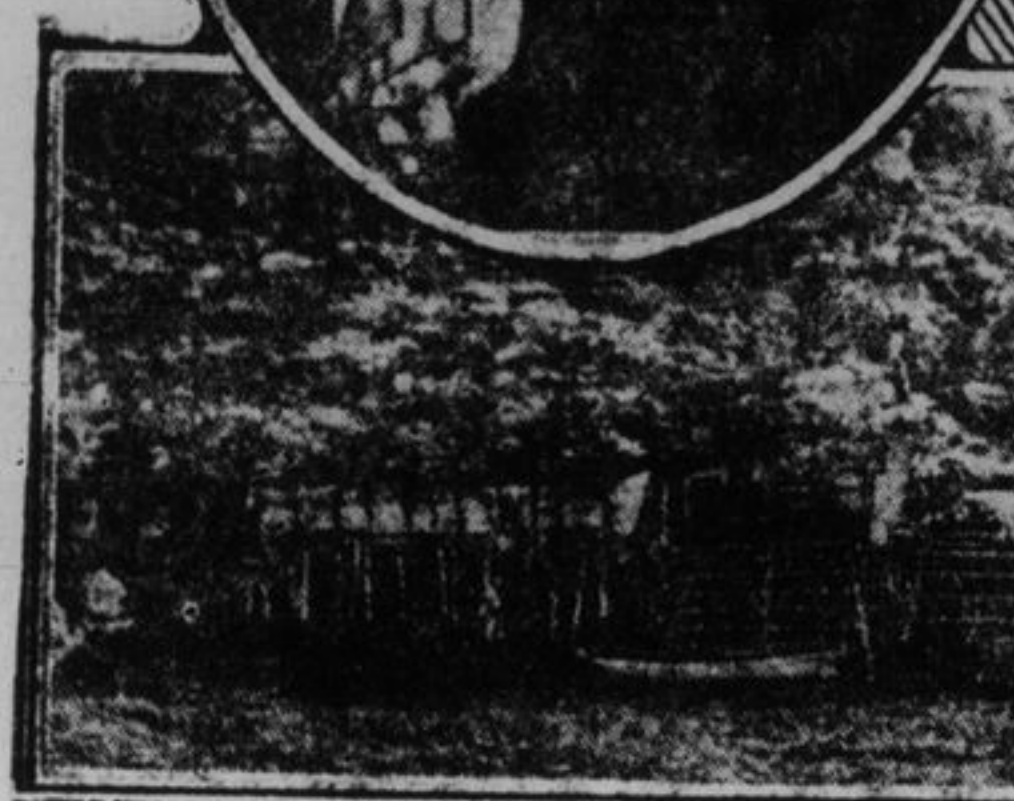

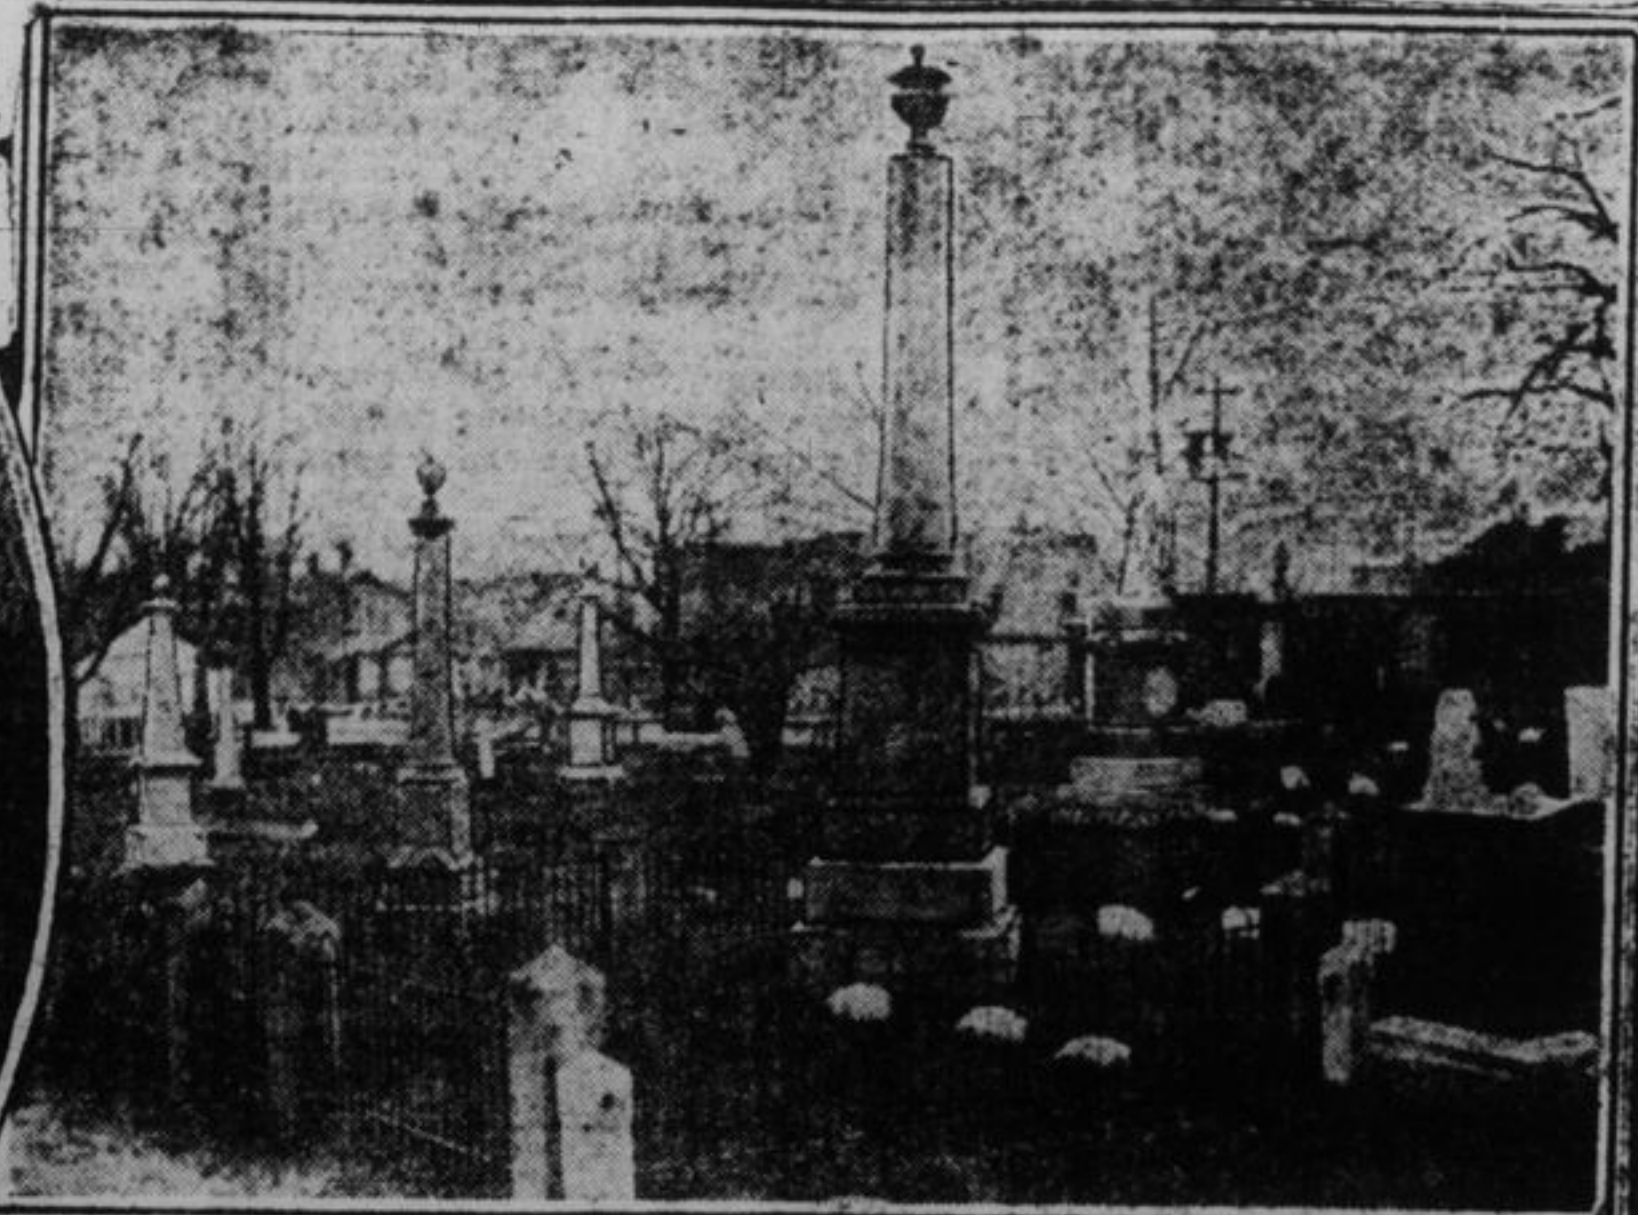

At the Strand. A mystery photoplay that is really a mystery until almost the very end was revealed last night at the Strand theatre where "Find the Woman" began a run of three days. In this Cosmopolitan-Paramount picture featuring Alma Rubens there is presented the most engrossing murder story ever filmed. If you go in for thrills, adventure and tense situations you will have a feast in this picture, which was splendidly directed by Tom Terriss. Charlie Chaplin in "Pay Day" was also shown for the first time in Kingston. The predominance of Charlie in the estimation of the theatre-going public was again demonstrated by the many enquiries by phone and the early comers at the performance.

Bath News Budget. Bath, May 1.—Mr. and Mrs. James Stevenson and daughter, Gananogue, were recent visitors at Robert Stevenson's. Mrs. James Stevenson, Sr., is visiting her son, Robert Stevenson. Mrs. J. M. Wemp and Harry Hogle have returned home from Chicago, Ill., where they spent the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thougall have moved into the house which they recently purchased from Amos Barriear. Mrs. Charles Rose, Toronto, is spending a few days at John Forester's. Jack Roberts has opened a garage in the Burley property on Main street. Mrs. Ira Babcock has returned from a visit with friends at Belleville. Mrs. Archibald Caton, Napanee, and Mr. and Mrs. Caton, Kingston, were recent guests at William Rose's.

In the county police court Monday, Robert Stevenson pleaded guilty to a charge of slaying his wife, Lucy Stevenson, on Saturday afternoon last at their home near Ravenshoe, York county. County Crown Attorney Murray requested a week's remand, which was granted. John McCormack, famous Irish tenor, left New York on Tuesday, with his wife and family, on the Aquitania, for a rest and a visit to his home in Athlone, Ireland.

FIFTEEN BOILS ON NECK AT ONE TIME

Any one who has suffered from boils can sympathize with poor old Job. There was no Burdock Blood Bitters in those days, so Job had to suffer in silence. Now-a-days no one need endure the misery of boils. Boils are simply evidences of the bad blood within coming to the surface and just when you get rid of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the politicking and lancing you may do will not stop more coming. What you have to do is take BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS and the blood will be cleansed of all its impurities, and then every boil will disappear. Mr. Roy McSwain, High Bank, P. E. I., writes: "I was troubled with boils for some time, and had as many as fifteen on my neck at once. After taking one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters they commenced to get better, and after I had taken two bottles I was relieved of them and felt much better. I think B. B. B. is a grand blood medicine, and can recommend it highly." For the past 45 years B. B. B. has been manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GANANOQUE

May 2.—Considerable confusion occurred on Monday morning on account of the mayor's decision to hold over "daylight saving" until after council meeting on Tuesday evening. Several factories and some of the merchants opened their places of business on fast time, while others kept to the standard time. Last night in the basement of Grace church, an illustrated lecture was given by Mr. Neff, of Athens, under the auspices of the Horticultural Society. W. Robinson returned to Kingston to-day after spending the week-end with his mother, Mrs. W. Robinson, King street east. Alexander Burch, Charles street, was operated on for appendicitis to-day in the Kingston General Hospital. Wesley Stoliker has moved back to his farm at Maple Grove. C. Street has moved into his new home on Georgia street recently purchased from Freeman Moore. Mrs. Herbert Hampton, Charles street, spent the day in Lyndhurst. Mr. Smith, Kingston, is visiting his son, Harry Smith, King street. Mrs. Bailey, Alexandria Bay, is visiting her mother, Mrs. De Wolfe, Sydenham street. Mrs. Richard Cliffe spent the day with friends in Kingston. Prof. Brovedant, Queen's University, left to-day for New York. He will be sailing for Lisbon next Friday. Our reputation is what people say of us—our character is what we are. He who has not loved one cannot love mankind.

SPORTING NEWS

At a meeting of the sub-committee appointed by the Kingston curling club to take up the matter of building a new rink, it was decided to advertise for a suitable site for the building. The committee has a number of available sites in view. When we are content with ourselves we are content with our neighbors.

The snows of six winters have fallen upon the grave of Norman Duncan, "The Dickens of Canada," whose jubilee was celebrated by the Canadian Literature Club Friday evening. At the left, above is a photograph of Dr. Duncan taken shortly before his death in 1916. At the right is shown the family plot in Greenwood cemetery, Brantford, where Dr. Duncan lies buried with his parents and grand-parents. The head-stone directly in front of the monument, in the picture marks his grave. Below are shown "Action Villa" on Darling street, Brantford. One of these two houses on the right-hand was the boyhood home of Norman Duncan.

Wants Action Taken For Better Highways

Brockville, May 2.—The taking of action in an effort to secure better highways surrounding Brockville, and particularly between here and Gananogue, was advocated before the Rotary Club yesterday by James Arnold, who suggested that the local member be approached in the matter. Mr. Arnold pointed out that the Department of Public Highways was this year carrying on only a small amount of work between here and Gananogue, and that this stretch was now the only poor one between Ottawa and Toronto on the provincial system.

Plunge Over Embankment With Cycle and Sidecar

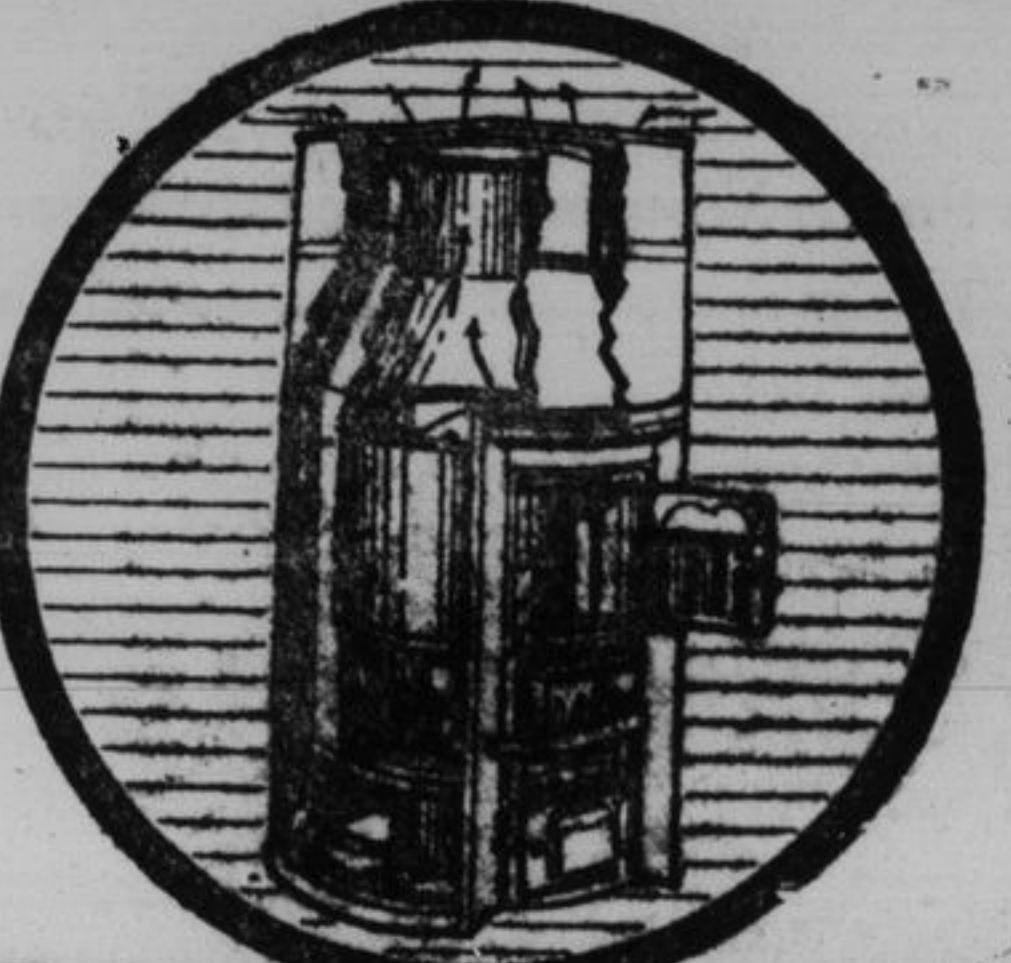

Cobalt, May 2.—Joseph Fleming of Mileage, 104, and his son, Harold, had a narrow escape last evening when they were riding fell over the embankment which divides Lang street from the T. & N.O. station property. The boy, who was driving, apparently lost control of the machine. His father is in the mines hospital and injured but yet fully determined, although his condition is improved since last night, and the boy is believed to have escaped with minor wounds.

Wheat Promises Well In British Empire

Washington, May 2.—Favorable outlook for the wheat crop in the British Empire as a whole is indicated in latest United States department of agriculture reports on world crop prospects. Winter wheat countries, including Canada and British India, are slightly higher, or one and three-tenths per cent., than last year. Reports on wheat are favorable from Australia and British India. The department expects fair, complete data this month on condition of Canadian grains. From the West Indies. Pine Apples 15c to 50c each, $1.50 to $5.00 per dozen at Carnovsky's.

BANNER PIPELESS FURNACES

Less Coal Gives Greater Warmth. It has more than fulfilled our expectations. We have had a comfortably heated house throughout, and besides we burned less coal. This extract from a letter signed, "K. J. MacDonald, Minister First Church," refers to the Banner Pipeless Furnace in the First Presbyterian Church Manse, Galt—a large exposed building. Such testimony proves beyond all question that Banner Pipeless Furnaces do all we claim. Let us tell you all about the Banner Pipeless Heating System. Write to-day for booklet "Winter Comfort for Your Home". The Galt Stove and Furnace Company, Ltd., Galt, Ont.

TOOL - CRAFT BY FRANK I. SOLAR

AND HERE'S HOW YOU MAKE IT. As a usual thing a tripod is not included in the outfit of the amateur photographer, for it is seldom considered advisable to invest the sum necessary to purchase a tripod when you are just learning photography as a hobby. But at very little expense and with no great effort a good tripod may be made at home. The wood used in the making of the tripod should be well-seasoned to prevent warping. A hard stock is best. Each leg of the tripod is made of three strips, each one three-quarters of an inch wide and one-half inch thick. The center one of the three strips slides between the two outside strips and has a large head or finishing nail driven into the end that rests on the ground. The head of the nail or head should be filed off to a point. This center piece is made shorter than the two outside pieces so that when the tripod is folded up the head will be drawn up between the outside strips. This may prevent the accidental ripping of one's clothes or the prodding of a companion. The circular top of the tripod is fastened to the legs with triangular pieces of metal soldered at the corners to keep them in shape. The making of these three pieces will be clearly understood after you have carefully studied the diagram for part B in the drawing. The metal used for these angles is heavy sheet copper. Long stove bolts are to be placed through the metal plates and legs of the tripod. For the three adjustments (C, in the diagram) common stove bolts and nuts are used, with wings of copper soldered in the screw-drive slots to tighten the adjustments. An ordinary soldering iron should be used for the solder work. Muriatic acid and zinc, or a soldering paste will do for a flux. Before the acid is applied to the surfaces to be soldered, those parts should be well scraped and sandedpaper to remove all grease and oily substances. The nuts of the bolts are soldered to the copper plates to keep them in place when the bolts are turned up. A quarter-inch stove bolt, or any other bolt of a size that will fit the camera, is used for fastening the camera to the top of the tripod. The making of this bolt is fully described in A of the diagram and the descriptive matter that accompanies it. Copyright, 1922, Associated Editors
