DOCTOR HERE FROM CHINA

Tells About Chinese Civil War—Two Christian Generals Fight Bandit.

An interesting sketch of the civil war situation in China was given to a Whig representative on Wednesday evening by Dr. J. L. Keeler, who has spent twenty years in North China, and who is now visiting in this city. The doctor remarked that the Christians in China, were hoping that the two Christian generals, Wu Pei Fu and Feng Yu Hsiang, would eventually win out over the former bandit leader, Chang Tso-Lin, or Jong Chang, as he is familiarly known, and his accomplice, Sun Wat Sen. The two former leaders have the mass of the people behind them, as they are fighting for a democratic government, while the other two are seeking a constitutional and autocratic system.

Dr. Keeler, whose former home was near Battersea, is a well-known medical missionary, and is a graduate of New York university. He returned from China last summer, and with Mrs. Keeler, has been visiting old friends in the vicinity. He is a cousin of Dr. W. W. Sands, Kingston. The doctor stated that his family have always been readers of the Whig since he could remember. Dr. and Mrs. Keeler left Thursday morning for New York City, from which city they will sail again for China in August.

THE CASE AGAINST MRS. STILLMAN CLOSED

Testimony Taken in Montreal Is Accepted at Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., May 4.—Counsel for James A. Stillman, New York banker, yesterday finally rested his case to divorce Mrs. Anne U. Stillman and disown baby Guy Stillman. The fight against Mrs. Stillman and her baby, alleged by the banker to be the son of Fred Beauvais, Indian guide, was closed after two more love letters alleged to have been penned by Mrs. Stillman to the guide had been accepted in evidence. Earlier in the day an Indian, Pete Delisle, resident of a reservation near Montreal, testified that an application to have Mrs. Stillman and Beauvais accepted into the tribe had been made, but that both were refused.

With the exception of a few lines, all of the 350 pages of testimony adduced in Montreal at the recent hearing before Commissioner Godin were accepted today by Referee Gleason. The part stricken out referred to a conversation with a witness, and it was eliminated because the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court did not permit the defence to call him in Montreal for further cross-examination.

Next Wednesday hearings will be resumed here. The defence will cross-examine a witness and may call some of its remaining witnesses before closing the case.

The letters introduced were reported laden with endearing terms and complaints against the way Mr. Stillman was acting. They were undressed and there was said to be no evidence that they ever had been mailed.

"I don't know what's the matter with Mr. Stillman," one is supposed to have read. "He wants me to do this and do that, nags at me to save money and says I ought to go on up in the Canadian woods with you."

The letter, ending in the words "lots of Canadian love," was signed "Kathitho," an Indian word said to mean "dear flower."

The letters were introduced after Mrs. Stillman's handwriting had been identified by Miss Harriet Hibbard, formerly a servant at the Stillman estate at the Ponantico Hills. They were introduced as having been written during the summer of 1919.

SAVED $3,000 NEST EGG.

Laborer Dived Half-Naked Into Blazing Henhouse.

New York, May 4.—Vladek Alowcha, forty-five years old, an employee of the Standard Oil Company at Elizabeth, N.J., saw fire pouring from windows of a tenement house nearby, at 710 McKinley street. Several thousand spectators had gathered and police reserves were endeavoring to establish fire lines.

Alowcha dashed to the street, fought his way through fifty patrolmen who sought to restrain him, left his coat in the hands of one and his shirt in possession of another, and was naked from the waist up when he reached a henhouse in the rear of the tenement, with a half dozen patrolmen at his heels. The fugitive dived into the henhouse, reached into an egg box and drew forth $3,000 in bills.

"You'll have to give up some of that when the magistrate fines you for resisting officers," remarked one of the detectives.

"Fair enough," said Alowcha, with a grin. "If I'd stopped to explain I couldn't have paid the fine."

The henhouse was in flames when Alowcha emerged. He explained that he had been using it as a bank for more than twelve months, adding that burglars seldom robbed henhouses.

U.S. Going to the Bad.

New York, May 4.—Reviewing the effect of United States emergency tariff on trade between Canada and United States, the Herald says: "It is strikingly clear that under the emergency tariff we have been going to the bad in our sales to Canada faster than Canada has been going to the bad in her sales to the United States."
