

CHIEF DESKAHEH AND SOME OF THE PRINCIPALS OF THE SIX NATIONS INDIAN DISPUTE.

LORD LEE REPROVES BRITISH DOMINIONS

For Their Naval Apathy—British Tapsy: or Again Foots Bill.

London, May 11.—Right Hon. Lord Lee, First Lord of the Admiralty, who was one of the delegates at the recent Washington conference, when addressing the Colonial Institute, London, yesterday on the subject of the Washington conference, expressed regret at the lack of interest shown in the dominions on the question of navy construction.

Referring to the effect of the naval treaty, Lord Lee thought insufficient credit had been given Great Britain for the abandonment of her imperial traditions in the adoption of the one-power standard of naval strength.

Lord Lee pointed out that the Imperial conference, after a full, prolonged and intimate discussion of the naval needs of the Empire, had agreed that the maintenance of an Empire navy was the common concern of the whole Empire, and that the extent and form in which the burden should be shared should be left until after the Washington conference.

But, although the results of the Washington conference were now known Great Britain had no word of comfort or offer of help from the sister nations.

shrinking. That was a tendency which he could only describe as exceedingly disappointing and discouraging to participants at the Imperial conference.

Taxpayers' Burden.

The results of this attitude on the part of the dominions, continued Lord Lee, was that the Royal Navy was being compelled to shoulder the entire responsibility of the protection of the commerce and liberties of the Empire.

It was not for him to question either the action or the inaction of the free and responsible governments of the Empire over which Great Britain had no control, but he would not be dealing fairly with his fellow citizens of the Empire if he attempted to conceal his disappointment that last year's expectations should be wearing such a discouraging aspect.

WOMEN IN SURGERY.

Splendidly Fitted by Fingers; Handicapped Otherwise.

Paris, May 11.—Madame Brian Garfield, surgical interne of the Hospital de Charite and the wife of an American engineer resident in Paris, has started her eminent gray-bearded conferees by declaring that the same hereditary qualities that make women good seamstresses should make them good surgeons.

Surgery Mme. Brian Garfield declares, depends to a large extent on delicacy and fineness of the fingers. A woman's manual dexterity was demonstrated by her hereditary aptness with needle and scissors.

Despite the natural advantage women possess in surgery, however, Mme. Brian Garfield admits that they Underneath is County Constable Fred Kerr, of Brantford, whom the Indians swear to kill if he ventures on the Tuscarora reserve again. Underneath are the Vyse family, who figured in a battle with the police. On the left is Gordon Vyse, whom the police tried to evict from a farm where he was placed by the Six Nations Council. have grave handicaps. First certain operations, such as amputation, are physically trying on a woman. The strain of controlling nerves and emotions is also trying on a woman's health. Then the demand of surgical work conflicts with a woman's home life.

"I know that the practice of my profession makes me give up my normal feminine existence," Mme. Brian Garfield declared. "It is absolutely incompatible with the bearing and rearing of children."

Because of these handicaps Mme. Garfield warns women not to enter the medical profession unless they are led by a passionate love of this work.

Locomotive's Low Rank.

Rated according to their efficiency, the locomotive stands at the bottom with an average efficiency of 6 per cent, followed by the compound non-condensing engine, 10 per cent; the compound condensing engine, including boiler, 13 per cent, and the Parsons turbine, including the boiler 17 per cent. When we come to the internal combustion engine there is a decided jump. The automobile motor is credited with 23 per cent, the airplane motor with 27 per cent, the coal gas stationary engine with 30 per cent, and the average Diesel engine with 34 per cent. On reaching that modern development in which the internal combustion and the steam engine are combined, we get for the Still engine an efficiency (actually obtained) of 41 per cent, and Doctor Dawson sets down the probable future efficiency of the Still-Diesel combination at 44.5 per cent.

Cost of Marriage in Austria.

The high cost of marriage is causing general discontent in Austria, according to a Vienna newspaper received in New York. The cost of marriage now is 240,000 crowns for the bride alone. This is equivalent to about $6,000, counting the crown as worth 24 cents. This amount would buy 32,000 crowns worth of dresses, linen 44,000 crowns and furniture 164,000 crowns. In Austria it is customary for the bride to furnish the house as well as provide her trousseau.

London Road to Last a Century.

A system of road-making which is described as likely to last 100 years, has been adopted by Marybone borough council in repaving a portion of Oxford street, London. The old foundations have been cleared and concrete to a depth of about eighteen inches is being put down. On this wooden blocks with one coating of creosote and two of tar are being fitted.

Ovaltine Hastens your return to Health and Strength

Convalescence is always tedious. Depleted strength and vitality must be restored—not by drugs and stimulants which act only superficially, but by nourishment. Yet an invalid's fastidious appetite and weakened digestion prohibit much food and retard the return of health. In such cases "Ovaltine" is invaluable.

OVALTINE TONIC FOOD BEVERAGE

"Ovaltine," a delicious beverage that tempts the appetite, is a concentrated food, providing all the vital body-building elements. One cup contains more nourishment than 3 eggs, 7 cups of cocoa or 12 cups of beef extract. "Ovaltine" is made from ripe barley malt, creamy milk, fresh eggs and cocoa.

Old-Fashioned Rhubarb Fritters.

This is a recipe that comes down from Colonial days. Mix together three cups of flour, two table-spoonfuls of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt and three table-spoonfuls of baking powder. Beat two eggs lightly, add half a cupful of milk and stir into the dry ingredients. Add also one cupful and a half of young rhubarb, very finely chopped, two table-spoonfuls of melted butter, half a teaspoonful of ground cinnamon and three table-spoonfuls of sugar. Fry as for griddle cakes on a hot greased griddle and serve with butter and grated maple sugar.

His Next Door Neighbor.

Rev. Mr. Sanderson, Merrickville, is to have as his next-door neighbor C. C. Gilbert, a Queen's theological student who is there for the summer to minister unto the spiritual wants of the Presbyterians. Mrs. Gilbert, who is a gifted vocalist, will be there also. They will occupy the residence lately purchased by W. H. Hunt, Kemptonville, from the Watts estate.

Seeley's Bay Orangemen.

Seeley's Bay, May 10.—The Orangemen of this place and vicinity held a church parade to the Standard church Sunday last at 2:30 p.m. their being over one hundred in the procession. The church was packed to its utmost capacity. An impressive and instructive sermon was given by the pastor, Rev. G. Harner, which was listened to very attentively by all present.

"My Back Aches" BOTH liver and kidney troubles are usually first detected by backache. When the liver is to blame you have pains under the shoulder blades and down towards the right side. When the kidneys are deranged the pains settle in the small of the back. In either case you can obtain relief promptly by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The liver and kidneys work hand-in-hand in eliminating poisons from the blood. Neither one can be greatly deranged without the other being affected. Because they correct the action of both these great filtering organs, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills afford relief in complicated derangements which ordinary medicines do not seem to touch. Mrs. Alex Gordon, Walkerton, Ont., writes: "A few years ago I suffered from kidney and liver trouble, with pains in my back. I had heard of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills being good for this, so I commenced taking them. I had only taken a couple of boxes when the trouble was all removed." Few medicines have ever attained to such universal use as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This is because they afford prompt relief from the most common ills of humanity—backache, constipation, indigestion, liver and kidney derangements. One pill a dose, 25c a box, all dealers.
