SAYS REWARD EQUALS A MILLIONAIRE'S PAY

Rev. John Webster Reviews His Half Century in the Methodist Ministry.

The Ottawa Citizen had the following report regarding the Rev. John Webster, a former pastor of Brock street Methodist church, this city, and widely known in the Kingston district:

"No millionaire has got better pay than I," declared Rev. John Webster, pastor of Wesley church, Ottawa East, Sunday night, in the course of his sermon which, by request, had been made largely of a reminiscence character in celebration of his fifty years as a minister of the gospel. Rev. Mr. Webster said that it was 52 years since he conducted his first service as an exhorter.

It was under the preaching of the late David Winter, whose daughter was in the congregation last evening, that he decided to offer himself for service in China, if necessary. His brother, who took his business appointment which he left to go into the ministry, made from $1,400 to $1,800 a year for ten years, while Rev. Mr. Webster said he himself got a salary of $140 a year and board. The charge he was serving at the time found itself with $11 surplus at the end of the year, which was added to his remuneration, he said.

For years he received only something over $400 a year salary, yet, he declared, "I never lacked a cent since God and I entered into covenant."

Mr. Webster said he had preached to some 400 congregations. He had preached in country charges, in cities and towns. His charges had been as far west as Edmonton, and south to Kansas, and east to Gaspe. There were not many circuits he had not been on in Canada; and his journeyings to preach the gospel, if totalled up in mileage, would reach more than twice round the world. He had seen thousands brought to Christ, and he enumerated from seventeen to eighteen who had entered the ministry at his instigation, several of them afterwards becoming doctors of divinity.

He boasted that he had never preached a very long sermon. He had driven 84 miles to preach to six or eight people. It was over 60 years ago since he was himself converted, and he pleaded with young people to give themselves time to hear the voice of God. He loved the Old Book, and he emphatically declared his belief that it was here to stay.

Rev. Mr. Webster avowed that he had never known yet what it was to have a blue Monday. He considerably amused his congregation, which filled the church, by a description of the journey of himself and his wife, two weeks after their marriage, to their first charge in Gaspe, the hardships on the way, and the conditions they found on arrival.

He had to send 500 miles to get a shawl for his wife, he said, and some carpet for the floor. But he affected his hearers by detailing some of the instances of conversion in that field.

The preacher also remarked that there was no more exacting position in this world than that of a minister's wife, and he declared with regard to Mrs. Webster, who was present, "You will never have a minister's wife in this or any other city who has done more for the cause of God."

Mr. Webster declared that if ever the pulpit demanded five men it was today. The only purpose of his life for the last 50 years had been to preach Jesus Christ and Him crucified, and his closing word would be "Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." Answering his own query as to whether his life work had paid, Rev. Mr. Webster declared: "There can be no price placed upon the preaching of the gospel of the Son of God."

Letters were read during the service from Rev. A. A. Radley, as chairman of the Ottawa District meeting, and H. W. Mix, as lay representative, congratulating the minister on his faithfulness, diligence, integrity, and the manner in which he had upheld the dignity of his calling.

NEW PASTOR FOR ST. JAMES CHURCH

Appointment of Methodist Stationing Committee Contrary to Board's Wishes.

The Montreal Gazette's correspondent writes from Kingston:

"The first draft of stations issued by the stationing committee of the Montreal Methodist conference, shows several new appointments for Montreal churches. In the case of St. James' Methodist church, the nominee of the committee is the Rev. G. A. Macintosh, B.A., B.D., as superintendent, with the Rev. C. H. Adair continuing as assistant. This appointment goes over the head of the official board of the church, which had formally invited the junior pastor, Rev. Cyril Adair, to fill for the coming year the place vacated by the Rev. Amos J. Thomas, who is going to Windsor, Ont. Rev. Mr. Adair would have the support and help of the Rev. Dr. James Henderson, who is pastor emeritus. It is understood that St. James had taken this step of nominating Rev. Mr. Adair for the coming year, in order that the board might in the meantime look out for some prominent senior minister, the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Thomas having come upon the board without much notice. As the draft of stations will be under further revision for the duration of the conference, the final draft being submitted on the eve of termination of conference, the appointment is not yet definite. Rev. G. A. Macintosh is at present at McLeod street church, Ottawa."

THE RT. HON. WINSTON CHURCHILL. Who told the British House of Commons on Wednesday that Britain would tolerate no republics in Ireland, and that if the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty were not observed, Britain would take back the powers already conferred on the provisional government.
