"FRUIT-A-TIVES" SAVED HER LIFE

This Fruit Medicine Always Gives Relief

917 DORION ST., MONTREAL.
I suffered terribly with Dyspepsia. I had it for years and all the medicines I took did not do me any good. I read something about "Fruit-a-tives" being good for all Stomach Trouble and Disorders of Digestion, so I tried them.
After finishing a few boxes, I was entirely relieved of the Dyspepsia and my general health was restored; and I am writing to tell you that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives."

Arrived in Newfoundland.
Mrs. H. A. Lavell, wife of Judge Lavell, who is the provincial delegate of the Women's Missionary Society to the Methodist church, arrived in St. John's, Newfoundland, on Monday. She attended the provincial meetings of the W.M.S. in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and will spend this week at St. John's.

A New Grain Separator.
Barrett Bros., two prosperous and up-to-date farmers of Pittsburg township, took home a new grain separator Tuesday morning, having recently made the purchase. The separator is the most modern machine of its kind that has been in Kingston for some time, and is an example of the progressive spirit of these two well-known farmers.

Grading of Cheese.
Members of the Brockville Dairy-men's Board of Trade who waited upon W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, at Ottawa, said at the board that they had been advised by the minister that there would not likely be any government grading of cheese this year, and that the matter would be thoroughly investigated before action was taken.

Cheque Artist at Work.
A bogus cheque artist has been at work in the city again. It was reported to the Whig on Tuesday morning that a couple of local merchants were "stung" by a young man who is now in parts unknown. It appears that the cheque artist made purchases and tendered cheques, but that when they were presented at the bank it was found that there were no funds to meet them.

Death of Safety First Man.
Neil Stewart Dunlop, the man who introduced "Safety First" on Canadian railroads, and who was the organizer of the C.P.R. floral department, died on Friday morning in the Montreal General Hospital, following an operation. He was sixty-one years of age. Mr. Dunlop was born on Jan. 17th, 1861, at Almonte, Ont. He entered the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the law department at Toronto in 1888.

Correcting a Mistake.
J. W. Marsh, 64 Elm street, writes to the Whig: "In my talk with your reporter I made a mistake in saying we went to Hampton Roads on the Potomac. In looking up an old diary I kept at the time, I find we went straight up to Annapolis, which is much nearer Washington, and, after laying there about a week, we came down and anchored in Hampton Roads. The captain's name was Colomb. Sixty years is a long time to speak from memory. I regret my mistake."

Death of Soldier's Widow.
The sad death occurred in Athens on Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Maud Flynn, aged thirty-two years, passed away at her home, after an illness of three weeks. She was the widow of Martin Flynn, who went overseas with the 15th Battalion and was killed shortly before the signing of the armistice. She came to Athens from Morton some three years ago to educate her two young sons, Willie and Martin, who are left to mourn her early death, and who have the sympathy of all in their great sorrow.

Glad to See Rev. Mr. Perley.
Rev. W. F. Perley, of Stanbridge East, Que., who is attending the Methodist conference, is well known throughout Leeds and Frontenac, where he served faithfully for many years. He was ordained forty-seven years ago at Sydenham street Methodist church, during the presidency of the late Rev. Dr. Elliott, and has spent fifty years in the Methodist ministry. His many Kingston friends were glad to welcome him to the city.

Three Interesting Cases.
Already three cases which will attract much attention have been booked for hearing at the June sessions of the peace court which opens on June 13th, before Judge Madden. These are the cases of the Upton brothers and Fred Bryant, charged with shooting Detective James Cotter, four young men charged with committing an assault on a student in Macdonald park, and the case of a local physician accused of performing an illegal operation.

A Social Event.
The U.F.O. of Cataraqui held a successful euchre and dance in the hall on Wednesday evening last. Salsbury's orchestra provided dance music for about seventy-five couples. The euchre tables were in charge of J. Simpson, president of the club. The prizes were won by Mrs. B. Lancaster and J. Black, Cataraqui. The consolation prizes went to Mrs. H. Simpson and F. Flax, also of Cataraqui. Lunch was served about 11.30 by the ladies of the U.F.W.O., after which dancing was then indulged in by both old and young until 1.30 a.m.

Dodd-Goodman Wedding.
A very pretty wedding took place Monday, June 5th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Goodman, 125 King street west, when their daughter, Alice Priscilla, was united in

PRINCESS MARY'S STEPS FOLLOWED
Though the role of June bride has been played by millions of women, with varying degrees of success, there is always a chance for the beginner to add new touches, and make her characterization distinctive of Canada.

This season, in the matter of costumes, brides are following the precedent of Princess Mary. Consequently, we see less white satin than usual. Many of the most favored gowns this season are of lace or silk tissues, embroidered or dotted with designs in pearls.

Instead of looking very formidable and austere in a white satin gown, high-necked and very long, the June bride looks very much like herself and manages to put her own particular personality in her frock. Some of the bridal gowns are very short—Canadian women simply won't take kindly to the long skirt—but the ceremonial effect is gained by the addition of a long train, which is usually fastened from the shoulders.

Of course, the bride who has inherited some old lace always uses it on her wedding gown. If it is a small piece, she usually incorporates it into her head-dress. If she has several yards it may always be depended on for the veil.

Frequently we must admit, the weakest point in the bridal outfit is the head-dress. Because women so rarely wear this sort of thing they are likely to get the wrong effect when they attempt it.

The Dutch cap, with the points over the ears, the Spanish cap, which is a high-pointed treatment, and the Russian cap, with the wide band surrounding the face, are all helpful suggestions learned from foreign lands, but the veil falling over the face, held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms is the most becoming.

The relation between white satin and pearls is so close a one that it is no wonder that the favorite jewel of the bride is the pearl. The bride usually avoids a display of jewelry, excepting her engagement and wedding rings, and the bar pin which is so frequently the gift of the groom.

Often the buckles of the white satin slippers, however, are jeweled. The bridesmaid's role is a decorative one and her selection of a gown offers a much wider range of possibilities. Taffeta, made into bouffant frocks, georgette, lace and organza, are the favored materials, and they are cut on the lines of the fashionable frocks for afternoon or evening, according to the time of the ceremony.

Usually the bride asks her maids to dress alike, and she plans the costumes and the colors to match her general scheme. This year the large picture hat is the bridesmaid's choice in millinery.

marriage to Albert J. F. Dodd, Hastings, Ont. The bride, given away by her father, looked charming in her wedding gown of white Canton crepe and pearls and her beautiful bridal veil caught with orange blossoms. The ceremony was performed by Prof. Jordan. Mrs. W. J. Rice, sister of the groom, played a wedding march. The groom's gift to her was a gold pendant set with pearls and to little Miss Annie Goodman, flower girl, a wrist watch. After a dainty buffet luncheon the happy couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for Grassy Island, Stoney Lake, the bride travelling in a brown velour suit with shoes and hat to match and carrying a silver mesh bag the gift of the groom. On their return they will reside in Kingston.

Died at Brewer's Mills.
On Monday, May 29th, the grim reaper of death claimed one more victim in the person of Mrs. (Captain) James Smith, Brewer's Mills. Deceased had been in failing health for several months and in spite of the best of medical care and nursing she passed to the great beyond. She was born in Newboro sixty-two years ago, being a daughter of the late Michael Fahey, and leaves to mourn her great loss a sorrowing husband, five daughters, Mrs. Joseph Boyle, Mrs. James Boyle, Mrs. James Kelly, residing near Gananoque; Rosie, a graduate nurse; Etta, at home; and two sons, Michael and William. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. T. O'Brien, of Elgin, and two brothers, F. J. Fahey, hotel keeper of Elgin, and John, a merchant in Marysville; also two half-brothers, James and Michael O'Neill. She was of a kind, cheerful and charitable disposition which was noticeable by the many beautiful floral and spiritual offerings that banked her casket. The funeral was held at St. Barnaby's church, where a solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Traynor for the happy repose of her soul. The pall-bearers were her two sons, Michael and William, and three sons-in-law, James Kelly, James Boyle and Joseph Boyle, and nephew, John Fahey.

NEWS FROM THE OTHER SIDE

Interesting Letter From Woman in South Africa

Johannesburg, South Africa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and because I felt run down. I tried your lot of medicines before I tried yours. One day I was standing on my stoop when a boy came up to me and handed me one of your little books. I read the book and the next day my husband went to the chemist's and bought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel quite strong and well now as I am on the sixth bottle. I have written to my sister and told her all about the wonders it has done for me, and I am quite willing for you to use my name as I can not thank you enough for what it has done for me."—Mrs. W. F. Ross, 128 6th Ave., Mayfair, Johannesburg, Johannesburg, South Africa.

It is this sort of praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, given by letter or verbally, one woman to another, that ought to commend this splendid medicine to you. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women's ailments (in use nearly fifty years), and the fact that it has helped thousands of other women, should cause you to give it a trial now. It can be safely taken by any woman—young or old.
