HAWKINS-CORNELIUS.

Wedding Took Place in St. Paul's Church Tuesday Evening.

On Tuesday at 7.30 p.m. in St. Paul's church, the marriage was solemnized by the rector, Canon W. F. Fitzgerald, of Hazel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cornelius and Reginald Hawkins, Kingston. The pretty bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, as the wedding march was played by Miss Walker, the organist, wore a charming wedding gown of white silk and georgette, with veil, orange blossoms, and pearls and carried a bouquet of ophelia roses. Her sister, Miss Florence Cornelius, was her bridesmaid and was charmingly frocked in white swiss voile, wearing a white hat and carrying American Beauty roses. Harry Janeway acted as groomsmen. As the bride and groom left the church they passed through an aisle of streamers, and were showered with confetti and good wishes by their many friends.

Afterwards a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 627 Princess street, at which forty guests were present to view the beautiful gifts received by these popular young people, among which was a cut glass berry set, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Luckin, the groom's employers. The bride's gift from the groom was a handsome mantel clock; to the bridesmaid he gave an onyx and pearl ring and to the groomsmen, a pair of gold cuff links. The house was beautifully decorated with roses, peonies, orange blossoms and geraniums, and a three-tier wedding cake, surrounded with roses and ferns, centred the bride's table, where also was the groom's cake. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins will make their home in Kingston.

BUSINESS ACTIVITIES IN CITY OF KINGSTON

H. C. Perry, of the Palmolive Soap Company, Toronto, was one of the visitors to the business office of the Whig yesterday afternoon and expressed great confidence and optimism in regard to the business outlook generally. The well-known Palmolive advertising man had good reason to take such a view as he had just sold a car of Palmolive soap and Princess Soap flakes to local dealers, the value of which was close to $15,000.

Such a large purchase of one commodity is a good indication of business conditions here and a prophecy of better ones in the near future.

"Oh, Henry, oh, Henry" we see about us on every hand. In the newspapers you will find it and in the shop windows, on bill boards and posters of all sorts. Most people have found out by now that "Oh Henry" is not a play, or a puzzle, but just a really good chocolate bar. Few people have discovered that this chocolate bar is made in Kingston by the W. J. Crothers Company, Ltd. The Crothers' company is ranking as one of the leading industries of the city, and the thorough advertising of their latest confection is a mark of progress.

A Special Meeting of Council. Some aldermen desire to have the dominion government take up the question of Kingston harbor terminals with a view to the early beginning of work. The arguments in favor of the proposal are the necessity of having deep water terminals here when the Welland opens in 1925; that the scheme has already been approved as a necessary part of the St. Lawrence waterway. Council, it is contended, should be a unit regarding the urgency of the matter.
