Life's Social Side

Editor of Women's Page, Telephone 229; Private phone 857w.

A soft grey sky, with an occasional gleam of sunshine piercing the clouds and trimming the sails of the dinghy fleet into gold against the dull silver of the water, was the scene from the yacht club on Wednesday afternoon, much admired by the visitors present at the weekly tea given by the women members of the club, where a table centred with a big bowl of peonies and sweet June lilies, set in yellow tulle, tea was made by Mrs. J. M. Campbell and Mrs. Bruce Taylor, assisted by Mrs. Elmer Davis, Mrs. Percy Borland, Mrs. Hugh C. Nickle and Miss Mary Taylor. ### What the Editor Hears

That with strawberries plentiful and cheap, and sugar at pre-war prices, the jam cupboard should be well filled this year.

That the ladies with the Kiwanis members are having a fine time at the big convention in Toronto, luncheons, teas, dinners being given in their honor, 15,000 women attending the luncheon at the King Edward.

That June is the season for show-ere and garden parties. One always may expect a downfall as soon as the decorations are in place.

That 10,000 women will gather in Chautauque, N.Y., for the Biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Club on June 29th, and will have as a live issue the producing of better movies.

That the real old fashioned strawberry short cake is hard to beat.

That you should never use starch with organdie, if you iron it while wet, it will retain its crispness.

That peroxide of hydrogen will take out the stains by soaking the part in it for a few minutes and pressing it with a hot iron. Only white material can be treated in this way.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

FRIDAY, JUNE 23rd.

The astrological auguries for this day must be constructed as ominous, although in certain directions the outlook is not adverse. Troubles of various natures are prefigured, the gravest relating to the physical condition, which may be the afflicting factor in retarding business and inciting other misfortunes. There is danger from strife and litigation, and these may bring reverses. Domestic conditions are under better auspices.

Those whose birthday it is have a rather disturbing forecast for the

Some Knitting Directions from Readers.

The following knitting directions for baby garments, have been sent to me by two Reader Friends with the request that I publish them for other women to use:

"Baby Stockings: Two balls white two-fold Saxony, one ball pink, steel needles No. 15. Cast on 52 stitches of a color (pale pink or baby blue). Knit four ribs (eight times across). Always count with end of worsted on the right. Now take white yarn and knit two ribs (four times across). Fifth time across* knit two, thread over, knit two together; continue across like from*; knit back plain. Knit one more rib of white (two times across). This strip should be the same width as the colored strip.

Now with the colored worsted again, knit four ribs (eight times across). To Make the Knee: Take white worsted and knit 27 stitches, turn, knit three and turn—knit four, turn—knit five, turn—continue this till all the stitches are knit-off. Knit 19 ribs (or 38 times across). Narrow next row—by taking two stitches together at each end. Narrow again—and knit five ribs. Knit five ribs (or ten times across). This makes 15 ribs and three narrowings. Knit across and leave 14 stitches on needle; knit back and leave fourteen stitches on the other needle; knit this center piece for 13 ribs (or 36 times across).

Knit over once to opposite side—then with left needle take up the stitches on side of toe part (or center strip); knit across to the end. Knit back and take up stitches on other side of toe with left needle and continue knitting across to end (the side where worsted begins). Knit five ribs (ten times across). Knit two together on each end and every other time across for three ribs, and bind off. Sew up leg and foot. Crochet shells at top.

"Baby Slipon: Two balls four-fold Saxony, white; two balls needles No. 3. Cast on 72 stitches. Knit two, purl two, for one and one-fourth inches. Knit 32 ribs. Cast on 32 stitches for sleeves (each side). Knit 16 ribs. Knit 57 stitches and leave on pin. Bind off 20 stitches for neck. *Knit three ribs and cast on 18 stitches for front of neck. Knit 16 rows. Cast off 32 stitches for sleeves, knit four ribs. Repeat from* for other side. Then put all on one needle and knit plain to within one and one-fourth inches from bottom (this one and one-fourth inch should be knit two, purl two, like the back of the sweater). When the little garment is finished it is a slip-on sweater (not open in front).

"Collar: Pick up stitches across back and reverse; knit 22 ribs."

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in the next issue. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question—The Editor.

year, with the health of themselves or their families perhaps proving a matter of concern. There may be also danger from contention, strife and litigation. A child born on this day may be disposed to be impulsive, headstrong and erratic, and may find itself in more serious difficulties unless it be trained early in life to rigorous self-control.
