"WILLIAMSVILLE" HUSTLING ALONG WITH BUSINESS

From reports that come in from that section, the part of the city which was formerly a separate municipality under the name of Williamsville is a very busy centre all the year round. It could almost slip off from Kingston any time and be self-sufficient if one were to judge by its activities. Glancing over this page we find several of its works listed.

The Baker. First of all there is Carnovsky's Bakery. The motto is "You must have bread; demand the best" and it sure is a good motto. All the machinery in the baking plant is of the most modern design and construction and the customers of this bakery can vouch for the quality of the product. The corner on which it stands is an old land-mark of the main road leading into the city from the west and almost every man who drives a car or a horse can tell you where Carnovsky's is at 668-670 Princess street. If you do not know just phone 111.

The Milk Man. Williamsville has also the milk man represented here in the person of W. K. Stewart, proprietor and manager of the Williamsville Dairy. Here the motto is again a good one "Give W. A. Stewart a trial for pure milk." Mr. Stewart has lately made an extension sideline of the cream business and is prepared to fill orders of all sizes for that commodity as well as his regular line of fresh, pure milk.

The Confectioner. Then there is the confectioner and tobacconist, Harry Jarvis, on the corner of Albert and Princess streets. Here one may obtain ice-cream of all kinds in bricks, bulk, dishes or cones, soft drinks, fresh fruits and vegetables, chocolates and candies of all kinds, light lunches, tobaccos, cigars and cigarettes, and standard patent medicines. The store is becoming a great favorite with farmers as it is a handy stopping place, and, for those near at hand, saves the long drive downtown. Motorists also find it convenient as a place of refreshment at the beginning or end of a drive.

There are many other activities in "Williamsville" but these are some of the leaders and all are rapidly forging ahead. One will find butchers, gardeners, carpenters and builders, plumbers, and, it is reported, even newspaper men, in this busy section of Kingston.

A SQUARE DEAL

Obtained by Those Who Patronize the Graham Electric Shop.

Have you ever noticed that some people go into the great, large stores and write away to big mail order houses in the fond and foolish belief that they cannot obtain anything that is good elsewhere? While there are others, besides, who are wise, and know that in their own little stores, not too little, not too big, which are run by men whom they meet daily and know well, they will get the real goods every time with far less trouble and the certainty of a square deal.

This applies to the electric business as well as to anything and many people have found out that such is the case after having their houses wired by the mechanics of the Graham Electric shop, 426 Princess street, phone 1944. Just around the corner from Anderson Brothers' on Princess Street is this shop and a very complete and beautiful line of house fixtures and supplies in the electrical line are to be found here at prices which cannot be disputed for good value.

This shop takes contracts and jobs of all kinds in the electric line and the excellence of the work done has built up for it a trade that is daily growing. It is a common thing to ask a man who is doing his house wiring and to receive the answer "Graham."

The stock takes in electric lamps, globes, and fixtures of the very latest patterns, heating pads, electric curling irons, electric ranges, irons, toasters, grills, and all manner of supplies.

For a square deal try Graham Electric.

Human nature is queer. People are always disappointed when they get what they want and they howl their heads off if they get what they deserve.

Not every young man has a head for figures but did you ever see one who did not have an eye for them?

Some men will bolt their food and then, chew the rag until the cows come home.

BOOST KINGSTON

Every person privileged to live in the city of Kingston should be keenly interested in its growth and development. Thousands of outsiders are.

During the past and present tourist season visitors expressed amazement at the beauty of our natural scenery and the rich historical interest merging with the story of our city, while business men, during their visits here, were equally astonished at the great opportunities presented for industrial growth and development.

Our unique situation at the gateway of the St. Lawrence was noted, with its unlimited possibilities for transportation headquarters and facilities, and its power of offering unequalled accommodation for those on either business or pleasure bent.

Kingston's growth has been slow but steady. It is time that it speeded up, without losing the steadiness. Boost our city whenever you get the chance.

ARE YOU BUILDING ANYTHING THIS YEAR?

Because, if you are, then you had better give O. Aykroyd & Son a call mighty soon and get an estimate on it. The Aykroyd firm is busy but never too much so to give an estimate on work, from a small hen-coop to a house.

At this season of the year there are many things to be done. People are adding verandahs and sun-porches to their homes or putting a new summer house in that shady spot in the yard. There are dozens of odd-jobs around, the house to be done and the most satisfactory way of getting over it is by engaging skilled mechanics to do the whole lot at once.

The carpenters and finishers of the Aykroyd firm have had long experience in all sorts of carpentering and building and can be depended upon. A line to 21 Main street, city, or a telephone call to 1670 will do the trick.

- TODAY'S INSPIRATION. It may not be possible to reach absolute perfection in your work, but you should make the start in that direction every day. Stick to the job in hand and promotion will take care of itself.

Eastern Canada Maxotire Recommends "Royal Oaks"

To increase in quality and efficiency each year and steadily win in the estimation of the automobile public is the proud position which the Royal Oak Tire holds today.

A Canadian company, established, financed and conducted by Canadian business men, the Oak Tire & Rubber Company, has won a prominent place among the big rubber firms of the world. In the early days of automobiles, an automobile tire was simply a tire and the manufacturer could "get by" with anything in the shape of a tire, but today the motorist in public is more critical, and, in order to pass muster with the greater majority of motorists, a casing must excel in quality and workmanship.

That the "Royal Oak" has filled the bill is evidenced by the fact that the demand for Royal Oak Tires is daily increasing and the fact that, dealers who bent their efforts to selling other makes of tires are this year specializing in the tire which carries the trade mark "Tougher than Oak." This is a sufficient guarantee that they are giving the service demanded by car owners, who have weighed them in the balance and have found that they are not wanting in the qualities which go to make up a first-class article at a reasonable price.

The Eastern Canada Maxotire & Rubber Company, with its usual good judgement, foresaw the future of Royal Oaks and has no hesitation in recommending them in every instance where quality counts before price.

BUY COAL NOW.

Do you remember how you put off ordering your winter's coal one year until the first frost had set in and everything had to be done in a hurry? Do you remember that there were strikes, shortages, and all sorts of troubles that kept coal at peak prices and very scarce? You had to take half a ton at a time or something like that and coal, coal, was your worry all the time.

Don't let old man winter put it over on you this time. Get your coal in now. Sowards keeps it. The Sowards boats ply busily now bringing it over the lake and all the wise birds are stocking up and getting it off their minds. Leave your order at McGill's Cigar store or at the office on Ontario street, extreme east.

Time works wonders. The pest who brags about taking his cold bath every morning is the kid who had to be thrashed to force him to take his regular Saturday scrub. A man will not cross his knees for fear of making his trousers baggy, but a girl can cross hers without danger of making anything she has over them baggy. It always seems to us that when luck calls it gets the busy signal, but for some strange reason Old Man Trouble never fails to get our number. A woman can flatter a man by asking his opinion and then taking it if it happens to be just what she had already decided on.
