The new street-car tracks are being welded by a special process, and a number of mechanics, with the assistance of a "bonding car," started the work on Monday afternoon.

At The Stadium
The grounds at the George Richardson stadium are receiving splendid attention this summer, and the field will be in great shape for the opening game in the fall.

Entrance Examinations
The matriculation examinations concluded Tuesday and the entrance examinations start Wednesday to continue until Friday. This completes the departmental examinations for the year.

Engagement Announced.
The engagement of Miss Jean Rose, eldest daughter of Inspector and Mrs. R. C. Rose, of Carleton Place, to Reginald E. Dowsett, B.A., of Toronto, is announced, the marriage will take place this month.

To Do Post-Graduate Work.

Picton-Bloomfield Thoroughfare.
Men have been employed removing all signs along the Picton-Bloomfield road. It is understood this road will be made into a provincial highway and all buildings and fences will be moved back along each side forty-three feet from the centre of the road.

The Cost.
When you use too little space in this, the best advertising medium, then your advertisements costs too much. It is like a collar that is several sizes too small for your neck—it looks awkward and is not adequate. Advertising pays well enough when you pay well enough for advertising.

Cut Down High Hill
Travellers on the provincial highway have been commenting on the great improvement made in the road east of Napanee. The high hill has been cut down so that there is very little perceptible rise. The job entailed an immense amount of work which certainly shows for itself.

Saturday's Celebration
The plans for the Watertown War Veterans' celebration here on Saturday are going ahead splendidly, and it is expected that both the Waubic and Brockville will be used to bring the excursion party to Kingston. A special train is being run from Watertown to Cape Vincent, where the boat will be taken.

Judge Scott's First Jury Case.
In addressing the jury in a slander case in the county court, in Perth, Judge Scott said that in his eight or nine years in this county it was the first occasion he had the advantage or assistance of a jury at a trial, a record which would hardly be paralleled by any other county in the province of Ontario.

Clear Tracks.
The business tracks have been cleared, signals are up to go ahead. 1922 is rewarding, even at this early date, men who had foresight and have been forging ahead. The year is still young. The opportunity is still yours. Buyers are no longer fearful, they are looking for good things. Tell them about yours in our ad column.

Hospitable Home Closed.
Byron Palmer, who has been ill for a year, died at his home on Pleasant Bay, Prince Edward county. The funeral was held on Wednesday. Interment took place in the family plot at Picton. His wife died March 9th, 1921. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will be long remembered as their home was one of the most hospitable in the community.

Town Buys Site.
At a special meeting of the Smith's Falls town council a resolution was passed to purchase the site of the Northern Buttons, Ltd., for a filtration plant in connection with the waterworks system. The town will pay $5,000 for the property in consideration of which the Northern Buttons, Ltd., will itself purchase a site for the new button factory to be erected. In this way, the town gets a site which it will require for a public service very soon and the company comes by the wherewithal for the purchase of a site for its new button factory. There also is obviated the necessity of taking a vote of the people.

At Hymen's Altar.
A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. James' church, Tweed, on June 21st, when Stella Mabel Arbuckle, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Arbuckle, Tweed, was united in marriage to Henry Freeman, Meaford, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Freeman, Meaford. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman left for a visit in Kingston. It is their intention to reside in Meaford, where the groom holds a lucrative position.

A Regretted Death.
Hillier people were shocked to hear of the death of Miss Lulu Crippen. Miss Crippen has been ailing for some time with heart trouble and other complications, yet her death came unexpectedly. There are few in the neighborhood who will be more missed than she. She was an active member of Christ church guild, being first vice-president of that society. Her funeral was on Thursday at her late home and proceeded to Picton for interment.

Was Found Guilty.
For burglarizing the Charles G. Emory castle on Calumet Island, across from Clayton, one of the finest summer places among the Thousand Islands, and stealing 1-100 bottles of choice wines and liquors, most of which had been stored there a quarter of a century ago by the former cigarette king, Lawrence Clickner, Watertown, N.Y., was found guilty. A note written to Clickner by Peggy Miner or Lina Hammond as she is also known and delivered to him on the morning before the crime was committed, dropped out of his pocket at the Emory castle and led to his arrest later. This was discovered by Mr. Ivey and Leon Dano the following morning as they were shoveling snow. It proved a damaging evidence against him before the jury.

The Late Mrs. James Stack.
The death of Mrs. James Stack occurred Friday at the residence of her son, Thomas Stack, Mallorytown. Mrs. Stack had been ill for the last two years. Born in the county Clare, Ireland, ninety years ago, she came to America with her parents when four years of age and settled at St. Alban's Vt., whence she moved, following her marriage, to Mallorytown. There she has since resided for a period of well over half a century. Predeceased by her husband twenty-three years ago, Mrs. Stack is survived by five sons and one daughter, Thomas, Mallorytown; Miss Margaret Stack, Elmira, N.Y.; William, Frank and George Vancouver, B.C.; and Michael B. Stack, Brockville. There are also two surviving sisters, Mrs. John Henrahan, Elmira, N.Y., and Mrs. O'Connor, Binghamton, N.Y.

Doing Fine Business.
The Black Donald Mines Company near Calabogie, report the best month's business that they have had for over a year. The mill is running night and day shifts and the sales for the graphite produced have increased both in the United States and in Canada. General Manager Bunting's two sons, students in an American college, are spending their vacation with their parents at the family cottage at White Fish Lake and Mrs. Bunting's mother, Mrs. Baddie, Florence, Alabama, is also a visitor there.

Mr. Heartz is a grandson of Rev. Dr. Heartz, of Amherst, N.S., and is connected with the Shawinigan engineering company. Rev. R. C. Tait, of Morven, formerly of Brunswick street Methodist church, Halifax, N.S., and Rev. Dr. Heartz, Amherst, N.S., officiated. After the ceremony the wedding party proceeded to the Campbell House, and enjoyed a beautifully prepared luncheon.
