ON SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Men Who Refused to Do Their Work as Firemen on Steamer.

For refusing to fire on the steamer Kingston when the boat was about to leave Charlotte, N. Y., for Kingston and Prescott, on Tuesday night, H. Wardell, Joseph Logan and William McKay, Toronto, were placed under arrest on the boat and transferred to the local police cells when it docked here on Wednesday morning.

The men appeared in court before Magistrate J. M. Farrell and, after the hearing of the case, were allowed to go on suspended sentence when they had agreed to return to work and to pay the costs of the hearing.

Francis King, K. C., appeared for the Canada Steamship Co., and gave a summary of the events leading to the arrest of the firemen. He stated that when the boat docked at Charlotte, N. Y., six of the men were refused permission to land in consequence of an order which had been posted to prevent bootlegging by the crew. As a result the men became sulky and refused to stoke. Three of them who continued in their refusal were arrested under the law relating to mutiny at sea and a wireless message to Kingston informed the local police of their action.

The court had the option of treating the matter informally and permitting the men to return to work or committing them to a term of imprisonment. In extension of their action Wardell claimed that the men did not know of the order forbidding the landing at Charlotte, N. Y., as it had only been posted after the boat left Toronto. He said that they did not want to go into Charlotte, N. Y., but were anxious only to sit on the dock as there was no ventilation in the stokeholds and they were in need of fresh air. They had asked permission to land but the chief had threatened them with arrest and they were refused their message. After hearing the story from both sides Magistrate Farrell, while stressing the seriousness of the offence, agreed to allow the men to return to their work.

GOES TO BRITISH COLUMBIA

J. Worden Edwards, B.A., B.S., A., to Teach Agriculture and Science.

J. Worden Edwards, B.A., B.S., son of the Hon. Dr. J. W. Edwards, has accepted a position in British Columbia as teacher of agriculture and science in the high school at Duncan. He received his early training at Cataract public school and at Kingston Collegiate Institute. He entered Queen's in 1912 and made a name for himself in sports, starring on the intermediate rugby and hockey teams and winning his Q in both branches. In 1916 he answered the call and went overseas, transferred to the R. F. C. in 1917 and had the honor of being in the first squadron to do reprisal work over Germany. At the conclusion of the war, he resumed his studies at Queen's and obtained his B.A. degree in 1919. He then entered the Ontario Agricultural College from which he has just received his B.S. A. degree. While at the O. A. C. he took a prominent part in athletics, and the college did him the honor of electing him twice in succession captain of the first rugby team and also captain of the first hockey team. He is a lover of music, is an exceptionally good singer and was one of the famous "Sod Busters" who toured Ontario last year in the interests of the O. A. C. War Memorial Fund. Mr. Edwards will assume his new duties in the Pacific provinces on September first and will carry with him the hearty good wishes of a host of friends.

THE GIRL GUIDES' CAMP

Intensive Work This Week—The Training is Excellent.

The Girl Guides in camp at Beau Rivage are continuing to enjoy themselves and after one week look forward to the next. Some of the girls who were staying for one week only have arrived home. Among the many other things they are enjoying very excellent meals and speak in the highest terms of the cook of the camp.

Sunday, the Guides enjoyed the privilege of attending service at the famous Half Moon Bay, the beauty of which is almost beyond words and at which very impressive services are held during the summer months for campers in the vicinity. The bay almost completely shut in with high walls of rock is often almost filled with small boats containing parties.

This week the last of the camp, the girls are preparing for intensive work. The Guides under the camp commandant and the staff are receiving a very fine course in nature study and subjects of the Guide code and every letter to the city gives an indication of the excellence of the training.

Will Turkey Be Scarce.

The question of the Christmas turkey may seem rather inappropriate in the middle of summer, but it is a very live topic with some of the farmers of the district. More difficulty than usual is being experienced by the farmers this year in raising the turkeys. One woman who has had trouble stated that she had thirty-four die. The weasels have also been a factor in killing off the gobblers.

Superstition is the religion of ignorances.
