What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

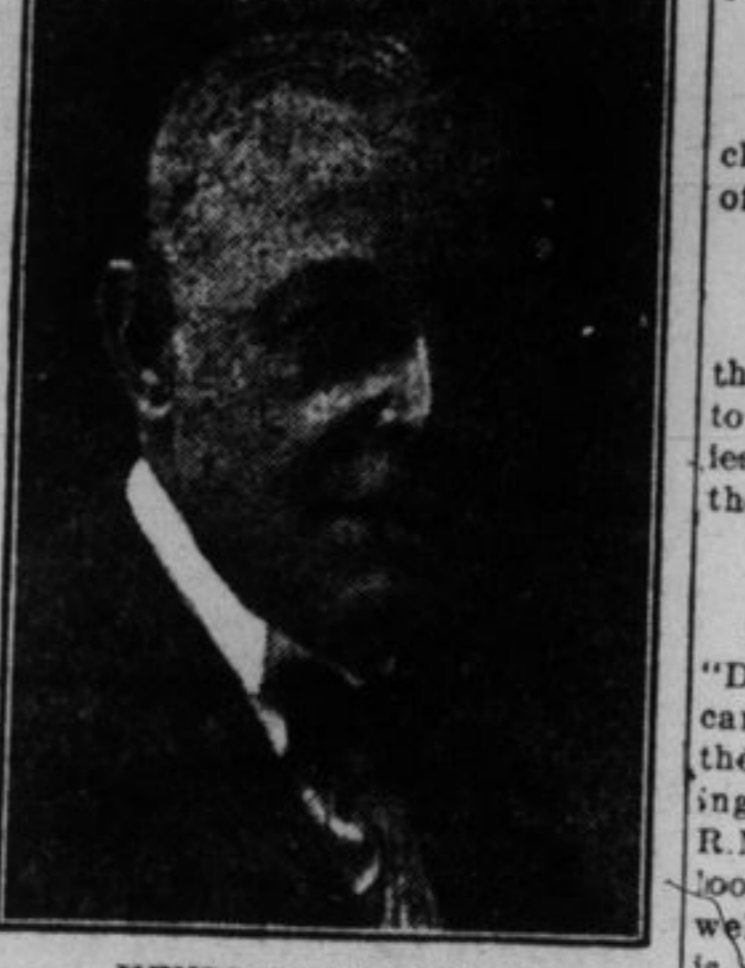

"Rose o' The Sea." Anita Stewart, whose freshness and charm have provided the screen with never failing enjoyment, will be the star at the Allen theatre tomorrow, Friday and Saturday in her latest First National attraction "Rose o' the Sea." Miss Stewart holds a unique place in the hearts of the motion picture followers, being practically the only screen star of prominence who has shown an ability to enact roles of widely diversified appeal and characterization. She has successively appeared as a western ranch girl, a diplomatic secret agent, a girl of wealth and a girl of impoverished surroundings. It is in the latter class that her latest screen triumph belongs. "Rose o' the Sea," adapted from the popular book by Countess Barcynska, tells the story of a waif from the sea who, on the death of her guardian and protector, is forced to make her own way in New York. Her lack of guile and sophistication win her a place and esteem even in the matured metropolis. Involved in a story of petty jealousies, aristocratic conventions and gambling affairs is a plot of simple heart interest and genuine appeal in which the girl of the country shows her deep faith in the abiding virtues of life, winning a triumph through them. Fred Niblo was in charge of the direction of the picture while the capable supporting cast includes Rudolph Cameron, Thomas Holding, Margaret Landis, Kate Lester, Halton Cooley, John P. Lockney and Charles Belcher. Johnny Hines, in "Torchy Steps Out," is a very unusual comedy. Hines has an almost limitless number of amusing situations. The Bray pictorial completes one of the best programmes seen in this popular theatre this year.

The Whig was in telephone communication with Sharbot Lake on Wednesday morning and it was learned that Mr. Hollowood's loss was not as heavy as at first reported.
