Speaking of Candy

It has been said:

That the final judgment is reached after the candy has reached the mouth and the discriminating buyer will select, for the future, the Candy that can tickle the palate to his satisfaction.

This is one of "OH HENRY'S" strongest points. A trial will convince you.

HAVE YOU MET "OH MABEL?"

"Oh Henry's Little Sister."

Letters to the Editor

Magistrate Allinson Explains. Kingston, Aug. 4.—(To the Editor): In reference to the article in your issue of yesterday, concerning American cars speeding on the provincial highway, there is a police patrol officer, employed in patrolling the highway from Kingston to Gananoque and from Barriefield to Smith's Falls. He is in the employ of the highway department of Ontario and it is his duty to enforce the Motor Vehicles Act on these roads.

Section 31 of the Motor Vehicles Act empowers any constable to arrest any offender for speeding and take him before a magistrate. In the case of Ontario citizens this is never done. They are stopped and the name and number of the car is taken and they are released. In the case of foreigners this is not done, as they would soon be out of the jurisdiction of Ontario law and any prosecution would be fruitless.

There is one law for all users of the road and all must obey it, and any found violating the law must pay the same penalty. These provincial roads have been constructed at enormous expense and the highway department is making an effort to save them from destruction by speeders.

But the main reason for stopping speeding is the danger to human life. The deplorable loss of life arising in automobile traffic is wholly the result of travelling too fast. The great majority of car drivers comply with the law and it is only fair to them and to all users of the road to stamp out the outlaws.

On a few occasions I have extended extra courtesy to Americans by allowing them to pay their fines on the road to save them coming back to Kingston and waiting for me to come over. No money was ever paid to the constable as stated.

I regret that the Americans have found it inconvenient to comply with our speed limit, but a little precaution on their part when crossing would save them all the trouble.

The customs officers are glad to give any information and would cheerfully explain that there is one limit for all Ontario of twenty-five miles per hour.

Yours truly,
W. L. ALLINSON,
Justice of the Peace, Frontenac.

HEARD VIA RADIO.

Items Furnished Courtesy Canada Radio Stores.

Station W.G.Y., the General Electric Company, Schenectady, N.Y., came in loud and clear last evening around 9 p.m. The concert consisted of dramatic recitations of the three episodes of "The Wolf" by Edwin H. Smith, flute solos, piano solos, and soprano solos. Station W.H.A.M., Rochester, N.Y., and C.F.C.A., Toronto Star, also came in during the evening.

The thunder storms interfered while the storm was over Kingston but immediately, around 9 p.m., a great change was noticed and many stations were heard.

This evening station W.G.Y. will broadcast two programmes, one starting at 8.45 Kingston time and the second one at 11.30 Kingston time. This is the regular broadcasting as done by W.G.Y. every Friday evening. The first concert this evening will be of the concert type, the second of popular airs and songs. K.D.K.A., Pittsburgh, Pa., and W.J.Z., Newark, N.J., had exceptional fine programmes last evening also. These stations are improving their programmes very much. This means a continued adding to the list of radiotelephone listeners.

ATTENDED SPECIAL COURSE.

Capt. H. E. Law Received Special Instruction in Toronto.

Capt. H. E. Law, physical instructor at the Kingston Collegiate Institute, has arrived home from Toronto, after taking a special course of instruction during the past month. The course was one of intensive training on a wide range of subjects. There were several branches to the course. About four hundred attended the classes, there being about one hundred men, but all of these, of course, did not do the same amount of work or take the same studies. One of the features of the all round instruction was the talks given by Coach "Jack" Maynard, ofVarsity. The work was taken in Hart house, the swimming tanks there being used for the swimming classes.

The collegiate boys are assured of new features in their work next term and Capt. Law is already making preparations for the athletics of the school this fall and winter.

GRANT INCREASE IN RATES.

Portsmouth Council Has Agreed to the Advance.

Portsmouth council approved the proposal to grant the Kingston, Portsmouth and Cataragui Electric R.R. an increase in rates. There was a full meeting and James Halliday, reeve of the village, occupied the chair. The other members were Councilors M. J. Kennedy, J. Baldwin, Mr. Weller and W. Westlake. W. F. Nickle and H. C. Nickle appeared on behalf of the railway. Much information was presented by W. F. Nickle who declared that the company had been running the cars at a loss, "a loss" that last year amounted to $23,000, he declared. After hearing a detailed statement of the finances of the railway, the council voted to grant the increased rates.

There are so many new things being used, worn, and invented these days that to keep abreast of the times one must read the ads.

A RED FLAG WAVES ON A KINGSTON STREET

It Is Not a Bolshevik Emblem But Is Mounted on Traffic Policeman.

The red flag is waving in Kingston! Bolsheviks are not responsible for it, however. The traffic policeman which has been bunted and biffed by countless motorists at the corner of Wellington and Brock streets has been replaced by another of sturdier construction. It has a heavy wooden base in place of a pipe-line and bears the sign "Keep to the right." From its top waves a regular Soviet flag in spite of the fact that it serves a laudable purpose in guiding erring motorists.

WAS HIGHLY PLEASED.

Standardization of Hospitals is Being Made.

Dr. McEachren, late superintendent of Vancouver General Hospital, visited Kingston yesterday. He is now in charge of hospital inspection as regards classification, a work which was carried on till lately by the American Association, but is now in hands of Canadian authorities.

Dr. McEachren was particularly pleased with progress in records at the General Hospital. Improved methods in keeping records of treatments, operations and laboratory tests must be advantageous to the patients. Several records, locally derived, were taken away by the doctor as changes heretofore unknown.

The systematic methods now adopted by the regular staff in attention to public wards was particularly noted. The whole organization, classification and co-operation with the university is a position rarely found in any other of the 140 hospitals.

The position of Kingston General Hospital in regards to this new line of administration and work is unsurpassed by any institution of its kind was the doctor's opinion.
