GYPSY GIVEN FREEDOM; NOT THE MAN WANTED

Officer Came From Brampton But Found He Was the Wrong Man.

Do all gypsies look alike? Long Demetro, a member of a band of gypsies who were camping at Barrieffield, was taken in charge on Sunday, by Provincial Constable Clark and Constable Thomas Mullinger of the Kingston police force, at the request of the police in Brampton, on a charge of shopbreaking, but a constable who arrived here on Monday afternoon from Brampton, stated that Demetro was not the right man, and he was accordingly given his liberty, and he was very glad to be released.

The constable stated that the authorities had been having a great deal of trouble with gypsies around Brampton. A band had been encamped there for some time.

Two bands of gypsies have been at Barrieffield for some days, and the officer from Brampton is looking both the camps over to see if he can land the man he wants.

Several members of the gypsy bands in Barrieffield are expert goldsmiths and they have been travelling all over Canada and the United States working here and there. The King of the Gypsies is a man over sixty years of age, who has travelled all over the world, but he states that his home is in Montreal. He has considerable property in the west and is very wealthy.

GRANT HALL WELL FILLED

For Recital by Miss Jean Chown and Miss Goldie Bartels.

Before a crowd which comfortably filled Grant hall on Monday evening, Miss Jean Chown, whose contralto voice has won its way to the hearts of the music loving citizens of Kingston, gave a recital which was greatly enjoyed. She was assisted by Miss Goldie Bartels, one of Kingston's most delightful violin soloists. The concert was given in aid of the Curtis memorial fund of Queen's summer school students and the silver collection taken will considerably raise the fund which the students have been working for during the past year.

Miss Chown's first number was "Ombra Mai fu Largo" by Handel, and was much enjoyed, as was the second part of the same number, "Ah Rendì Mi Mitrane" by Rossini. The violin solo, "Indian Lament" by Rimsky-Korsakov, played with expression by Miss Bartels, immediately won generous applause and was followed by the "Serenade Espagnole" by Chaminade, its rapid movement being in direct contrast to the previous selection. Each was splendidly rendered.

Then followed Miss Chown with fine renditions of "The Forge," "Sappho Ode" by Brahms and "Sunday," each being pleasing and bringing out the rich qualities of her voice. To prolonged applause she responded with the favorite, "The Three Fishers" by request and again won many plaudits.

In the interval Dr. W. T. MacClement, director of the summer school, explained the Curtis memorial fund in the aid of which the concert was given. This fund was established by the students as a scholarship fund in the memory of the late J. T. Curtis, Ottawa, who had probably done more for the building of the school than any other one person.

Following the intermission, Miss Bartels rendered "Valse Triste" by Schubert and "Wiegen Lied" by Schubert, each giving the talented violinist opportunity to bring out the richest tones of her instrument. To the repeated applause, she replied with a short encore.

The programme was concluded by Miss Chown with four selections, "Homage" by del Rio; "Two Little Stars" by O'Hara; "The Night Nursery" by Arundale and "Fairings" by Martin, all of which were treated and well received by the large audience. In response to the repeated rounds of applause, "An Old-Fashioned Street," in which Miss Chown is always heard at her best, was given.

Miss Phyllis Knight, as the accompanist, rendered sympathetic support. The programme concluded with the National Anthem.

COMMANDS NEW STEAMER.

Capt. J. V. Norris Takes Over "Chicago Tribune."

Capt. J. V. Norris, son of James Norris, Clergy street, arrived at Thorold, on Saturday, in command of the steamer "Chicago Tribune," of the Ontario Paper Mill fleet, and carried a cargo of steam coal from Newcastle-on-Tyne.

The Tribune, which was built at Newcastle-on-Tyne, brought a cargo of 1,399 tons of coal for the company's plant, in Thorold. The steamer is 268 feet in length, 44 foot beam, and dead weight tonnage of 987 tons. Capt. Norris' rent to England for the vessel and will be her commander. A sister ship, "New York News," also built in the old country, arrived a week ago. Both were constructed for the paper company and will be engaged in the pulp wood trade between Thorold and the lower St. Lawrence ports.

Mrs. Mary Vincent and family and Miss Ada Stanley, Newboro, are sailing from Montreal to Southampton on August 15th by the steamer Melita to visit friends in England.

There was no session of the police court on Tuesday morning. There are two cases on the docket for Wednesday.

There are a large number of citizens who have not paid their dog tax. The police are issuing notices to the guilty parties to pay up.

While in England Dr. H. A. Boyce qualified for the degree of M.R.C.P. (Member of Royal College of Physicians). It is stated that he is the first local doctor to receive this high degree.

The street-paving operations have been held up again owing to non-arrival of brick, a shipment of which was due Monday morning. The workmen ran out of material about nine o'clock and were forced to lay off until a carload of brick arrives.

QUEEN'S SUMMER SCHOOL.

Students to Pay Visit to Royal Military College.

The students of the graduating class at the Queen's summer school are arranging a social event for Thursday afternoon. A year book is being issued by this class.

The country club are playing the return tennis games at the college courts this afternoon.

The professors met defeat at the hands of the students whom they challenged to a game of baseball. The "profs" put up a good battle, but longer practice had put the students in better trim. The "profs" still have the advantage of "striking" the students out at a later date—at the examination time. That is if they so desire.

The students have accepted an invitation from the Royal Military College to visit the college Wednesday afternoon. A large number will attend.

Veteran Kingston Salvationist. Newspapers received in the city give accounts of the dedication of a new Salvation Army Citadel at Gloucester, Mass., where Commandant Charles Gunn, a former Kingstonian, is stationed. Col. McIntyre assisted in the service, and in the course of his remarks said that he had known Commandant Gunn for thirty-five years when Col. McIntyre was the "Kid" Captain in charge of the Kingston corps and Commandant Gunn was the baby of the band playing the cymbals. Commandant Gunn has been in Gloucester for some years and has had very successful years of service which his many friends in Kingston will be gratified to hear. He is assisted in the work by Mrs. Gunn and daughters Eva and Dorothy.

Had Delightful Trip. The excursion to Clayton, under the auspices of the Kingston Rotary Club, on Monday night, provided a very pleasant time for all who attended. Two hundred and sixty-five people made the trip on the steamer Wauke, leaving here at 7.30. An orchestra was on board and provided music for dancing on the way down and back, while the excursionists had an hours stay at Clayton.

THE MOST DIFFICULT WRECKING PROPOSITION

To Float the Steamer Rapids Prince Ashore in Lachine Rapids.

Montreal, Aug. 8.—The wrecking rig equipment for the salvaging of the Canada Steamships Line steamer Rapid Prince at the foot of the Lachine Rapids arrived in Montreal harbor to-day. It consists of the tug Frontenac and 6,000 feet of steel cable, with all the other accessories, including a towing engine.

Captain John Donnelly, of the Donnelly Wrecking and Salvaging Co., Kingston, says it is planned to install the engine on a small island 1,800 feet up stream from the wreck. He then hopes to pull the Rapids Prince off, stern first.

But, he confessed to-day, getting the equipment on to the island in the middle of the rapids is a very delicate operation in itself.

He could make no prediction as to whether the equipment would be installed on the island tomorrow or the next day.

"Conditions," he declared, "are so variable at present and the water is so shallow round the island that it will only be possible to land the towing equipment and cable by means of scows. Our work will hardly have commenced then, but this preliminary job is enough to keep us occupied in the meantime."

"If we do pull off the Rapids Prince I plan to have her fully manned under a full head of steam so that she will be able to manage herself when she gets back into the rapids. That is only one of the many angles to this salvage proposition, which is one of the most difficult ever tackled. In the meantime I may say the weather is not favorable."

"Jack" Fleming, well known in local sporting circles and associate manager of the Frontenac hockey team, who has been visiting relatives during the summer in Glasgow, Scotland, returned on the steamer Tansian and is now renewing acquaintances in the city. Mr. Fleming is leaving shortly for Cleveland, Ohio.
