Home is just a roof over a good woman.

The love of money is also the root of all industry.

Living is a little cheaper, but it isn't a darned bit more pleasant.

There is quite a difference between being jolly and being a joke.

Now that the five-cent cigar is said to have come back, it will often go out.

Opportunities slip by most people as if they were greased for the occasion.

What doth it profit a nation to gain the whole world's gold and lose control of itself?

And yet with some people religion is merely a kind of rabbit's foot to keep away bad luck.

When you find a man who has no prejudice, you have found one who has no convictions.

None but a Bolshevik would hope to retain both the confidence and the property of aliens.

Canada's hangman is uncertain about what he will earn. Evidently he has doubt about jurors.

Familiarity is offensive or flattering, depending on the standing of the man who acts that way.

Another encouraging sign is the fact that men again find it worth while to counterfeits a dollar.

Some children give the impression that the hand that rocked the cradle neglected the art of spanking.

The man who rides a mile instead of walking likes to have folks believe that he does it to save time.

If a woman yearns to flirt a little, she can easily persuade herself that her husband doesn't understand her.

One of the best things to take to cure that important feeling is an honest inventory of the mental stock on hand.

"Woman's personality is revealed by her clothes."—Woman's magazine. Well, might as well make a complete job of it.

If you can't get away for a vacation, you can get the same feeling by remaining at home and tipping every third person you see.

Some people get all their happiness from the conviction that the misfortunes of their enemies are a divine punishment.

An Irishman says the Americans don't understand the Irish situation, but Illinois is helping them to get the fundamental idea.

As we understand it, the three-mile limit is where the ships let down the bars and give passengers the freedom of the seas.

A shortage of cars to move the watermelon crop is reported. The strikers should beware. There are some things freedom will not stand.

"Carrying coals to Newcastle" once was illustrative of the absurd, and bringing coal from Wales to eastern Canada would once have been thought equally so.

PROTECTING THE PUBLIC.

A woman in an eastern city who had lost $300 through a commonplace swindle complained to the authorities.

Not the least valuable service rendered by the daily press is exposure of schemes for defrauding the people.

Premier Drury, STATESMAN. Premier Drury has once more precipitated a controversy by taking definite steps to sound his following.

There is a wide difference in the view points of Premier Drury and J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U.F.O.

To get a clear conception of Mr. Drury's position is to feel something of the embarrassment that must confront him when he goes to the country as a farmers' premier, forced into the position of conducting a bitter class war.

There are also moral and ethical principles involved in the choice of Premier Drury and his desire to set himself right with all classes by making it possible for them to return or reject his candidates on his record.

The position of J. J. Morrison, on the other hand, is altogether different. He is not responsible to the people for his conduct, being but a sort of party boss, and it is natural for him to put up a struggle for the life of the U.F.O., which is in a strong position for a contest.

Some children give the impression that the hand that rocked the cradle neglected the art of spanking.

ALONG LIFE'S DETOUR

dealing in the public life of the country, and the overthrow of the Conservative party that stood in the way of progress leaves the way open for the co-operation of all progressive elements to work for the development of the country.

Not So Wise. A parrot is a very wise old bird. It just repeats the things that it has heard.

Observations of Oldest Inhabitant. I ain't remember when the papers thought it was just as necessary to print cooking hints as well as beauty hints.

No Joke. "Pa, what is a guttison for trouble?" asked Clarence. "A man who'll act as a judge at a prettiest baby contest, tackle the job of peace maker or argue with a traffic cop," replied his Dad.

Swat This Pest, Too. I surely hate that bird. Who talks all day And yet who never has a thing to say.

All Men Turn to Rubber at Her. "The Passing of the Plapper" is the caption over an editorial in a Chicago contemporary. Well, we'll say this much for her passing, every time she does she surely gets a lot of attention.

Fool Questions. E. S. M. asks: "Will you please ask the Oldest Inhabitant if whether they didn't use the old spring wagons in the summer and fall as well as in the spring?" We'd be afraid to spring anything like that on him.

Not Always True. "Practice makes perfect," remarked the Bromide Hound. "Oh, I dunno," replied the Fool. "I know a lot of doctors who get a lot of practice, but they are a long way from being perfect."

Watch Your Step, Men. If there is only one But you see two It's time that you've had Too much home brew.

News of the Names Club. Joe B. Cool is reported from Kansas City, but even with a name like that we suppose he has to listen to that "is it hot enough for you" stuff all summer, like the rest of us.

Our Canadian Question And Answer Corner. Q.—What Canadian explorer added 100,000 square miles of territory to Canada in recent years?

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY

FRUITAGE OF SECRET PRAYER. — But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

McKim's Directory For 1922 Issued. McKim's Directory for 1922 issued Border single. The 1922 edition of the Canadian Newspaper Directory has been issued by A. McKim, Limited, of Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Winnipeg and London, England.

The directory describes in detail every town and village in the dominion which boasts a newspaper; it gives also the surrounding towns and villages that have no papers of their own.

The 1922 edition of the Directory is indispensable to everyone connected with publishing and advertising and, by no means, to these fields alone are its uses confined. It will be found invaluable to the salesman planning his itinerary, to the shipper routing his goods and to everyone who has occasion to visualize the dominion of Canada either as a whole or section by section, from a merchant's point of view.

The Federal Receipts May Exceed Estimates by Hon. W. J. Fielding. Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Indications of returning prosperity are furnished by increasing federal revenues, and the success of the new stamp taxes as money makers is being demonstrated early.
