MERCHANT SHIP IS AID TO NAVAL SUPREMACY

Keeps British Fleet in Unrivaled Position—Battle-ship Ultimate Arbiter.

Williamstown, Mass. Aug. 21.—Denying alike that the supremacy of the sea had been lost to Great Britain by the Washington conference and that the battleship had been rendered obsolete, Admiral W. L. Rodgers, chairman of the executive committee of the general board of the navy, addressed the Institute of Politics at Williams College.

"The battleship is still the backbone of the fleet," said Admiral Rodgers, taking issue with Oscar T. Crosby, former assistant secretary of the treasury, who said that in scrapping the battleship the Washington conference scrapped what already was obsolete and had done nothing effective to limit competition of naval armament.

"The battleship," said Admiral Rodgers, "is the ultimate arbiter of naval war when and if supported by all auxiliary naval types of shipping." Admiral Rodgers declared he did not think British supremacy of the sea had been overthrown, pointing out that in its merchant marine the English fleet yet remains unapproachable.

"It is by its combination of naval strength with merchant shipping that England has arrived at its dominant position as a world power," he declared. "Until the United States has a merchant fleet of its own, the British position on the high seas will be unrivalled in peace and war."

Willie Hunter is Whitewashed. New York, Aug. 18.—Willie Hunter, former British amateur golf champion, to-day was declared eligible for the United States amateur championship tournament next month at Brookline, Mass. An official statement issued by the United States Golf Association declaring its investigation of Hunter's standing, showed he retained his amateur status.

The announcement said that the association to-day received a cable from the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrew's, Scotland, saying that Hunter had not been listed as a professional by it. Doubt as to his status arose when Hunter was not chosen as a member of the British amateur eight, which will play a United States team for the Walker Cup.

Nearly one-third of the 236,000 war widows in England have remarried. The rate of re-marriage at one time was as high as 2,000 monthly, but recently the rate dropped to something less than 1,000 a month.

The Australian federal parliament has passed the bill providing for reciprocity of tariffs between Australia and New Zealand. All parties approve the agreement between the two Dominions.

New Zealand sheep owners are setting aside £200,000 for the relief of distress among families of men who have been connected with the British Mercantile Marine.

The dispute between the C.P.R. and its telegraphers has been settled.

HOPE OF CHEAPER COAL KEEPS DEMAND DOWN

Settlement of Strike Takes Edge Off Market for British Coal.

New York, Aug. 21.—A peculiar situation exists in the spot coal market. Prices are high, but are not soaring, free coal is even more limited than a week ago, but the demand has declined apace with the amount of tonnage offering, according to Coal Age. Procrastination rules the coal buyers. The Cleveland conference gives hope of resumption of mining, and consumers are paring their purchases to the quick in order to take advantage of the easier flow of coal when union-mined tonnage is again available. The diminution of demand has been accomplished in many cases by the curtailment or complete shutdown of some industries which feel that this is preferable to paying the high premiums now being secured by spot coal shippers.

Those who must keep in operation, and this class includes the railroads and "essential" industries, are actively bidding for the meagre current production that is available to the spot buyer. Priorities rule on the bulk of the tonnage moving, but there is much confusion as yet in carrying out these orders and railroad confiscations are heavy.

There is little of this spot coal available: most of it is needed on priorities. Spot coal prices have risen to an average of $6.66 per net ton at the mines.

WILL LIFT THE LID OF LIQUOR SCANDAL

W. T. R. Preston Promises Shocking Revelations—He Has Warned Raney.

Windsor, Aug. 21.—Canada is on the eve of one of the greatest exposures it has known, involving as it is predicted it will, the higher-ups in the bootlegging ring, the ramifications of which extend from Mexico as far north as Chicago.

Men high in official, commercial and financial life in Canada, the United States and in other countries will be involved, declared W. T. R. Preston, Port Hope, the man who is laying the proper wires for the exposure.

Preston is here sitting as chairman of a Conciliation Board, going into the dispute between the Pere Marquette Railway and its employees. Preston would give no hint as to the extent of his information, but stated that he had communicated certain information to Attorney-General Raney and also to the officials at Ottawa, but as yet these officials were not in possession of the details as Mr. Preston has them.

"It will take action in a big way and by big men to handle this, and I want to make sure that it is going to be handled right," said he.

SALVAGE WORK RISKY AT THE RAPIDS PRINCE

Next Stage to Shoot Cable to Stranded Ship in Lachine Rapids.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—The work of installation of machinery for salvage purposes is still progressing satisfactorily on the little island in Lachine Rapids above the Rapids Prince. This is expected to take about one week to complete, after which another spectacular and risky venture will be made.

While getting to the island was a difficult enterprise, the next and final stage is even more dangerous. A scow is to be taken down the rapids and from this scow the cable conveying the towing hawser will be shot over on to the deck of the Rapids Prince, where it will be made fast.

After that the real test comes and if the ship does not come off with her own steam up and with the drag of over three thousand feet of steel cable, then the salvage company has spent a lot of money for no return. It is the element of uncertainty that is making the salvaging of the Rapids Prince one of the riskiest ventures ever made in St. Lawrence shipping annals.

LAUDER SIGNS CONTRACT.

Noted Scotch Comedian Opens U. S. Tour October 2nd.

New York, Aug. 21.—William Morris has closed a contract for the appearance of Sir Harry Lauder at the Lexington Theatre for one week, beginning Oct. 2nd. This will be in the inauguration of a twenty weeks' season that will take the Scotch entertainer to the Pacific coast. At the close of his engagement in San Francisco in February he will sail for Australia, returning in the early fall, and opening the tour of 1923-24 at Vancouver.

Molla Retains Title.

Westside Club, Forest Hills, N.Y., Aug. 19.—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, the women's national tennis champion, retained her title by disposing of the youthful Miss Helen Willis, of California, in straight sets. The scores were 6-3, 6-1.

The champion, fighting with the dash of a queen whose supremacy was menaced, won by the vigor of her style and her extraordinary stamina. The less powerful maid from the Pacific Coast made a commendable showing. She placed her best in the first set and for a brief spell, literally played Mrs. Mallory off her feet.

Much laughter, little wit.
