THE HORTICULTURAL SHOW

The School Children Are to Exhibit at the Same Time.

The Kingston Horticultural Society's annual exhibition has already been announced as to take place after noon and evening on September 12th and 13th. It will be held in the Island market, city building. Intending exhibitors should keep their flowers blooming by copious watering and the removal of full blooms. There should be a fine display notwithstanding the earliness of this year's growth.

The flower competition of the children of the public and separate schools will also be held at the same place. More than six hundred children became members of this auxiliary of the Horticultural Society when they took the society's aster and zinnia seed last spring and undertook to make them grow and flourish under the guidance of teachers and parents, but most probably of their own bat. Flowers from those seeds, grown by those boys and girls, are eligible for competition. Entrance forms should be secured at once from the secretary, A. W. McLean, 91 Clarence street, or from R. F. Greenlees, 193 Upper Albert street.

As formerly announced three good prizes are offered, but if the competition should be unusually good several more prizes will probably be added. So now, girls and boys, get your zinnias and asters ready and be good sports! Admission fee for children will be five cents; for adults, ten. A full membership ticket admits the whole family.

The special vegetable gardens on Lieut.-Colonel Leonard's vacant land, King street, and on Principal Siltner's and Major Stroud's lots on Bagot street, have for the most part been an unqualified success.

IN MARINE CIRCLES

There was a heavy gale blowing from the southwest this morning and the high seas forced a number of small craft to put in the harbor for shelter during the night. The steamer Waubic made her trips to Cape Vincent via the foot of Wolfe Island instead of the shorter head route. It is expected that many vessels will be delayed on their trips, especially if west-bound, but the gale has not reached that stage as yet where damage might result to shipping.

The steamer Canadian arrived up from Montreal on Thursday evening, and cleared light for Fort William to load grain.

The steamer Mapleboro passed up late Thursday evening bound to the head of the lakes to load freight.

The steamer Toronto arrived Friday morning from Toronto and Rochester, and cleared for Prescott.

The steamer Advance, which has been in the Collingwood Shipbuilding Company's drydock for the past few days undergoing repairs, will be floated on Friday night, to proceed to the canal.

The steamer Britannic is due on Friday afternoon with passengers and package freight from Montreal.

Reports received in the city from Capt. John Donnelly's wrecking crew on the Lachine Rapids indicate that the process of releasing the steamer Rapids Prince is very slow, and that the preliminary work will require some days yet.

GIRL GUIDES RETURN.

They Were Much Delighted Over the Course.

The two representatives of the Kingston Girl Guides, Misses Mary Rowland and Marion Anglin, who attended the special training week held at Haverhill College last week were delighted with the course. The instruction was in charge of Miss Burgess who came from England, and the course of lectures given the Guides was extensive. Guides from Winnipeg, Cobourg, Campbellford, Napanee, Ottawa and Toronto were present. One of the bright social events of the week was the afternoon when the party was invited to Lady Pellatt's for afternoon tea.

Carload of Peat Arrives.

The first shipment of peat to arrive in Kingston was seen Friday. A carload was brought in and is being sold at $12 a ton. A large deposit of peat is located near Ottawa and for some years experiments have been carried on with a view to making it a commercial article. Much of it is lost in handling and the difficulty is to devise a machine that will mould it into sizes for use in stoves and furnaces. It is said to burn well.

Concrete Walks For Portsmouth.

Concrete walks will be laid on Union, Church and King streets in Portsmouth according to a decision of the village council on Thursday evening. There was a full attendance of the members, and it was decided that tenders would be invited for the immediate construction of the walks.

Cigarette Caused Blaze.

The firemen had a call to the residence of H. F. Norman, corner of Stanley and Alfred streets, Friday morning, where a fire was reported in the attic, having been caused by a cigarette. It was put out with the pump and there was no serious damage.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Leverette, Frankville, are in Brockville. The former spent his seventieth birthday with his sons Dalton and H. B. Leverette, and daughter, Mrs. A. H. Latham.

The Women's Institute, Wellington, is to complete a cook book. And still another!

"The noblest mind the best contentment has"—of course if he uses the classified ads.

Hon. G. P. Graham, ill at Brockville, hopes to be out again in a few days. His condition is not serious.

John White and Aubrey Harkness spent last night in Kingston. They are cycling from Iroquois to Toronto.

The work of clearing the site for the curling rink is nearing completion. Stumps of trees are being pulled up.

In the account of the Glenburnie-Lakeview baseball game, the centre field player for Glenburnie should have been given as B. Craig.

Burleigh Ostrom, clerk at the Randolph hotel, is on his vacation and has gone to Toronto where he will attend the exhibition.

Major and Mrs. H. J. Lawson and Miss Flora Lawson have returned from Petawawa Camp and are stopping at the Hotel Randolph.

"All quiet" was the report at the police station on Friday morning. The calls were empty and there was no session of the police court.

The many Kingston friends of Canon F. D. Woodcock, Brockville, will be glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering from a serious attack of typhoid fever.

Repairs are proceeding rapidly on the pavement on Barrie street. Considerable patch work has already been done, and the roller is now completing the work.

Shakespeare said: "Now would I give a thousand furlongs of sea for an acre of barren land." He could have done much better had he used the classified ads under real estate.

The Little McGonigal lad of McDonald's Corners, who was kicked by a horse last week and brought to the General hospital a couple of days later in a serious condition, is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Caverly, Alfred street, went to Belleville on Friday morning to attend the funeral of the latter's brother-in-law, the late E. B. Harris, who was killed in a motor accident on Wednesday.

A. M. McLean, refrigeration expert for the Linds firm of Montreal, who had charge of the installation of the plant in the new service building of the General hospital, returned to Montreal on Thursday night, after spending a few days in the city.

John McMullen passed away at his residence, Seely's Bay, on Thursday after a long illness. The deceased was a farmer and is survived by his wife and family. The funeral takes place to St. Barnabas church, Brewer's Mills.

The West Indian band, an organization of colored musicians, representing the oldest colonial regiment in the British empire, will be at the Canadian National Exhibition this year.

James Hales of Toronto, Chairman of the Board of License Commissioners for Ontario, told a group of people in Smith's Falls that Frontenac County is likely to have an exceptionally heavy tourist business very soon, because it possesses hundreds of lakes, and roads are fast improving.

WIND BLEW A GALE.

It Was Quite Rough on the Water on Friday.

The steamer Wolfe Islander had a very rough passage crossing from the city to the island on Friday morning, owing to the heavy seas in the harbor.

Friday's gale is the first disturbance on the lakes in many weeks, and, owing to the season of the year, it is thought by many marine men of the city that the usual fall gales may now be starting in earnest, though it is still rather early for storms of any serious degree. Some of the old-timers are even predicting a stormy September for the sailors on the great lakes, as a consequence of so much calm weather during the summer.

The present season has been a prosperous one for shipowners, when the slump in industrial affairs is taken into consideration. Freight has been moving at a good average throughout, while the passenger traffic has been the best in some seasons. In the Kingston district, for instance, the excursion and passenger vessels of the Canada Steamship Lines, the Rockport Navigation Company and the Kingston Navigation Company have all had an exceptionally good season. Tourist trade between Cape Vincent and Kingston has been brisk also.

The summer of 1922 has been notable for the small number of marine accidents and disasters on the lower lakes. With the closing of the Toronto exhibition, passenger traffic will practically cease, leaving only the grain trade from the west and the coal shipments to be looked after.

R. J. Bushell, manager of the Kingston Industrial exhibition, has received an invitation from the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, to attend the fair there. Mr. Bushell has accepted the invitation, and during his stay in Toronto will confer with the administrative officers of the national fair.

Bridget Clapper, widow of the late George Clapper, Belleville, died Wednesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ben Sanford. She had been ill for a long time.
