BADMINTON TO BOXING

THE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

It Will Be a Go For Seventy-two Holes and Will Be Pulled in October.

Golf is to have its world series. The proposed match between Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen has been closed definitely.

These two great players will meet in a 72-hole contest for the golf title of all lands on October 8th and 9th. It is intended that the first 36 holes shall be played at Pittsburg.

Walter Hagen holds the British open title, having triumphed over the best of the old country has to offer. Gene Sarazen is the American open champion.

Nothing could be more fitting than that these two stars should meet to settle the world's title.

Sensation of Season. Sarazen is easily the year's sensation in golfing circles. In addition to the open championship of the United States, he holds two other titles only slightly less in importance.

There is little to choose between the natural ability of the two. Sarazen has youth; Hagen experience. And the latter is a very young man, too. Besides, youth plays a less prominent part in golf in any other major sport.

Little to Choose. There is little to choose between the natural ability of the two. Sarazen has youth; Hagen experience. And the latter is a very young man, too. Besides, youth plays a less prominent part in golf in any other major sport.

Making Holes in One.

Once in a long time a golfer will accomplish the feat of making a hole in one stroke. Prior to Saturday this coveted honor had been won only twice in the eight years of Country Club golfing at Stratford.

Incidentally, Mr. Makins wins a year's subscription to the Canadian Golfer, as this magazine has a standing offer to that effect to all golfers who make a hole in one stroke.

DEMPSEY-WILLS BOUT PROMOTER MUST ABIDE BY FLOCK OF RULINGS

Simultaneous with the arrival from the west of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, stringent conditions for the pending title contest between Dempsey and Harry Wills, Negro challenger. Should it be held in New York state, were laid down by William Muldoon, chairman of the State Athletic Commission.

Mr. Muldoon stipulated that any promoter authorized to stage the contest must make arrangements to seat comfortably not less than 100,000 persons, provide admission for 40,000 at not more than $3 each, and place with the commission a security of $250,000.

Opinion in boxing circles was that these conditions might make it impossible to hold the bout in New York. Mr. Muldoon said:

"I am not concerned with that possibility. I want the rights of the public safeguarded and with that in mind think conditions such as I have outlined are justified."

"On the outcome of the Dempsey-Wills bout, if held in New York state," he continued, "the future of the game, rests not only in this state, but in every state where boxing is conducted. If pugilism is given countenance, if a pugilist is given a 'black eye here and the game is killed in the leading state, it will not live long elsewhere."

Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, denied that he had received an offer of thirty-seven and a half per cent of the receipts, with a guarantee of $150,000 from a promoter. Neither has Dempsey stipulated any purse consideration for a bout with Wills, Kearns declared.

TY COBB

Is Still on the Lookout for College Stars.

Ty Cobb is still on the lookout for college ball players. Every time he goes east he has a look at a couple of college stars at play with some independent team and if likes them he signs them up for future reference. It is not generally known.

Ty prefers the college ball player to the sandlotter for a number of reasons. One is that the college man has been taught discipline. He has devoted his life to study and to receiving instructions. When his manager in baseball speaks he listens with the same respect he would give to a lecture by a college professor. He knows enough to want to learn and the thought never enters his mind that he knows more than his teacher in baseball as in Latin or mathematics. Then, too, he holds that the boy who has had the advantage of a college education has a more orderly and systematic mind. At least it proves that he has tried to improve himself by taking the college course.

But perhaps one of the greatest reasons for his admiration for the college players is the latter's keen desire to win. The college man still believes in sport after it becomes a business with him, while the graduate of the sandlots often regards it purely as a means of making a living. Other things being equal, Ty holds the college player is more likely to make good than the boy whose mind has not been trained. Cobb is one of the brainiest players in the game and he appreciates intelligence on the ball field.

Ravanna Breaks Neck in Race. Ravanna, owned by R. Herron, the favorite in the first race at the Dufferin park half-mile track, Toronto, crossed her legs, fell and broke her neck. Three other horses with their jockeys went down in the crash but none was seriously hurt.

Breaks Women's Course Record. Miss Adele Kelly, New York, broke the record for women on the Lake Placid club's eighteen hole golf course Tuesday afternoon when she made a score of 81. Far for the course it 72 and many professionals have a hard time to equal the record.

Tut Jackson, the negro boxer, who was defeated by Harry Wills last Thursday, with his manager, William K. Palmer, and his second, W. I. M. Carney, were suspended by the State Athletic Commission on Tuesday pending an investigation.

Rugby Players For Queen's. Toronto Globe: Hamilton and Ottawa reports are to the effect that "Bud" Thomas, Fred Hitchman, Eddie Mainville and Joe Miller of Ottawa are all going to attend Queen's university this year. Wilson, Peter, a backfield player, is also slated for Queen's. In which case there will be little doubt as to the outcome of the Intercollegiate senior race.
