DEAN OF ONTARIO RETURNS

He Says That Lloyd George Will Be Returned to Power.

Dean Starr returned from England on the S.S. Empress of Britain, arriving in Kingston Saturday afternoon. He reports a good passage with a few teabags in sight in the Straits of Belle Isle. Theodore Lyman and the Misses Lyman of the city were fellow passengers. The dean is very much improved in health and had good weather both in France and England, in spite of ill reports. In England conditions are improving. Lloyd George still holds the hearts of the people and in the event of an election this government would be returned. There is no other leader, and the English people do not forget his wonderful war achievements.

The dean was with Sir George Foster at the debate in the House of Lords on the cattle embargo which resulted in favor of Canada. Taxation is very heavy about $1.50 going to the state out of every $5 earned, for war tax besides the ordinary rates and demands. But it is borne very cheerfully with characteristic English endurance. France has made wonderful recovery. Villages and towns are being rebuilt and the old battle fields cleared of debris and are under cultivation. Even Rheims cathedral already is holding daily service in the transcripts. Every man, woman and child of working age, the dean said, were "putting their backs into reconstruction" and were full of optimism although hating the Hun with bitter intensity. Dean Starr believes the latter is able to pay and should be forced to do so. From all appearances they are playing a deep game to enlist English sympathy.

Ireland seems hopeless, and even American interest is lost since the atrocious murder of Michael Collins. On the whole the dean is optimistic for the future of the empire if only we follow the energetic example of our French allies.

BOY STRUCK BY AUTO, SUFFERS BROKEN THIGH

Charles McLean, Aged Eight, Meets Accident on Gananoque Highway.

Struck by a motor car, Charles McLean, aged eight, son of Mrs. Harry McLean, who resides on the Kingston-Gananoque highway, was seriously injured Saturday evening. The accident occurred near his parents' home. It is stated the boy jumped out of a wagon and ran from behind it into a passing automobile. The driver could not stop his car before it had struck the lad.

The little fellow was removed to the General hospital where it was found that he had sustained a compound fracture of his left thigh and also concussion of the brain. Fortunately the symptoms of concussion have been alleviated and on Monday the lad is reported to be some better. He will, however, be confined to the hospital for some time.

What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

Crowds at Strand.

The matinee today at the Strand theatre for Rodolph Valentino and Gloria Swanson in "Beyond the Rocks" was the biggest the theatre has experienced for a long, long time. This means that you will have to be early tonight if you want a good seat. The first evening performance commences at 7 o'clock and the second one a few minutes after nine. The biggest Paramount picture issued during this year is now being shown at the Strand theatre.

"Fools First" Presents Unique Bank Robbery.

"Fools First," a Marshall Neilan production, which comes to the Allen theatre to-day as a First National attraction, relates in a vivid manner the foiling of a band of crooks who had planned to rob the largest bank in town.

The band reached the bank without creating suspicion in the mind of any night policeman by carrying their tools in musical instrument cases. For hours they toiled at the door of the massive vault before they opened it—and then they discovered that the packages of money which they were seeking were missing.

As they were about to leave, disgruntled, Tommy Fraser entered, with the packages under his arm. Tommy had formerly been associated with them, but had "turned a new leaf." He had stolen the package, but just as he was about to board a train out of town had repented, and was returning. The band set upon him and after a fight escaped with the loot. But when they opened the packages they found no money within. The bank president had fooled them.

Claire Windsor, Claude Gillingwater and Richard Dix play the leading roles in this production, which is based on the Saturday Evening Post story by Hugh McVair Kahler.

We have been fortunate in booking an exceptionally good vaudeville act for the first part of the week in DeWolf & DeWolf who are singers and instrumentalists of merit.

THE MUSICIANS' STRIKE IS NOT YET SETTLED

The Union Officials Offer to Compromise With Theatre Managements.

No settlement has been reached between the executive of the Musicians' Union and the Kingston theatres regarding the difficulty over orchestras, and it is likely that no union players will appear in any of them until after further conferences have been held.

There was a conference Monday morning between the theatre managers and the executive officials, when the latter offered to compromise. The constitution of the musicians' union specifies how many players shall comprise an orchestra in a house with a certain seating capacity, and according to the schedule, the Grand Opera house would have seven players, the Allen seven and the Strand five. The executive offered to drop two players from the Grand, two from the Allen and two from the Strand, and when this condition could not be accepted the players were ordered to remain absent.

The provincial headquarters at Toronto has been notified and asked to send an organizer to Kingston to look into the matter. The players claim that Kingston is the poorest field for musicians because the pay is smaller than anywhere else in Canada.

Strike More Effective Than Ever, Says Gompers

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 11.—The "shopmen's strike is more effective now than it was, even with injunctions which are secured from government pets like Judge Wilkerson, who issued the injunction powers for the attorney-general" Samuel Gompers declared to-day in an address before the convention of International Typographical Union of North America. "The injunctions forbid the people to do things they have a lawful right to do, and permit others to do things they shouldn't," he said.

Crack Players For Queen's. "Charlie" Mundell, son of Dr. D. E. Mundell, Barris street, has definitely decided to enter Queen's University this fall and will be available for the football team. Mundell, who was 21 S.M. at the Royal Military College last year and one of the best all round athletes on the campus, has taken a notion to business and after spending the summer in banking at Toronto will come to Queen's for the courses in commerce. He will be a valuable addition to the rugby squad as he knows the game thoroughly and can take a position anywhere on the lineup. From present indications it looks as though Queen's will have an invulnerable team. At any rate graduates of the college seem to think so and are showing it in no uncertain way.

A Kingstonian just back from Toronto states that during the exhibition he met many alumni living in Toronto and several of them were wearing ties with Queen's colors in them. Upon being asked the reason for wearing the bright colors they said: "Why, we're not ashamed of our college and you can be sure that any Queen's man will be glad to wear the colors when this season of rugby is over. We're rooting for the college on the old Ontario Strand and when the football season starts there won't be a Queen's man in Toronto without a Queen's tie."

From Ottawa comes the official announcement that Bud Thomas, Ottawa star, is coming to Queen's this fall. Thomas' name has been prominently mentioned as a likely player for Queen's squad and the official word further strengthens the tricolor's chances in the rugby scene. As a wing player Thomas will be a valuable addition to Queen's.

TWO AUTOMOBILE ACTIONS

Judge Madden Dismisses One and Finds For Plaintiff in the Other.

Judgment in two automobile cases, which were before the Division court last week, has been given by Judge Madden. The cases were interesting in that they were almost parallel accidents involving many principles of motor traffic laws.

In the case of A. A. Boston, plaintiff, and William Cockburn, defendant, the action for $37.96 and the counter claim for $325.55, were dismissed. The judge found contributory negligence on both sides. The accident occurred when the plaintiff's car tried to pass defendant's truck as it swung out towards the centre of the road to take a turn into Powell's garage on Johnson street. The judge found that the plaintiff did not signal that he wished to pass and was guilty of contributory negligence in attempting to pass from the rear on the right side. The defendant contributed to the negligence in that he "did not give visible or audible warning while and during the act of turning." W. F. Nickle represented the plaintiff and T. J. Rigney appeared for the defendant.

The second case was that of J. D. Godkin, plaintiff, and C. Freeman, defendant, the defendant striking the plaintiff's car in attempting to pass on the right side as the plaintiff swerved out to the centre of the road to turn into his garage. The plaintiff's action was for $33 and judgment in full was given. In giving decision the judge found that the plaintiff had the right of way in coming down Princess street and was within his rights in turning into garage from that side of the street. The judge stated that travelling on Princess street at fifteen miles an hour was not the action of a careful driver and further that "it is the duty of a driver following another car to keep away and protect the latter as he is in a position to see what he is doing." W. F. Nickle was the lawyer for the defendant and T. J. Rigney for the plaintiff.

Bennie Swim, condemned to die on Friday next for the murder of Mrs. Olive Tremblaine at Benton Ridge, N.B. in March last and now confined in Woodstock prison must pay the death penalty. Communication of sentence has been refused. King Alexander of Serbia is in London.

Notice to Water Consumers

The general public's attention is drawn to the Medical Health Officer's notice in Saturday's Whig warning the Water Consumers to boil the drinking water. The Department is anxious to take the first opportunity of testing the suction pipe.

Kindly take notice that all drinking water should be boiled immediately, until further notice.

R. F. ELLIOTT,
Chairman,
Public Utilities Commission.

AWAIT FAIR WEATHER. So That the Waterworks Suction Pipe Can Be Examined.

Just as soon as the winds go down a thorough examination of the waterworks' suction pipe is to be undertaken by experts of the local utilities to determine why the drinking water is contaminated.

C. C. Folger, manager of the civic utilities, stated on Monday morning that as result of the report of medical health officer, Dr. A. R. B. Williamson, some time ago the equipment at the waterworks was completely examined as well as the pipe to the first valve. Nothing was found to be out of order and J. W. Vanbenschoten, an expert engineer of the Wallace and Tiernan Chlorination company, New York, was brought to the city and went over the chlorination plant. He found that it was in satisfactory shape and gave his complete approval to the equipment.

The only part of the works still to be examined is the suction pipe, and R. F. Elliott, chairman of the utilities commission, has secured through the courtesy of Dr. R. M. Coulter, deputy postmaster-general, the use of Matt. Murphy, diver, and J. M. Campbell has secured the necessary diving equipment. It is expected that the examination of the pipe can be started within a day or two before the equinoctial gales commence. In the meantime boil your drinking water.

Lamp Set Fire to Curtains; The Wind Was Responsible

The wind was responsible for a small fire on Sunday night. At the home of Mrs. Aylesworth, at 57 Bagot street, shortly after 9 o'clock the wind caught a pair of curtains at an open window and blew them against a lamp. Slight damage was done to the house and contents. The house is owned by Mrs. Young. An alarm was sent in from Box 37, and a telephone call was also sent in.

Who Pays For Advertising?

THIS is a direct and reasonable question; and in the case of Daily Newspaper advertising, intelligently used, the answer is simple: Nobody. It pays its own way.

Nobody pays for the new carburetor that gives added mileage to your motor car. It pays for itself in the gasoline it saves.

Nobody pays for an improved cash system in a modern department store. It pays for itself in economy of human time.

Nobody pays for well planned and written Daily Newspaper advertising. It pays for itself by reducing the cost of sales and by increasing production. And it often receipts old bills for folios with advertising labels.

The advertisement in your own local Daily Newspaper tells you the best things to buy and where to buy them. Every new purchase helps the whole community to command cheaper and better goods.
