RURAL SCHOOL PUPILS MADE A FINE SHOWING

The Kingston Fair is a thing of the past, and only memories remain, but these indeed are happy ones for clear skies, gentle breezes and happy crowds all combined in making the event a success gratifying to the most anxious of hearts.

Purchase no hearts in all Frontenac county were more anxiously awaiting the week of September the 18th than those of several hundred rural school children. For having participated in a series of school fairs since September the 5th, like Caesar of old, they were looking for "new worlds to conquer" opportunity presenting itself in the form of a championship school fair at which all first, second and third prize-winners of the school fairs were permitted to exhibit.

The interest the children manifested, and the excellence of their work was a source of never failing wonder to all who visited this exhibit. Banners, blooming plants, bouquets, sheaves of grain, and fruit combined with the patriotic colors in making it a scene of beauty while the "Grand Old Flag" hung looming over all.

Collections of noxious weed seeds, plants, insects and soils, showed the knowledge of their environment these children had acquired, while models of sheep feeding crates, mail boxes and sewing showed clever fingers among boys and girls alike. Cakes, pies, tarts and bread caused many prognostications of happy homes in the future, reigned over by these promising young cooks.

Corn, potatoes, carrots, beets and many other vegetables too numerous to mention, showed that the nucleus of gardening was not being neglected, and "Tommy" had his hoe going in the garden while "Janey" had her hands in the dough. Nor were the intellectual arts forgotten. Essays, writing and art were exhibited, which reflected credit on teachers and pupils alike.

The collections of vegetables, canned from their home gardens, by the boys and girls, completed the exhibit, and were the cause of endless questions on methods because to quote the visitor, "Mine did not look as nice as that." The corn on the cob was certainly a prize winner for arousing interest.

Before passing on to a list of prize winners, a word of appreciation is in order for the teachers, who by their hearty co-operation, made such an exhibit possible. These young ladies were responsible for the beautiful banners which were a decoration in themselves. Two teachers, Mrs. Saunders and Miss Babcock, are to be especially praised, for the strings of crepples and fancy wreathing they manufactured with the children's help, and contributed toward the decorating. Their work will not soon be forgotten, and we trust more teachers will feel able to follow their example, and next year make the championship school fair like the Kingston Industrial "Bigger, Brighter, Better than Ever."

Credit is given to the following teachers, who have greatly assisted in the fair: Misses Vera Chalmers, Lena Davis, Ferguson, E. Lake, Penwarden, M. L. McKeever, M. B. Traves, M. Carson, Henderson, R. Babcock, J. O'Meara, Elia Craig, M. Sigsworth, W. Guild, E. L. Leatherland, E. A. Woodhouse, Margaret Blair, K. McFear, L. M. Phillips, G. A. Wattam, H. Brown, Mildred Orser, Jessie Willard, M. Cochrane, and Mrs. Young and Saunders, also the teachers of 3 Portland, 13 and 15 Kingston.

A Home at Last.

First Cousin: "Dearest, have you heard the latest? Cousin Paul has bought a home."

Second Cousin: "My dear, I refuse to believe it. Paul has always claimed that the sort-of-home he wanted isn't obtainable."

First Cousin: "My dear, I know it, but he began to study the real estate ads in our newspaper. Sounds absurd, doesn't it, but he found exactly what he wanted."
