AMUSEMENTS
 What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

To-night "Prince Charming, Jr." F. Stuart-Whyte, the well-known pantomime producer, will present for your approval and entertainment at the Grand Opera House, tonight, his latest, and he is emphatic in saying that it is his best musical box of tricks, "Prince Charming, Jr." Zara Clinton, who really needs no introduction, is with the cast and will renew her acquaintance with her large following of Kingston admirers, in a role especially written for her. B. C. Hilliam, well known composer of Broadway's musical success, "Buddies" which incidentally had a two years' run in New York, collaborated with Mr. Whyte in this production. Altogether "Prince Charming Jr." promises to be the Theatrical Event of the Season. Stuart-Whyte, not only at his best; but better than ever.

Dazzling in its Geographicalness. A novel stage setting outclassing all that has been done before in brilliancy and detail, is presented in the gorgeous musical extravaganza "Listen To Me," coming to the Grand Opera House on Wednesday, Oct. 4th, matinee and night. The scene is laid in the frozen North, while a raging snow storm lends atmosphere. It is the land of the midnight sun, where Eskimo villages dot the prairie like stretches of ice, the dog teams resting after their long journeys, great icebergs, and snow crested peaks are bathed by the sombre radiance of the Aurora-borealis. A theatrical party revel in a midnight frolic, engaging in a snowball battle, while a sleigh-bell chorus makes merry. This is the most novel and bewildering scene presented in a long time with a big company of singers, dancers and entertainers, including Barbara Bronell, Beale Dalmore, Betty Dawn Martin, Ross Robertson, Chester M. Gates, Billy Murphy, Joe B. McGee and the smartest, danciest chorus ever here.

"The Masquerader"

Unanimously acclaimed one of the most distinguished actors on the American stage today, it was natural that Guy Bates Post should have been besieged with offers of screen stardom. He has at last accepted and will be seen in "The Masquerader," the Richard Walton Tully production which comes to the Allen theatre today as a First National attraction. It is regarded as fitting that Post's first film vehicle should be "The Masquerader," with its dual roles of Chicote and Loder, for he has been playing them on the stage for over six consecutive years, aggregating more than two thousand performances, all over the United States and Canada. His tours have also included six months' stay in Australia with this play. Furthermore, Post has been under Tully's management for two years; two years in "The Bird of Paradise," four years as the star of "Omar the Tentmaker," and six years in "The Masquerader."

Even before coming under Tully's management, Post had established himself among the leading figures of our theatre. When the New Theatre was organized in New York, with the hope of making it the endowed national home of the finest drama, he was signally honored through being selected, because of his acknowledged merit, to head the company that presented the repertoire of modern drama.

Wallace Reid at Strand.
 There is much to amuse you in "The Dictator," tonight's feature attraction at the Strand theatre that it would take a column to tell you all. But first of all there is Wally Reid, there is Lila Lee, Theodore Kosloff and Walter Long, all ready to make you laugh. The picture abounds in thrills, fights, bandits, romance and love and Wally is a dashing, carefree adventurer, sweeping all before him and yet bowing down beneath the spell of the woman of his heart. You cannot afford to miss this one.

THOUGHT NEAR EAST RULER WAS IN CAFE

Diners Gasp at Joe Kelly Eating Publicly in Bath Robe.

Persons dining at one of the up-town cafes on Princess street on Sunday evening were astounded when a handsome young man entered with a smart bath robe and Persian slippers as his unconventional and only apparel. From beneath and above the robe there was a hint of the unmentionable E. V. D. peeping through.

When there was never a smile on his countenance to betray that it was not the effect of October heat that the diners readily believed that it was some Oriental potentate who had fled from the Near East but those who knew the "know" recognized Joe Kelly, the Beau Brummel of Rex. Snelgrove's aggregation at the Grand Opera House. Rex, bubbling over as usual with merriment, had bet a reasonable sum that the Indianapolis idol would not have the nerve to do the trick. Out Indianapolis way, however, they don't grow them that way and Joe won the money.

"KING BOOHOO" RULES QUEEN'S RUGBYISTS

New Mascot Arrived Last Night and Speedily Selected His Friends.

The king is dead, long live the king.
 "Gee Whiz," Queen's University bear mascot in last year's athletics, grew tired of life and died. The tricolor forces were dismayed and at a loss to know what to do until the Bolshevik Club from among the students acted. They secured a bear cub from Cochrane, Ont., and have presented him to the rugby club.

The new mascot's name is "Boohoo," after "Kling Boohoo," one of the patron saints of the Queen's Bolsheviks and he is a beauty. His appearance is much better than that of his predecessor and he has much more life. Shortly after his arrival he selected "Billie" Hughes, Queen's trainer, as his bosom friend and "Billie" being quite agreeable, he has made rapid progress. "Boohoo" is now receiving daily boxing lessons and has proved himself an apt pupil. The Athletic Board of Control has announced a rugby doubleheader on Wednesday afternoon, the junior R.M.C. team meeting Queen's intermediates at three o'clock and the senior R.M.C. team taking on Queen's senior intercollegiate team at four-thirty. These games will certainly be worth watching. The cadets will have to step lively in both games but their early start in practice will give them good service and they will put up a lively argument. All the Queen's players are reported as rapidly working into condition, and there will be some interesting rugby seen at the Richardson Stadium this fall.

Nobles to Go to Brockville.
 Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will convene in ceremonial session at Brockville on the night of Oct. 20th. ST. LUKE'S ANNIVERSARY Observed on Sunday—The Collection Was For the Organ Fund.

The thirty-second anniversary of the building of St. Luke's church was celebrated at the services on Sunday, when large congregations were present, and a generous collection was obtained for the organ fund. The present church was opened for divine service on Wednesday, Oct. 1st, 1890. The corner stone of the church was laid on June 17th, 1890, by the Right Rev. John Travers Lewis, Lord Bishop of Ontario. It was during the session of Synod, and a number of the clergy and a large assemblage of people were present for the ceremonies. The offertory amounted to $52. Included among the clergy present were the following: Rev. C. E. Cartwright, then chaplain of the Portsmouth penitentiary; A. Spencer, clerical secretary, Ven. Archdeacon, All Saints' church, Kingston; W. B. Carey, St. Paul's; Rev. A. W. Cooke, St. Luke's; Dean B. B. Smith, acting rector, St. George's; Rev. J. K. McMorine, St. George's; Rev. E. H. M. Baker, Bath; Rev. T. M. Harding, curate of St. George's, now Bishop of Qu'Appelle; Canon Loucks, Platon, and Rev. Mr. Cooper, missionary from Japan. Only two of those in the list are alive at the present time: Right Rev. M. M. Harding, D.D., and Rev. J. Cooper Robinson, missionary at Nikata, Japan. Rev. Canon Loucks preached the sermon which was on the duty of public worship. The church was built chiefly by subscriptions from the congregation and from kind friends of the city. Major Charles B. Mayne, R.M.C. staff, collected a large sum from his friends. The building committee consisted of the following: John Green, F. Berry, T. Carter and T. England; the architects being Power & Son.

The site of the church was purchased from the late W. H. Reid. It was felt that a church was needed in this part of the city, and in consequence it, together with Cataragui and the parish adjacent, was formed into a parish, under the name of Cataragui with Williamsville. Before the opening of the church, services were held in the Williamsville public school from July, 1889, until October, 1891, and the attendance was always good.

Rev. Arthur Cooke, father of Rev. O. A. Cooke, Barrie, was the first rector. The first vestry meeting was held in the house of Rev. Mr. Cooke on April 6th, 1891. The first church-worshippers were F. Berry and Thomas England; auditors, Charles Dainty and Dr. M. J. Brown. Those who were at the first meeting of the vestry were: Dr. M. J. Brown, Thomas Carter, John Green, F. Berry, Thomas England, J. Hamer, John Scriven, Charles Dainty, J. Lawson, W. Compton, W. Marsh, Mrs. F. Berry (now Mrs. Clarke), Mrs. England, Mrs. Hamer, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Wiltshire, and Walter Wiltshire, secretary of the meeting. At the morning service on Sunday the rector, Rev. J. DeP. Wright, took a retrospect, showing the self-sacrificing devotion of the pioneers of the church. In the evening, the subject of his sermon was "The Church," and he showed the function of the church and spoke of the great progress St. Luke's is making. Every year witnessed a marked improvement, and special stress was laid on the work of the Sunday school, at which 221 children were in attendance on Sunday.

ANOTHER OFFER FOR STOCK IN NEW HOTEL

Endeavor Being Made to Get American Capital For the Enterprise.
 What has become of the recent proposition put forth by B. N. Rosenbaum, New York, to build a new hotel in Kingston? This is a question that citizens are asking but as far as can be learned, no definite action has been taken as yet, to put over the proposition. The Whig was informed on Monday afternoon that about $20,000 had been subscribed in Kingston, and that Mr. Rosenbaum was endeavoring to secure American capital to put the proposition through, but evidently he has not been able up to date to get sufficient stock subscribed to go through with the deal. On Monday morning, a number of citizens received a letter from Mr. Rosenbaum, in which he stated that he was in a position to offer the eight per cent preferred stock of Canada Hotels, Ltd., par value, $100 per share at $70. It was stated that this offer is good for a limited time only. It has been proposed by Canada Hotels Ltd., to build hotels in several cities in Canada. Local men interested, when spoken to by the Whig, stated that they believed the proposition would go through just as soon as the required stock was raised.

FIVE MILLION DOLLARS OFFERED LLOYD HARRIS

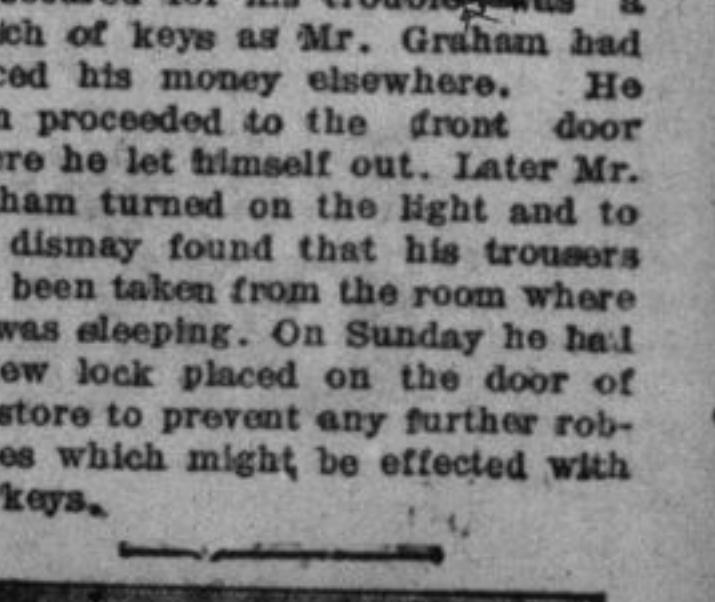

For His Newly-Discovered Rich Oil Well in North Louisiana.

Shreveport, La., Oct. 2.—It is reported here that an offer of five million dollars, part cash and part oil, has been made to Lloyd Harris, Toronto, for his oil well, known as the New Discovery, and the five thousand acres surrounding it. According to the report, a major organization in American oil made the offer direct to Mr. Harris. The Harris oil strike is the greatest in North Louisiana, a great oil producing area since the discovery of the Haynesville pool over a year ago. The Harris well is located in the northern part of Webster Parish and is the third well drilled on his block of acreage there. It is reported to be good for 5,000 to 10,000 barrels daily. A large number of Canadians were here when the oil came in about a month ago. Veterans of the oil business here declare that if such an offer has been made to Mr. Harris he will in all probability refuse it, as his strike is considered to be worth more than this. It is also agreed among the operators that such a sale would probably stifle the development of the block of acreage where the Harris discovery well is located. Christian Science lecture tonight, 8.15 p.m.

STOLE A PAIR OF PANTS

Bold Burglar Entered Home of Edward Graham, 393 Brock Street.

A bold burglar was at work in the city during the early hours of Sunday morning but all he got for his trouble was a pair of pants. The home of Edward Graham at 393 Brock street was the place spotted by the thief as a good place for his work. Mr. Graham, who reached home from his grocery store at the corner of Albert and Princess streets before one o'clock on Sunday morning, retired immediately and placed his trousers over the end of the bed. An hour afterwards he heard someone prowling around the house but thinking that it was another member of the household he turned over and went to sleep. The thief, who was undoubtedly under the impression that Saturday's receipts would be in the pockets of Mr. Graham's trousers, had crawled in through a pantry window, passed by the edibles and delicacies, and made his way to a bedroom occupied by Mr. Graham. He secured for his troubles a bunch of keys as Mr. Graham had placed his money elsewhere. He then proceeded to the front door where he let himself out. Later Mr. Graham turned on the light and to his dismay found that his trousers had been taken from the room where he was sleeping. On Sunday he had a new lock placed on the door of his store to prevent any further robberies which might be effected with the keys.

Eiginburg Men in Possession

Eiginburg, Oct. 2.—Rally day service was held in the Methodist church on Sunday. A number of men from this district were present at the finding of Thomas Smyllis who shot Mrs. R. Aylesworth last Wednesday. A bullet passed between two Eiginburg young men and uprooted a juniper bush very close to them. Mr. and Mrs. C. Ewing entertained the young people of the neighborhood on Friday evening. Mrs. W. Jacobs, Mrs. F. Ball and children, Gananoque, spent the past week with Mrs. A. L. Stover. Mrs. Sarah Counter visited Mr. and Mrs. Jackson a few days last week.
