RELIGIOUS EDUCATIONAL TRAINING OF CHILDREN

Dealt With in Able Sermon at Chalmers Church by Principal Smith.

Religious education of the children, formed the basis of an able discourse, given in Chalmers church, on Sunday morning, by Rev. Principal Smith, D.D., of Vancouver, B.C. Dr. Smith spoke of the new Sunday school being fitted out at Chalmers church, and pointed out the opportunity it presented to the congregation, for work among the children.

"The great problem of life for the individual is how to think and live so that the body and mind may work together in harmony," said the speaker, "so that we might become strong, pure, and worthy of taking our place in this life."

"The problem of the congregation, and of every congregation, is to get the children, when they are little tots, and so influence and mould their body and mind together so that they will grow up in strength, so that when they become young men and women they will glorify God's name. Bring up the children so that they will stand for righteousness and truth. And how is all this to be done? In my judgment it is the most difficult task in all the world to get the young life properly started, or continued when it is started. It is very easy to run a great business, but it is a very hard task to guide the boys and girls. The problem of religious education for efficiency is the great task of the world. It is the business of the home; the business of the school, and the business of the university and the state. There are many agencies at work to bring about what is desired. I want to impress upon you the fact that the work is most tremendous. The opportunity of doing good work along the line of religious education is just the same as in any other education. The principle and the methods are the same.

"What is the problem of religious education? Is it to so inspire the young people so that they will stand by the Christian church? Your new Sunday school, with its splendid equipment, present a fine opportunity for adequate teaching. In the past I think we have been lamentably weak in this work, and it is not the fault of the teachers. It is because we have not put the necessary emphasis in this work. The work of religious education is to take the children and see that they are properly directed. We must take the children at the different stages, so that the work can be properly done. The children must be graded, and the proper material must be provided. This is a very difficult task, and great care must be taken in the handling of the children.

"The only way we can ever meet all the facts and 'isms', and a lot of nonsense all over the world today, is in giving the children the great principles of the word of God. Have them become familiar with the Bible, and in this way they will be able to conquer all these forms. Then there must be recreation and development. I wish to pay tribute to the work of the Sunday school teachers. They are rendering a magnificent service, but I say they should be trained, just the same as in public schools.

"I think religion is very much like love. It comes along the line of personal influence—in an atmosphere that is favorable, such as children in the Christian home. If we would make religious education effective, we must create an atmosphere in the congregation such as would always keep the boys and girls under this influence. There must also be personal sympathy."

In introducing Principal Smith, Rev. Dr. Wilson stated that it was a great pleasure for him to have Dr. Smith preach in Chalmers. Dr. Smith had been a co-worker of his at Vancouver, being minister of St. John's church in that city, when he had the charge at St. Andrew's church. "It is a personal pleasure for me to be here and take part in the service," remarked Dr. Smith. "I knew your minister when he was in Vancouver. We all felt it very keenly when he left us, but since then we have rejoiced in the fact that he has been successful in his work here."

SOCIAL SERVICE SUNDAY

The Subject Was Ably Presented by Speakers in the Churches.

Canon C. W. Vernon, General Secretary for the Council for Social Service of the Church of England in Canada, was the morning preacher at St. George's Cathedral taking for his text Isaiah LVIII 6, 7. "What is the very essence of religion?" This, said the speaker was a question often asked to which the answer usually was that religion means a certain round of observance, bible reading church going, etc. But surely true religion is set forth in our text, and in the New Testament counter part, St. James I, 27. "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

Christ's religion is not only a personal matter, it is a social matter, not merely the selfish saving of our souls but of helping others in the name of Christ to save their souls and bodies. Social service is sometimes regarded as a by-product of religion, but it is rather an expression of the faith and love of God within us.

Referring to the text, the speaker said it pointed out a path to be followed by an united church. What did the evangelical prophet of captive Israel say was the work of the church? "To loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens and to let the oppressed, go free." Work would solve the differences, let us work with our fellow citizens for the betterment of social conditions, go forth as one, an army with banners strong, and finally victorious. Some people will tell you there are no social problems in their community. They don't know about them because they don't want to know. The object of the Council of Social Service is to give every man, woman and child, a chance to become useful, God fearing citizens of our great Dominion, to give a welcome to those coming to us from the motherland, that we may be one, under the cross barred banner of the Empire.

Prayers were offered and gifts of clothing were asked, for the fire sufferers in Northern Ontario.

At Bethel Church.
An instructive and powerful address on the work and need for Social Service Councils in every city of the Dominion was given by Peter MacLaren, Toronto, speaking in Bethel church on Sunday morning. The address was given with the idea of education the congregation of the church in the need of the hour in this line of educational work.

Various Children's Protection Acts, the Workmen's Compensation Act, the minimum wage for girls, movie censorship, and other important legislative work had been largely brought about by the social service council in the province, and this work would go on just as long as there remained evil to eradicate.

In concluding his address, Mr. MacLaren showed the great power of the moving picture playhouses, especially in the United States, where $15 per capita was annually spent upon movies, as against $5 per capita in the extension of the Kingdom of God.

At Queen Street Church.
Peter Bryce, who is in the city in the interests of the formation of a social service council, was the speaker in Queen street Methodist church on Sunday morning. In a concise address he pointed out the need which had given rise to the social service movement and of its spread in recent years. Human sympathy in fellow man's distress had brought about the great social agencies which were now alleviating the which, were they allowed to continue, would strike at the roots of social well-being. He appealed for the assistance of Christians in promoting social welfare.

In Other Churches.
Most of the city pulpits were occupied by speakers in the interests of social service. Canon Vernon was at St. James in the evening; Rev. H. McCulloch in St. Andrew's Presbyterian and Sydenham street Methodist; Albert Agar in the First Baptist and Princess street Methodist; Peter Bryce in Chalmers Presbyterian.

No passengers were injured.
