AMUSEMENTS
What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions
Tonight "Carmen" at Grand. Tonight the De Feo Opera Company gives its only gala performance in our city, of "Carmen," the most tuneful and melodious opera in its repertoire. They arrived early today from Ottawa, where they played on Monday and Tuesday, before crowded houses. The best society of the capital was present at both performances; Lady Elset, Lady Drayton, Lady Foster, Mrs. J. H. King, Mrs. Arthur Meighen, were occupying boxes. The success was so great that the De Feo Opera Company has been asked to return to Ottawa for two more performances in the near future.
The part of "Carmen" will be interpreted by Ada Paget, who sang this part last spring in presence of the King of Spain at the Madrid Opera House. Miss Pauline Cornelys played in "Carmen" at the Paris Opera House, and Richard Bonnell is reputed to be the best baritone after Titta Ruffo. Carlos Milbau, the tenor, hailed from France, and his voice is both beautiful and powerful. Lorenzo Bozano who will be "Zuniga," the fastidious officer, has been singing at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, and has a wonderful stage presence.

Rex Stock Company.
Every dog has his day, and every actor is entitled to his or her evening. Almost all of the prominent members of the Rex Stock Co. have had their chance at one time or the other at a really worth while part, with the exception of that stellar comedienne, Miss Florence Winters in the young woman who excels in "Old Lady" parts, especially if the old lady happens to be a comedy part. This week Florence is to have her chance to show Kingston that a woman can be really funny, playing the part of "Aunt Mary" in "The Girl From Kalamazoo," a comedy adapted from "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary" and played with so much success by May Robson. Many people have read this book and those who haven't have read some of the delightful "Tish" stories in the Saturday Evening Post, and can you imagine a more joyful combination than Florence Winters in this part and Hazel Williams (the Little Red Head), in a part equally as funny, and the balance of the company romping through this furiously funny and famous comedy at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"THE STORM" AN EPIC OF THE FOREST FIRE
Powerful Stage and Screen Hit Booked For the Allen Theatre.

What is more beautiful than the solemn quiet of deep timbered valleys? Or the bizarre mosaics of forest floors? Always the drama of the open country has held a strong spell for young and old. Great lands, waste lands, Nature's virgin wilderness; the glory of the outdoors-holds the fancy of everyone. The soul of the wanderer turns to solitude to "mighty pines and the voice of Silence," or to "a low verandah house in a lobe by the sea." The spirit of the wanderer is in every prosaic citizen. Since the development of Canada and the mad awakening of the Klondike, the glorious beauty of the wooded Northland has been pictured by a corps of brilliant novelists and playwrights. One who found fine drama in the pervading peace of the Northern woods was Langdon McCormick. He wrote "The Storm," a play which took New York by "storm" with its vivid beauty and gripping strength.
This epic of the forests was filmed as a Universal-Jewel special, starring House Peters and directed by the producer of "The Old Nest," Reginald Barker. It comes to the Allen Theatre on Thursday.
The reproduction of the snow-storm scene and the devastating forest fire establishes new records for sensationalism and thrills, even in these busy days. Throughout the action Director Barker has maintained the element of suspense so splendidly that even the most thrill-proof movie fan is going to sit spell-bound. Nothing like it has ever before been presented, and it is easy to understand the glowing commendation heaped on picture and drama alike by the metropolitan press of the country. Virginia Valli is the girl and Matt Moore is the Londoner, while Peters brings his many directness and emotionalism to bear on the starring role of the woodsman. Josef Swickard and Frank Lanning have supporting roles.

Gloria Swanson, Thursday.
Tonight is your last chance to see "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" at the Strand Theatre. For two nights every seat in the house has been filled so it is advisable to be at the theatre early tonight. Commencing with Thursday's matinee Gloria Swanson will be featured in her latest Paramount success, one of "The Big 41," "Her Gilded Cage," a tale of Paris' gay spots and New York's bright lights. Gloria is appearing in a role that is somewhat new to her. She is a Parisian dancer and as such graduates into a stage celebrity and wears fifty gowns that will be a delight for both male and female eyes. She is supported by a cast that will do credit to many big specials. Prominent among her supporting stars is Walter Hiers, the industrious press agent of "The Speed Girl." On the same programme will be offered another episode of "Robinson Crusoe" and Round Two of "The Leather Push-

SPORTING NEWS
This Is No Joke.
The Ottawa Citizen has the following: "In the form they are now traveling, Queens will make the other two Intercollegiate teams step out to keep them off the flag pole at the finish. They romped home with the Rowing Club in handy fashion."
Thinks Well of Varsity.
George Awey, coach of Queen's, who witnessed the Varsity-McGill game on Saturday, has this to say: "Those who think Varsity haven't a strong team this season are making a big mistake. If we defeat them it will be only after a bitter fight. I must confess I was a bit surprised at their showing. They have a strong back-division. McGill held them to a close score for three-quarters of the game but weakened. It was then that the Toronto collegians showed that they have condition as well as speed. I look for one of the greatest games of the year when we play Varsity in Toronto on Oct. 28th."

STRANGE TALE THIS MORNING
But Queen's Athletic Board Says There is Nothing in It.
A member of the Whig staff this morning received a despatch from Montreal to the effect that the playing of "Bud" Thomas, formerly of Ottawa, by Queen's is being protested before the C.I.R.F.U. When questioned by the Whig, Athletic Director George Awey said that so far as the Athletic Board of Control and himself were concerned there was absolutely nothing in it. Queen's has received no notification of any such move and does not in the least expect anything of the sort.
There have been many strange tales in the outside papers lately concerning Batstone and Thomas but they may all be classed as propaganda inaugurated by some unknown parties with a view to luring these two stars from Queen's. There is very little danger of this, as both boys like the college and like their team mates, and both are indignant over the queer yarns being circulated.

Gallagher Is for Leafs.
"Teddy" Gallagher, who twirled for the Ottawa Central League team this past summer, has returned to Kingston, where he will remain until next February. (He will then join the Toronto Leafs and go south with them on their training trip. Should Gallagher not make good with the Leafs he will possibly go to one of the Michigan-Ontario clubs.

To Talk of Winter Sports.
The members of the Naval Brigade, on Tuesday night, listened to a very interesting address by Lieut. Duncan on "Soccer." The game was explained in detail and much interest shown by the questions asked by the members present. It was suggested that three teams be picked and to start playing at once. Despite the rain a good attendance was on hand to discuss the question of sports during the winter, and, after all questions were answered, a vote of thanks was tendered Lieut. Duncan.

W. J. Ranson, town clerk, Prescott, has been appointed fuel controller for the town.
Howard Collins, Millbrook, has been appointed postmaster there. He is a returned soldier, a son of T. B. Collins, Millbrook.

Verandah Thieves at Work; Keep Tab on Valuables
Sneak verandah thieves are at work in the city, so if you have anything you value, don't leave it out on your verandah over night.
The other night, a sneak thief paid a visit to the home of William Aubin, near the corner of King and Gore streets, and made off with a verandah chair. It is reported that from time to time, thefts of this nature have been pulled off and general warning is being given to citizens to guard their valuables.

A Strong Earthquake Shakes Eternal City
Rome, Oct. 11.—A strong earthquake shook this city causing great alarm among the population. No damage, however, had been reported up to one o'clock this afternoon. Apprehension among the people was stimulated by the recollection of similar shocks although much less violent, which occurred in 1917 and continued a whole month.
