SOUTHWEST GALE BLOWS; HAIL AND LIGHTNING

Telephone Lines and Trees Smashed—Kids Gathering Fallen Hickory Nuts.

"The wind she blew and then she blew some more," can be applied to the weather conditions in Kingston on Wednesday night, and although no damage of a very serious nature has been reported, it was about the liveliest wind storm so far this fall.

The Weather Man appears to be serving up a variety of weather these days. Following the heavy rains, there was ideal weather on Wednesday. For the most part, of the day it was very warm. Towards the evening a heavy southwest wind came up and at 10 o'clock it was going at a lively rate, and continued all night, with heavy showers of rain and at one time, about 4.30, a lively hail and lightning storm occurred. Surely after this variety of weather the sun will shine for a time.

During the night the fire alarm system suffered, but as early as 8 o'clock, the fire department had the system in good working order again.

A number of telephones were also put out of order during the storm, and all over the city trees suffered.

It's an ill wind that blows no person good, and as a result of the wind storm hickory nuts were blown off the trees all over the city, and the "kiddies" had the time of their lives gathering in the harvest.

They've Learned a Lot

Have new Fall Skirts. And on the campus or anywhere at all they'll be very charming, as they show their bright new variations. In novelty weaves, smart patterns of Checks, Plaids and Stripes. They come in a host of new colors and combinations. Some are in jaunty styles with pockets and button trimmings; others are plaited or tailored in more conservative styles.

Velvets have come into their own

- COLORS:

 Black

After many moons of "blushing unseen," Velvets are being accorded their rightful place in the fabric family—somewhere near the top if not actually there! Probably no other fabric lends itself so readily to artistic draping. It accentuates the contour of the figure in a variety of alluring ways, fitting smoothly over round lines, and softening the harshness of more rugged angles. Black is always good, so rich looking, and the new brown and blue shades are very different from hues of other years.

$4.50 yard up.

Children Study Better When They Wear Right Shoes

When a child has a stomach-ache or other youthful illness, you soon find it out. But their shoes can be wrong without their knowing it. Soft plastic foot bones simply give way before pressure at the wrong points, and the danger is often overlooked until too late.

The safest, surest, best way is to have each pair of shoes carefully fitted here—then their growing feet will develop naturally and be healthful.
