AN ADDRESS ON DAIRYING

(Continued from Page 1.) and was first opened under the management of Prof. J. W. Robertson, at that time dairy commissioner for Canada. It was built under the auspices of the school of mining and agriculture of Queen's University. Prof. Robertson was asked to appoint a staff. Later on the school was taken over by the provincial government and operated as a provincial institution.

The Best Methods.
The speaker pointed out that the object of establishing a dairy school was for the purpose of giving education in the best methods of cheese and butter-making. In handling milk, there was a great difficulty of deterioration. The milk was constantly undergoing changes. In order to handle the business, one must have some scientific training, and the dairy school attempted to provide this training. One must also know something of the different agencies used in the manufacture of butter and cheese. The finished product could only be judged by the condition of the milk when it was delivered. As a result, the producers had to be reached to show them the best methods. The milk must be sent to factories in the best possible condition. "We aim to produce goods having the highest possible quality. The highest grade is the most profitable to handle. The higher grade gets a better place on the market. The object of the dairy school is to turn out the highest possible quality, and we are limited by the quality of the goods sent in."

"There is a tendency among the consumers generally, to buy cheap food products, that is to say, when they go to buy a pound of butter, they find there is a grade at 40 cents and another grade at say 38 cents or 39 cents. The tendency is to buy the butter at 38 or 39 cents, but we are trying to educate the public who buy cheap grade, that after all, they are buying the dearest product because the quality is something hard to produce. Goods having the highest quality give the best satisfaction and bring return orders. Inferior goods are not the best kind to handle. You do not like your customer to find fault. We are trying to educate the people to pay a little extra for higher products. Unless you get a higher price undoubtedly there is no inducement for a man to produce that quality. For the extra cent in the price of butter, we are giving you extra value. Then, everyone should be satisfied."

Opening of New School.

Prof. Zuleit stated that he hoped to have the new dairy school ready for use by the first of the new year. The contract called for the work to be concluded by Dec. 1st, but he was afraid the work would not be concluded by that time. The dairy school intended to make both cheese and butter in the future. It was the intention to make all kinds of cheese. Soft cheese, for which there was a big demand, would be turned out. The speaker remarked that Canadians were very small cheese eaters, but as butter eaters, the Canadians consumed more than any country in the world. This was the reason for Canada being such a sturdy race.

"Canadians today do not take very kindly to substitutes for dairy products. Oleomargarine is not a substitute for butter. A substitute is something that must take the place. It is an imitation of butter but not a substitute, but I am not saying anything against it. The Canadians are not taking to it. And I might say that Canada has no adulterated butter or cheese. It is all up to the standard set by the market of the world."

The address of Prof. Zuleit was a most interesting and instructive one, and was listened to with great pleasure by the members of the club. On motion of Rotarians Day and Brewin, Prof. Zuleit was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

The president, Lemas A. Guild, presided at the luncheon and at roll call. Rev. J. W. Stephen and "Jerry" Stanton were introduced as guests. The usual "sing-song" was brimful of "pop," and the luncheon was one of the most enjoyable held by the club.

Business? Well, Yes!

There is an increasingly good volume of live business being transacted in Kingston every day. In spite of calamity howlers, the facts talk, and there is business to be had for the live man who will go out and get it. During the month of October, H. B. Wilson, of the Uprawn Post Office and The Gift Shop, reports the following real estate transferred by him and all settled in good order:

- No. 96 Toronto street, $3,800.
- No. 98 Toronto street, $3,800.
- Stewart street, $4,400.
- Stewart street, $4,400.
- Double house on Division street, $6,500.
- No. 389 Alfred street, $4,500.
- Alfred street, $4,000.
- House and lot, Division street, $1,800.

Arrange for Inspection.

In his address to the members of the Kingston Rotary Club, on Friday, Prof. L. A. Zuleit stated that when the new dairy school was opened, it was the intention to have certain days set aside as "visitors' day," and that visitors would be made welcome, and that steps would be taken to put on certain tests for the benefit of the visitors. Prof. Zuleit extended an invitation to the members of the Rotary Club to make an inspection of the new school after it was opened.

As soon as the impossible happens it isn't.

CASSELMAN-LERONGE WEDDING.

At the Home of the Bride's Parents on Thursday.

The wedding took place on Thursday evening, November 2nd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. J. Leronge, 524 Princess street, of their only daughter, Ida, to William M., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Casseleman, Belleville, the ceremony being conducted by Rev. J. S. LaFlair. There were about fifty guests present for the occasion.

The happy young couple received many beautiful presents from their host of friends in this city and in Belleville, the groom's gift to the bride being a rope of pearls. Mrs. J. S. LaFlair played the wedding march, while the bride, gowned in midnight blue satin, with touches of henna and carrying a corsage bouquet of roses, entered the drawing-room on the arm of her father. The bridesmaid, Miss Alice Doolan, Kingston, was attired in brown panne velvet. The groomsmen were T. Turney, Belleville.

Among the out-of-town guests were Misses Bessie and Ethel Casseleman, Belleville; Mrs. Kelly, Ottawa; and J. Pelow, Gananoque.

The bride has taken a very active interest in the Sunday school and young people's work in the First Baptist church, and she was one of its most popular members. The young couple will reside in Belleville.

MISS JEAN WILTON WINNER.

Of the French Alliance Medal Offered to Matriculants.

In order to foster the study of French in the schools of Kingston the local Alliance-Francaise last spring offered a medal to the pupil of our secondary schools who obtained the highest standing in French at the annual June matriculation examinations. The association has been informed by the Department of Education that the winner of this medal is Miss Jean C. Wilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilton, 77 Arch street. Miss Wilton was a pupil of the Collegiate Institute, from which school she obtained full matriculation standing last June. As there were some 150 candidates for this examination in French from the three secondary schools of the city, Miss Wilton's success in winning first place is a notable one. She is now registered at Queen's, where she is pursuing her studies in French. The presentation of the medal will take place at an early date at a regular Alliance meeting. Miss Wilton is receiving the congratulations of her many friends upon her splendid success.

Crystal Springs U.F.W.O. Social.

The Crystal Springs U.F.W.O. Club held a social evening Thursday for the relief of the Northern Ontario fire sufferers and in addition to providing an evening of great amusement a nice sum was realized. It was a Halloween masquerade and costumes were unique in design and dazzling. The first prize was awarded to Miss Lilias Henderson for the best costume, and the consolation to Harold Baker. There was a splendid programme of music and dancing and refreshments were served. Much credit for the success of the event is due to the committee in charge. It was composed of Mrs. J. D. Morris, county director, as convener, Mrs. Arthur Day, Mrs. Charles Walker, Mrs. G. F. Murton, Miss G. Murton, Mrs. McNeil and Miss Rees.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent colds, or if it does come on suddenly their prompt use will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Three Minute Journeys

Where a Bride Weeps For Eight Days After Her Wedding.

There is no doubt that the Bahama tribesmen in Uganda, Central Africa—literally in the very heart of Africa—are the wildest and most uncivilized people of the world.

Travelers, or we should say adventurers, who have been in this wilderness have come out with amazing tales and accounts of unusually peculiar customs.

Perhaps the most interesting of these extraordinary customs is the manner in which a bride is supposed to conduct herself after her marriage.

To begin with, a bride is literally dragged away from her home by her husband. Her family tie a rope around her leg and hold her fast. Then the bridegroom pulls as hard as he can. If he cannot succeed in overcoming the strength of his bride's family they weaken their hold on the fetter and make it appear that the husband has won this tug-of-war.

Then the victorious bridegroom takes his bride to the home of his mother.

All of the young girls with whom the bride has spent her girlhood follow to keep her from being lonely, because her husband leaves her as soon as he deposits her safely in his home.

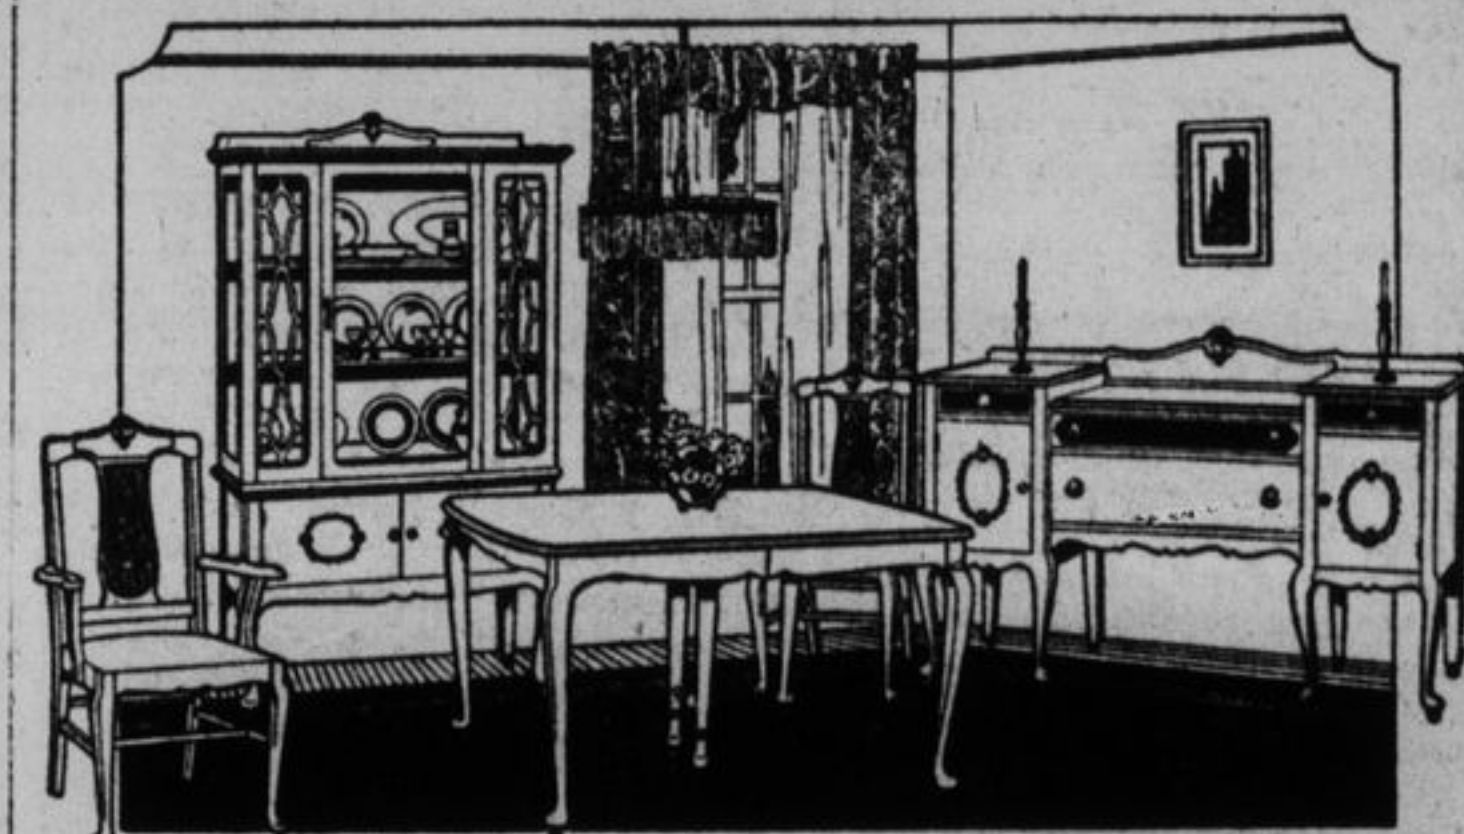

But, this is not a gay, gossiping lot of chattering girls. It is a serious concourse. In fact, it is the correct thing to do at one of these affairs to act as if it were a funeral, instead of a wedding party.

These girls may be said to correspond to the bridesmaids of our weddings. But what a difference! Who could be more joyful than our brides, surrounded by the lifelong friends they choose to attend them on their wedding day?

In Africa, such a meeting is a mournful occasion. The "bridesmaids" weep and wail. Bedium is turned loose in the new mother-in-law's house. The most passionate weeping is
