WESTERN PROSPERITY.

Wave of Optimism Follows In Wake of Bumper Crop.

A note of optimism is sounding in Western Canada more clearly than for several years, for with the fulfillment of the promise of bountiful harvest, the people's confidence in the country's immediate future is being rapidly renewed. Ever since the last ten days of August, the 1922 crop has been moving out through Winnipeg at the rate of 500,000 bushels a day over the Canadian Pacific lines, and about 500 cars a day over the Canadian National line.

Winnipeg is perhaps feeling the optimism most strongly. Forecast of a huge yield some months ago made its impression on the citizens, and showed in an increase in building, in retail, and in wholesale business. The flow of new capital is sure to arouse a still greater demand for new buildings, as many industrial projects have been delayed because of lack of ready money.

If the lessons learned during the period of depression are not forgotten, the new prosperity should be even greater than ever before. The farmers, and, indeed, the citizens of every occupation, discovered at that time that there were many things with which they might dispense. They learned to pay cash and to purchase only what they could actually afford.

It Was to Check!

What is to be the effect of the new tariff measure on reciprocal tariff policy hereafter is being closely studied by many members of Congress. It is declared by members of the House Ways and Means Committee, who had a large part in shaping the conference report that the purpose of the bill is not to encourage reciprocity, but rather to force other nations not to discriminate against the United States in their tariffs.

The statistics issued cover 130 private and elementary schools in eight provinces reporting during the year 1921. Of these, 40 schools, with 588 teachers and 7,535 pupils, were in Ontario.

Read both halves of the news. LOOKING over all the normal activities of life which hold your interest—your city, your church, your school, your sport, your good works, there is not a single one that has not been promoted and fostered by having public attention focused upon it in the Daily Newspapers of your community. Facts about personal happenings of this kind have come to be called news; facts about retail business are spoken of as "advertising." There is no actual difference between the two. Read both. As a consumer you have as much interest in the day's advertising news as any person has in civic, religious and recreational events. How else can you keep informed of what is newest and best to eat, to wear and to use; how can you know who is selling on the best terms and pledging his name and resources to back the quality and worth of his brand and trademark? Daily newspaper advertising is the soil in which new comforts and economies are grown daily for your benefit. It is news of value and interest to every one of us who must spend money daily just to live. Issued by the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, Toronto.
