21ST BATTALION HELD ENJOYABLE RE-UNION

Kingston Was Well Represented at Banquet Held in Belleville.

The fourth annual re-union of the 21st Battalion was held in Belleville on Friday evening with about one hundred and sixty present, of which fifty were from Kingston. The affair was a huge success in every way, and the event will be long remembered by all those who were fortunate enough to be present. Old-times were revived, and although the memory of those comrades who had fallen in Flanders' Fields brought a touch of sadness to the event, the hardships and trials of the war were forgotten, friendships were renewed, and nothing was left undone to make the big re-union really go "over the top."

The party of Kingstonsians were met at the station by their Belleville comrades, and the combined pipers of the P.W.O.R., Kingston, and the Argyll Light Infantry, Belleville, together with the goat mascot "man", headed the parade through the streets to the Armouries, where the members were received in the officers' mess of the Light Infantry. Major A. L. Johnson, chairman of the committee of Belleville comrades, who arranged the affair, acted as toastmaster during the banquet that followed in the Hotel Quinte.

After the toast to "The King," the toast to "Canada," was proposed by Major Hanna, Belleville, and was responded to by Lt.-Col. H. E. Fense. The health of the 21st Battalion was proposed by Lt.-Col. R. Vandewater, formerly of the 2nd Battalion, and responded to by Brig-General W. St. P. Hughes, the original commander of the 21st. Regt-Sergt-Major T. J. Jordan proposed "Our Fallen Comrades" and this toast was responded to by Major W. E. Kidd in a very feeling address.

The members present unanimously endorsed the 21st Memorial fund, which has been under consideration for some few months. It was decided to hold the next re-union, in 1923 in either Toronto or Ottawa.

Saturday's market previous to Thanksgiving Day, was well stocked with all sorts of good things, with which to load the table on that occasion. DEAD BODY OF MAN FLOATING IN THE WATER

Discovery Was Made Near the Waterworks' Wharf Saturday Morning.

On Saturday morning about 9.30 o'clock, the dead body of an unknown man was found floating in the water about three hundred yards from the wharf of the city waterworks department. Alexander Scruton, who was out fishing, noticed an object floating in the water, and on getting his boat closer to the scene, he discovered it to be the body of a man. He immediately notified the police department, and Constable Nicholas Timmerman responded. A motor boat was secured, and the body was brought to the shore. S. S. Corbett's ambulance was summoned and the body was removed to the undertaking parlors.

From the condition of the body, it would appear that it had been in the water for at least a couple of weeks. The face is badly bloated, and it is almost impossible to state the age of the man.

When the clothes were removed from the body it was found that the one of the Kingston papers, regarding the Bridgen case, that the man was a Roman Catholic in religion, was shown by the fact that he had the identification mark of the order of the Sacred Heart.

It is thought that the body may be that of Albert Wiseman, harness maker, who has been missing from his home for the past eighteen days. The police are endeavoring to locate the wife of Mr. Wiseman, to see if she can identify the body as that of her husband.
