

A DEMOCRAT VICTORY WON

Revolt in the United States Against Republican Rule.

DEMOCRATS ARE LEADING

In the Tabulation of the House of Representatives Standing.

New York, Nov. 8.—Swinging back with a tremendous reversal to the trend of 1921, the political pendulum has carried the Democratic party into a commanding position in state and national affairs, the results of Tuesday's election showed. Men who stood close, personally and politically, to President Harding and his administration and who, as members of congress, actively helped make effective the Harding politics, were swept from their political pedestals, and Democrats took their places. While the incomplete character of the figures early to-day make it impossible to state how the text house and senate will exactly stand, it was apparent that the Republican control of the house will be retained by a slender margin, if at all, and may be lost entirely. The Republicans now have a house majority of 168. The Democrats have reduced the Republican control of the senate from 24 to 16 or 17.

The victory exceeded the optimistic forecasts of the Democratic party chieftains, who were frankly amazed at the extent of the popular revolt as the returns came in. Not only were Democratic candidates for house and senate successful, but many new Democratic governors were chosen, together with Democratic state tickets. The possibility still existed early to-day that in some cases where the congressional and gubernatorial contests were close, Democratic gains might be scaled down somewhat. But on the basis of settled contests, the Democrats to-day had registered remarkable gains.

Outstanding Features.

The outstanding feature of the off-year upset included a tremendous Democratic victory in New York state, where Al Smith, Democratic candidate for governor; Royal S. Copeland for United States senator, and the entire Democratic state ticket, with the exception of a majority of state assemblymen, were elected; the closest election of many years in Massachusetts, where Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, dean of the senate, Republican leader, and one of the moving spirits of the Harding administration, was fighting for his political life against Col. William A. Gaston, Democrat; the defeat in New Jersey of Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen, intimate friend of President Harding, by Governor Edward S. Edwards, Democrat, and the most keenly felt of all by the administration, the loss of Ohio, where V. Donahay, Democrat, appeared to have defeated Thompson, Harding's choice for governor.

The Democrats made a strong bid for the governorship of Kansas, won a senatorship in Indiana, the governorship of Nebraska, Arizona, Oregon and Oklahoma. All over the nation they cut down the huge Republican majorities of two years ago, and in states where they did not score overwhelming victories, restored the normal balance as it existed before the Harding landslide two years ago.

Democratic Gains.

The Democrats appeared definitely to have gained senate seats from these states: New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Indiana, West Virginia. They lost one in Nebraska. Seats now held by democrats were in doubt in Ohio and Wyoming. Republican senatorial seats in doubt were Massachusetts and Washington. In the house, the Democrats won back everything they lost two years ago, in the south, and scored heavy gains in normally Republican territory.

Scattering and incomplete returns indicated the following Democratic gains: New York 14 seats, Pennsylvania 7, Ohio 6, Illinois 6, New Jersey 5, Tennessee 2, Virginia 1, Kentucky 3, Indiana 5, West Virginia 5, Washington 1, Oklahoma 4, Kansas 5, Iowa 1, Nebraska 4, Maryland 1, Massachusetts 1, Michigan 1, Minnesota 1, Missouri 11.

Morning Tabulation.

New York, Nov. 8.—The Associated Press tabulation of the vote of the house of representatives this morning showed Democrats 178, Republicans 171, Socialist 1. Only twenty states were then completed. Following are the gains registered by the Democrats in the house of representatives by states. The figures show how the new house delegates will stand with the Democratic gain in each case indicated: New York—Democrats 25, Republicans 18, Democratic gain 7. New Jersey—Democrats 4, Republicans 5, Democratic gain 5. Illinois—Democrats 6, Republicans 5, Democratic gain 1.

RECORD YEAR AT HOSPITAL

Small Deficit Reported—$100,000 Cheque From H. W. Richardson Estate.

At the annual meeting of the board of governors of Kingston General Hospital on Tuesday evening, the retiring chairman, R. E. Kent, presented his report covering the last year. He was very optimistic throughout. He alluded to the financial statement, which showed an expenditure of 125,156, with receipts for 123,073, leaving a deficit of 2,083 for the year. Several members of the board just then ventured the statement that not another hospital in the country had ended the year with such a satisfactory statement. The chairman expressed his great appreciation of the generous support that had been given to the hospital during the year and the splendid response made by the churches, also to the many friends of the hospital for their Christmas donations, all of which had greatly helped in the financing of the work.

A report was also received from the Woman's Aid Society, which told of their work on behalf of the hospital, and that they had been able to hand over $1,571 for linen, blankets and the salary of the dietitian. Next came a report from the Nurses' Alumnae association, giving an account of their work for the year. A special vote of thanks was passed to these two societies for their good work and interest which they have for many years taken in Kingston General Hospital.

Superintendent's Report.

The superintendent's report proved to be exceedingly interesting to the governors and gave a lot of information of present and contemplated changes in the rules and regulations, which will all tend towards greater efficiency. The report from the training school of nurses was read by the medical superintendent. It stated that the school now consisted of eighty nurses, that there had been 110 applications during the year out of which the superintendent had selected thirty-eight. Twenty-eight nurses graduated in May. The nurses' quarters are at present rather overcrowded, but this will be to some extent relieved when the new service building is opened.

Next came a report from the chairman of the building committee telling of the progress so far made in the large scheme of reconstruction. He mentioned that under construction next year was the new clinical building, perhaps the most important of all the new buildings. This will be a handsome building facing Stuart street, just west of the main building.

$100,000 Cheque.

The chairman reported to the governors present the receipt of a cheque of one hundred thousand dollars from Mrs. H. W. Richardson from the estate of her late husband and giving certain instructions concerning it. A most hearty vote of thanks was passed by the meeting and the gift will be personally acknowledged by the chairman.

Two new members were added to the Board of Governors, namely Captain John Donnelly and Dr. H. E. Day. James Minnes, chairman of the nominating committee brought in the following report, recommending that the present committee of management be re-elected, which was unanimously agreed to by the board. The following is the committee for the year: R. E. Kent, (chairman); F. G. Lockett, vice-chairman; A. F. Chown, honorary secretary; R. F. Elliott, Harold Davis, William Jackson, members of committee of management.

The visiting governors for the month are Rev. Dr. R. J. Wilson and Sheriff Vair.

PAYS FIRST VISITS HERE

Lieutenant-Governor Cockshutt Receives Civic Welcome.

ALD. KENT READS ADDRESS

Members of City Council in Attendance—Col. Cockshutt Goes to Queen's.

Kingston was honored on Wednesday by an official visit from His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Col. Harry Cockshutt, and he received a fitting reception from the acting mayor and aldermen at the city hall, where an address was presented to him by Ald. R. E. Kent, acting mayor in the absence from the city of Mayor Corbett.

His Honor reached the Kingston Junction via the Canadian National Railway and was met by Major-General J. H. Elmsley, general officer commanding M.D. No. 3, and the party motored direct to the city hall, where the official reception took place. Acting Mayor Kent introduced the Lieutenant-Governor to the aldermen and city officials and then read the following address:

"To His Honor Colonel Harry Cockshutt, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario: "May it please your Honor: As acting Mayor during the unavoidable absence of His Worship, Mayor S. S. Corbett, it gives me great pleasure, on behalf of the citizens of Kingston, to welcome to our city the lieutenant-governor of Ontario.

"Kingston is the oldest city in the province, originally having been chosen by Frontenac as a site for a fort and fur trading depot, and possesses a unique historical interest. We purpose to celebrate next year the 250th anniversary of its foundation. Although in commercial and industrial progress it has been surpassed by other cities in Ontario, yet it claims to have contributed an important share towards the welfare of our country, especially along educational lines and through its contribution of men who materially molded the national destiny. Queen's University and the Royal Military College have given it a special distinction among our educational centres, and its military traditions ever since the founding of Fort Frontenac have enhanced its interest for all students of Canadian history. This neighborhood was one of the earliest to receive United Empire Loyalists, and the city was for a time the seat of the Provincial Government.

"It is a source of satisfaction to us to note that, as our lieutenant-governor, you are extending your acquaintance with all parts of the province, and are thus widening your familiarity with the institutions, the development and the requirements of our country. "We share your well-known desire to advance the highest interests of Ontario, to develop sentiments of good fellowship among the citizens of the province at large, to spread abroad a knowledge of the advantages of the various parts of the province and a general understanding of its opportunities and problems, to promote the best mutual relations of the various provinces of our dominion, and to contribute to the progress and stability of our empire.

"We have no doubt that your wide experience in financial, commercial and industrial affairs will enable you to render most helpful service in the administration of government during this period of world-wide readjustment and re-organization, and we trust that your tenure of office may be marked alike by successful effort in the discharge of your important duties and by the advancement of the best interests of our country.

Governor's Programme.

His Honor replied feelingly, thanking the acting mayor for his kind expressions. He had a great interest in Kingston, a city that occupies an enviable place in the history of Canada. Following the formalities, which took place at the main entrance to the city hall, His Honor was conducted to the city memorial hall, where he was deeply impressed by the beauty of the hall, and Kingston's manner of perpetuating the memory of her sons who fell in the great war. He left with Major Gen. Elmsley for Queen's University and was received at the residence of the principal, Dr. Bruce Taylor. At 2.30 he witnessed a practice game of football and then inspected the various departments of Queen's University.

600,000 AMERICANS LIVING IN CANADA

Railway Official Tells Syracuse Clubmen Something About This Country.

Syracuse, N.Y., Nov. 8.—The development of Canada during the last decade and its possibilities in the future were outlined to members of the Zonta and Kiwanis clubs by Dewitt Foster, superintendent of resources of the Canadian National railways, at a joint meeting at the Onondaga.

Mr. Foster declared the Canada which stretched away to the north for hundreds of miles embraces one of the greatest pasture lands in the world, which, it is claimed, is capable of sustaining a million reindeer and an equal number of caribou; the great McKenzie basin in which are enough tar sands in the natural state exposed and near the surface to supply asphalt for all the cities; and oil lands which have been discovered recently in the same region.

The real Canada is very different from the Canada imagined by those who have never visited it, declared Mr. Foster. It is not a land of ice and snow, great distances to be traversed with enormous difficulty and lack of all facilities, but a temperate land similar to New York state with tremendous possibilities which are rapidly being seized by thousands of Americans who are emigrating to the country. There are already 600,000 in the dominion, according to Mr. Foster.

SIR AUCKLAND GEDDES

"Stay where you are," is his advice to young Canadians, on his visit to the Dominion. He says that if Canadians stood by their country in peace as they did in war, its progress would be ten times as great.

FEWER BOBBED HEADS.

London is saying goodbye to Flapper Type. London, Oct. 24.—(By mail)—The "flapper type" of young girl is rapidly disappearing in London. The first signs of waning popularity is the discarding of bobbed hair. According to West End hair-dressers shortened locks are no longer approved, and the coming winter season will see new styles in the art of hair dressing. The most popular substitute for bobbed hair is a short pompadour, and the use of a small ribbon or wreath. This is the favorite style of Princess Mary.

The reversion in hair dressing has even gone to the extent that small amounts of false hair will be used this winter. The new color for fall hats is "green almond", and veils will be worn extensively. The small hat with a well fastened across the front, which was popular during the war.

Aubrey Harris, Parry Sound, was struck in the head by a bullet from an unknown hunter, and is in a serious condition. Rev. C. W. Nicol, Westminster Presbyterian church, Ottawa is resigning, owing to ill-health.

CLARION CALL IS SENT OUT

For Unlimited Contributions For Northern Ontario Relief.

A GIGANTIC TASK AHEAD

Of the Relief Committee According to Fire Marshal F. P. Heaton.

Charlton, Nov. 8.—Sending out a clarion call for unlimited contributions to the Northern Ontario relief fund, Fire Marshal E. P. Heaton made the following statement at the close of the fire probe session in this town yesterday before adjourning, and at the close of the taking of evidence at the extreme north-west portion of the fire area: "I would like to take opportunity of urging on the press correspondents the sending out of a clarion call to the people of the dominion in general and the province of Ontario in particular, to place the Northern Ontario fire relief committee in sufficient cash funds to enable it to provide for the gigantic task that is before it. During our tour of the devastated area, we have had occasion to hear and see cases of almost unparalleled suffering even now existing. It is only right that the people of this province should be brought to a full realization that the acute period of suffering and distress has not yet arrived. Stories of wonderful heroism have come to us, and undoubted optimism is manifested throughout this whole territory, and, with feelings impressed upon me by sights and evidence, I think I should with very strong and earnest appeal ask that the relief committee be placed in the position to meet the claims that must be made upon it. It may not be part of our duty to discuss or consider this feature of the terrible disaster, but it is right and proper that a clear and distinct call should emanate from us as to how we have found the circumstances during the past two weeks."

DRINK ON C.N.R. DINERS.

Beer and Wine Privilege Soon to Be Granted. Quebec, Nov. 8.—It is understood that the dining cars operated by the Canadian National Railways in this province, which are not yet benefited from the Quebec Liquor Law provisions, are soon to be given the necessary permission to serve wines and beers at meals. At present the Canadian Pacific Railway and other lines operating here have been given licenses but, in accordance with a policy followed by the old Intercolonial Railway, the railway authorities had never asked for this privilege. The special permits will likely be effective from the first of December or at the latest for the new year.

Lots of Soft Coal.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 8.—Stocks of bituminous coal stored by commercial consumers and retailers in the United States on Oct. 1st, were approximately as great as in normal years, in spite of the five months' coal strike of 1922, according to figures given out yesterday by Federal Distributor Spens.

President Harding will not proclaim a national holiday on Armistice Day this year in the United States. Rebel outrages are growing worse in Ireland.

FULL IMMERSION FOR CENTENARIAN

North Carolina Woman Joins the Baptist Church at Age of 104.

Greensboro, N.C., Nov. 8.—Mrs. Susan Pruett, of Casar, Cleveland County, N.C., hold the most unique place in the baptismal records of the Baptist Church the world over. She was baptized at the age of 104, lacking just a few days of being 105 years of age. She was taken from a sick bed and immersed, all the way under, the water closing over her head. She insisted that the immersion be complete, even should she die under the strain. People came from 100 miles around to a sight that they can relate in years to come to their grandchildren. More than 1,000 persons assembled to witness the symbol of the old woman's faith.

Yesterday a few weeks after the baptism, she is apparently no worse from it. In all those years she had not joined the Church. She was known as an excellent woman, one who visited the sick, who fed the poor, who was on hand in any way of the emergency among whom she lived. About four months ago she fell and fractured her hip. Ill, helpless, bed-ridden, she became converted, and expressed her firm determination to be baptized and to unite with the Baptist Church.

ASK COUNCIL FOR $5,000

To Help Defray Cost of Celebrating Kingston's 250th Anniversary

The Kiwanis Club wants the city council to put the sum of five thousand dollars at the disposal of the committee having in hand the arrangements for celebrating the 250th anniversary of the founding of Kingston in July, 1923. A large delegation of the club, headed by B. N. Steacy, president, waited upon the council at its meeting on Tuesday evening and made its request. H. C. Nickle was the chief spokesman and explained that the Kiwanis Club was backing up the efforts of Major-General Sir A. C. Macdonell, president of the Kingston Historical Society, to have a monster celebration here in honor of the 250th anniversary of Kingston's birthday. Nothing short of $5,000 would suffice if the committee were to go to the dominion and provincial governments and ask for grants for the celebration of this national historical event. The city itself must contribute one-quarter of the cost, which was estimated at $20,000.

It was desired that a fitting celebration should be arranged, one that would bring thousands of visitors from all parts of the country and from other countries. Mr. Nickle declared that the event would be the biggest advertisement Kingston would receive in many a year. He knew that the civic finance committee had a fund that was yet almost untouched and which would provide almost the whole of the five thousand dollars required. It was essential that the grant be made within the next month, for the committee had to get to work and augment the civic grant and prepare for the great event.

Ald. Graham, who presided at the council meeting in the absence of Mayor Corbett, stated that he would bring the matter to the attention of the finance committee. Mr. Nickle said that the Kiwanis Club would like to have representatives at the finance meeting so that the matter would be fully discussed.

Another Industrial Site.

On the recommendation of the industries committee, the council decided to submit a by-law to the people on December 4th for the purchase of the forty acres or more owned by the Kingston Brick and Tile Company on Division street for the sum of $9,000, to be used for industrial or other purposes. The option on this property was turned over to the city by Ald. Cohen, who stated that if the city did not buy, he would do so himself. The C.P.R. line ran through the property, which was admirably situated for industrial sites. Ald. Fetters, chairman of the industries committee, strongly recommended the proposition, as also did Ald. (Continued on Page 6.)

Oriental Traders Run Vancouver

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 8.—Records of the city of Vancouver's License Department indicate that 1,658 Chinese and Japanese are licensed tradesmen within the city limits. This does not include Orientals working for a salary. Dotted up and down the city, and confined to no particular quarter these Orientals are engaged in 39 separate lines of business, including one bootblack, 261 tobacconists and 31 licensed druggists. U. F. O. members are solid against fusion with any party.

THE PEOPLE ARE TO VOTE

As to Whether Daylight Saving Time Shall Continue.

COUNCIL WANTS DECISION

It Is Claimed That the Majority Are Opposed to Daylight Saving.

The ratifiers are to be asked on the 4th of December to vote on a referendum as to whether they wish daylight saving time continued in Kingston next year. The city council on Monday night passed a by-law providing for the taking of the referendum. In January, 1921, the people, by a vote of 1,249 to 787, decided in favor of daylight saving, and the council put their wishes into effect by a by-law, which stands until repealed. An attempt was made Tuesday night to repeal this by-law when Ald. Peters introduced a measure for that purpose. The council, however, by a vote of 8 to 5 in committee of the whole decided not to make the repeal.

Ald. Peters claimed that daylight saving time was of no benefit to Kingston. Only a few places used it, and it would be better to abandon it unless the Dominion government made it to apply to all Canada. With a place here, and a place there using daylight saving, and most places retaining standard time, there was great confusion. Ald. Peters said that daylight saving was all right for sport and for people who wished to go auto riding in the evening, but the business men and also the women of Kingston were opposed to it, and he was sure that if a vote were taken they would soon under the measure.

Ald. Driscoll agreed with Ald. Peters. Daylight saving time was no longer necessary. It was all right in war time. The working classes were opposed to it, and the women were also against it. Ald. Chown could not agree with the two previous speakers. He heard no murmurs against daylight saving time in summer. He thought it a good thing and he was in business himself.

Ald. Holder was in favor of retaining standard time all the year round, and supported the by-law for the repeal of the new time measure. Ald. Cohen suggested waiting until next year. He could not see why the council of 1922 should be so concerned about daylight saving in 1923. It had permitted the new time to be effective the present year. Ald. Laturney wanted the question submitted to the people first. The people had voted for daylight saving time in January, 1921, and they should be consulted about repealing the by-law. The council should not take the matter into its own hands.

Ald. Angrove was in favor of referring the matter to the people at the coming elections. Let them decide, he said. Ald. Graham declared that daylight saving time was detrimental to the city and the by-law should be repealed. A vote was taken, and the by-law of Ald. Peters was defeated by 8 to 6. Then Ald. Peters submitted a by-law for the taking of the vote of the people on the matter, and this was agreed to, although Ald. Bawden thought that a petition should first come from the people.

William Hohenzollern Walks Alone No Longer

Doorn, Holland, Nov. 8.—William Hohenzollern's walks, solitary no longer, were continued under the castle grounds to-day. With his new wife arm in arm he visited the rose pavilion where he not long ago made his proposal of marriage. This little Dutch community, especially the feminine section of it, is still waging tongues over the disturbance of the Sabbath calm occasioned by the former emperor's wedding, but at the same time there is righteous indignation among the women that no chance was afforded them of seeing the bride.

Activity in Lumber Circles.

Quebec, Nov. 8.—The Price Brothers Co., it was learned this evening, has decided to double the capacity of its mills in the Lake St. John district. The work will start early next spring, and when completed will place the company in an unrivalled position in the lumber and pulp business in Canada. Extraordinary activity is reported in the lumber business this year in northern Quebec, the exportation being a record one. The Price Bros. Company is said to have shipped five full ships of lumber in the last few days, and several others are taking cargo before the severe weather. The Allies will squelch any bullying tactics by the Kemalists at Constantinople. The Liberal convention for Lanark will be held Wednesday.
