LIFE'S SOCIAL SIDE.

Under the flags of the Allies strung over head, the students of Queen's spent a most enjoyable evening in Chalmers church hall, at the annual reception given on Tuesday evening. Dr. and Mrs. Wilson received the guests, who filled the hall, over flowed through the building and found the large corridors of the new Sunday school department with its splendid equipment, a pleasant place for a chat. Guessing games were played and a programme of music with violin number by Miss Leslie Taylor a character song by Gladstone Wood, splendidly enacted, a song by Miss Christine Diack, one of Kingston's sweetest girl singers and music by an orchestra, was much enjoyed. Refreshments were served the hospitality of Chalmers' ladies being taxed to supply cake and sandwiches for a record crowd.

Orphan's Guild Euchre.
The euchre held on Monday evening in the recreation hall of the House of Providence, under the auspices of the Orphan's Guild, had for convener Mrs. M. Lambert and Miss I. Shaw. These ladies had for assistants, Mrs. J. Bieff, Mrs. P. Grattan, Mrs. A. McConville, Mrs. Cromien, and the Misses K. and L. Grimshaw, B. Shaw, I. Lambert, and H. Reid. There were thirty-two tables in play. The ladies' prize, which was keenly contested for, was won by Mrs. W. Maiden, the gentlemen's prize going to L. Prudhomme.

In a great measure man is the creator of fate.

Christmas

is almost here, but before you do one bit of shopping consult the December Delineator. It will solve many of your gift problems and save you money. There are several pages of gifts for you to make—a lamp having a vase for the base, a doll with a dollar bill for a face, and a 50c. piece for a face. There's an article on decorating windows and doors. And a dictionary of Christmas gifts for everyone—in fact, everything for an easy and merry Christmas.

CANCER!

What do you know about cancer symptoms? Dr. Francis Carter Wood, of Columbia University, says that many cancer victims die needlessly because of ignorance. Read his article "On Guard Against Cancer" in the December Delineator. Did you know that the beginning of cancer is usually painless? That discomfort after eating may mean a cancerous condition? That a mole which is irritated may turn into a cancer? These are some of things he discusses in his important article.

George Bar McCutcheon

Zona Gale, Harold Titus and Courtney Ryley Cooper—all famous authors—have stories in the December Delineator. And on page 72 you will find a list of well-known authors, who have been signed up by the Delineator for 1923. The very best to be had in fiction is offered to Delineator readers every month. Sometimes as much as $30,000 is spent for a serial story.

The DELINEATOR is really and truly a very interesting and helpful Magazine. For not only does it deal with above subjects, but also contains page after page of the new winter fashions, the patterns of which we keep at this store. The patterns are easy to understand, and the DELTOR, which is enclosed with every pattern, saves you time and money.

—and speed depends upon shoes to a large degree. One's mind may be quick as a flash, but that doesn't help unless shoes grip, giving speed in get-away and stop. Our shoes for basketball, football, or any other sport have the endorsement of the best men in the field of sports.
