ACTION WAS DEFERRED ON CELEBRATION GRANT

Deputation From Kiwanis Club Waits on Civic Financial Committee.

The members of the civic finance committee, at a meeting held on Thursday evening, had under consideration the request of the Kingston Kiwanis Club, that a grant of $5,000 be given to the committee having in hand the celebration to mark the 25th anniversary of the founding of Kingston next summer. The matter was put before the committee, in an able manner, by a deputation from the Kiwanis club, but action was deferred by the committee. It is hoped that the committee will accede to the wishes of the deputation, as citizens in general are anxious to make the celebration a great success.

The request for a grant to a celebration committee was first brought up by the Kiwanis Club, and at once received the hearty support of the members of the Kingston Rotary Club, who feel that the city should do everything in its power to put over the celebration big. It is the opinion of the Rotary Club that the occasion calls for an elaborate celebration, of the character that will make history, and that the council will be doing something worth while in voting a sum of money to help meet the expenses of the celebration.

The deputation from the Kiwanis Club consisted of Noble B. Stacey, the president; H. C. Nickle, W. H. Craig, J. M. Campbell and W. Y. Mills.

It will be recalled that the Kiwanis Club was asked by the executive of the celebration committee to take the matter of a grant up with the city council, and although the Kiwanis Club have nothing more to do with the celebration than any other organization in the city, the members are very anxious that the money required should be provided for, and are willing to assist in the steps to be taken to secure it.

The deputation from the Kiwanis Club urged the finance committee to recommend to the city council, the passing of a grant of $5,000, to the celebration committee, which will be composed of representatives of many civic organizations, including the Kingston Historical Society, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, Board of Trade, Retail Merchants' Association, Trades and Labor Council, Yacht Club, Commercial Travellers' Association and various other organizations.

It is felt that the 25th anniversary of the founding of Kingston should not be allowed to go by without some special mark of commemoration, and the co-operation of the Royal Military College, Queen's University and the military authorities, has been assured. In connection with the celebration, there will be, of course, an old boys' reunion.

It is estimated that the celebration will cost at least $20,000 and it is hoped to raise this amount by grants from the dominion and provincial governments, county council, and the city of Kingston.

As to the question of whether or not the city can afford to expend money on the proposed celebration it is pointed out that Kingston spent less money for unemployment than any city in the province, mainly because of the fact that the Kiwanis Club raised $7,000 for this purpose, and this amount tided the city over the unemployment period.

The chairman of the celebration committee will be General Sir A. C. Macdonell, president of the Kingston Historical Society.

"SOME JANE" AT GRAND

The Rex Stock Company Producing a Very Funny Play.

"Some Jane" as presented at the Grand on Thursday evening by the Rex Stock Company may only be described as four acts of continual laughter, as the plot centred around the funny stunts of Joe Kelly as "Dave," the village lover, and Hazel Williams as "Lizbeth Jane." Of course, there was the usual part devoted to a more serious romance, in which Rex and Miss Vaughn proved their rare talents in extraordinary roles. If such a thing is possible, the Rex players are improving every week they appear here, and they never stage what might be called a "dead" performance or play.

The story has the Blue Ridge mountains as its setting, where the poverty and ignorance, the pathos and humor of the mountain people is always to the front. Even here in the land of moonshine, as it is sometimes called, the residents are very human, and the tale of their simple lives is a wonder in itself. As might be expected in such a community, there are some who are continually striving to get away and see the life of the outside world, but when the real test comes, in the shape of live, in this case, it is found that the little, despised village in the country, is much more to be desired than the gay, and sometimes artificial life of the cities.

Such is the case in "Some Jane," when the pretty village girl, given a chance to see the outside world, and educated therein, through the generosity of big-hearted "Jim" Radburn, the sheriff, known of the stage as Rex Snelgrove, came back to her home to find conditions there most distasteful to her senses. The villain appears about this time, an elopement is planned, the sheriff intervenes, and finally the true love is discovered and everybody is happy. The antics of the village clown, who is promised the hand of his lady-love providing he lands a "job" are laughable.

Joe Kelly and Hazel Williams delighted the audience with a clever vaudeville act, during the intermission. The same performance will be given on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening.

TEA AND SALE HELD.

At Queen Street Church Ladies' Aid Will Realize $300.

The Ladies' Aid of Queen street church held a sale of work on Thursday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Six tables were plentiful set out with fancy and useful articles to delight the eye of the large number of visitors who attended the sale. The president of the society, Mrs. J. Evans, and Mrs. W. S. Lennon welcomed the visitors at the door, to whom also tea was served in the ladies' parlor by Mesdames Robert Crawford, Meek, Lambert and Gage, assisted by members of Miss Allen's class (class 27).

The proceeds of the sale amounted to about $300. The tables were in charge of the following ladies: Fancy Work.—Mrs. Warren (convener), Mesdames Williams, McCauley, Law, Gardiner, Bateman and Shurtleff, and Miss Henry and Doris Crawford.

Candy.—Mrs. Hunter (convener), Mesdames Armstrong, Clow, and Bennett.

Home-made.—Miss Barrie (convener), Mesdames Martin, McClelland and Crothers.

Apron.—Mrs. Glover (convener), Mesdames Wilson and DeCarteret.

Babies.—Mrs. Sparks (convener), Mesdames Lavell, Cockburn and King.

The fish pond was in charge of Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Bruce.

The kitchen was in charge of Mrs. Van Winckle, Mrs. Suddard and Mrs. Godwin.

Mrs. Carnovsky and Mrs. Roadhouse were at the treasurer's table.

Winning Success.

Another of Kingston's boys is making a name for himself in the United States in the person of Harold Leslie, son of Mr. William Leslie, 76 Lower Bagot street. He has been advanced to assistant employment manager of the General Railway Signal Company, Rochester, N.Y. His many friends in the city will be glad to hear of his success.
