What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

"My Wild Irish Rose."
One of the biggest productions of the year will be shown at the Allen theatre to-day. It is entitled "My Wild Irish Rose" and is a screen adaptation of "The Shaughraun," Dion Boucicault's great Irish melodrama of nearly fifty years ago, and which is particularly timely in view of the present political situation in Ireland. The Boucicault play lends itself admirably to screen production, being spectacular and melodramatic to a degree. It was directed by David Smith, who has caught the true Irish spirit. The title role originally played by Pat O'Malley, one of the best known screen actors in this type of role and Moya, the Shaughraun's sweetheart, is in the capable hands of Pauline Starke, a role that fits her to perfection. The remainder of the cast, which includes Little Richard Daniels, who made such a hit in "The Little Minister," has been selected with equal care.

REAFFIRMS THAT POISON GAS HUMANE IN WAR

Admiral W. S. Sims Refers Doubters to the Official Medical Facts.

Port Hope, Nov. 17.—"If any one doubts my statement that poison gas is more humane than other instruments of warfare, let him refer to the official medical facts on poison gas during the war."

"This was the statement of Rear Admiral W. S. Sims, given exclusively to a Whig correspondent here in connection with his recent utterances in Toronto.

"I have not expressed any opinion in Canada on poison gas," he continued. "All that I did was to state what the official facts show in reference to poison gas. The official facts compiled by our government and by other governments of the Allies show that poison gas caused only one twelfth as many casualties as did wounds by other means. These records also show that men can be temporarily disabled in warfare at the cost of not more than one-twelfth of the number of casualties. That is all I said.

"Don't imagine poison gas is humane. All instruments of warfare are inhumane, and war in itself is inhumane, but poison gas is more humane than any of the other means of killing."

LOCAL COUNCIL MEETING.

The monthly meeting of the Local Council of Women was held in the Council Chamber, Thursday, Miss E. L. Mowat, the president in the chair. A letter from Mrs. Parsons, secretary of the National Council, to Miss Agnes Maule Machar, honorary president of the local branch was read. It conveyed the news that Miss Machar had been made an honorary life member of the National executive, with voting privileges. A vote of appreciation of this honor to one who has given so much of her time and wisdom to the council was passed and a letter conveying the thanks of the local council to the National Council will be sent by the secretary. A letter from the local branch of the W.T.C.U. asking for re-affiliation was read and the request granted. Miss Drummond, convenor of the committee on Fine Arts, reported a musical club formed in the city. The successful bridge held at the Principal's Residence netted $70. Miss Mowat spoke of the approaching campaign for the Canadian Institute for the Blind and asked for the support of this work which in Kingston will be undertaken by the I.O.D.E.

INTERMEDIATE FINAL

R.M.C. I. vs. ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE

Richardson Stadium, Saturday, 2.30 p.m.

GRAND STAND, 75c. BLEACHERS, 50c. Including War Tax

SPORTING NEWS

R.M.C. CADETS READY.

To Tackle St. Michael's in Intermediate Final.

The Royal Military College cadets have put in hard work during the past week having played Queen's seniors on Tuesday and Wednesday and their own scrub team on Monday and Thursday. They have strengthened their weaknesses and are fully determined to put up their best game of the season. Saturday, Macdonald, the captain, is still on the sick list, and it is very doubtful whether he will be able to play in the finals.

Soccer Game.

Those old rivals in soccer, Queen's and R.C.A. clashed at the cricket field on Thursday afternoon and the collegians showed a wonderful comeback and tied the score two all in the first period, the artillery men forged to the lead, and had 2 to 0 in the early minutes of the game both goals being scored by Sergt. Graham, playing inside left. Shortly before the end of the first frame J. Graham kicked a nice goal for Queen's, and he again tallied in the final period. Queen's had the edge, but the contest was fairly even otherwise. R.C.A. appeared to be better balanced, but they lacked the required punch in the final period to pull out a victory. Richardson, playing centre half, was the star for R.C.A. Tommy Partis refereed to the mutual satisfaction of both teams.

To Play Basketball.

At a meeting of the executive of the Sunday school Amateur Athletic Association held on Thursday evening, it was decided that the basketball league would open not later than the first week in December. There will be three leagues, junior, senior and girls. Entries are to be in by next Tuesday evening, and the executive will meet on this date, and adopt a schedule which is being drawn up.

200 Queen's Students Going.

There was considerable rivalry among the students at Queen's Friday morning in securing the special offer of tickets for the McGill game. Two hundred students are leaving on a special train at 7 a.m. Saturday, the total cost for a ticket for the game and the railway fare being $6.00. The tickets were divided among the years according to numbers, and there were several students after each of the limited number of tickets. The special rate is

EXPRESS GRATIFICATION OVER ELECTION RESULT

Return of the Bonar Law Government Meets With General Favor.

London, Nov. 17.—Gratification is expressed by most of the morning papers at the result of the elections. This was of course to be expected from the Conservative press, in view of the retention of the Conservative majority, but some of the Liberal newspapers also find certain grounds for satisfaction or at least compensation. They recognize that the outcome means a return to party government.

Churchill's Downfall.

Dundee, Nov. 17.—Winston Churchill's downfall is ascribed to his accepted belligerent tendencies, and he is blamed by those who objected to the famous manifesto to the dominions asking support in the event of Near Eastern complications.
